Senator Warns Soviets Have Deadly Power

Says U. S. Must Keep Ahead In Armament Race

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) said today Russia has the potential power to "rack up a terrible toll on our country" and there is "little consolation in our powers of retaliation."

Mentioning the controversy over the "massive retaliation" program outlined by Secretary of State Dulles, Wiley said he was not going to attempt to spell out its effects.

But the Wisconsin Senator, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a speech prepared for the Military Government Assn., that America cannot afford "smugness and self-satisfaction" because its scientists have perfected the hydrogen bomb.

"Of course," he said, "we feel somewhat more secure, knowing that we are proceeding, all-out as we must, in order to equip ourselves with the most vital means of offense and defense."

"But we know full well that the Soviet Unions is doing likewise. It is concentrating the energies of its slave empire on this highest priority task. Its scientific progress in weapons of destruction is proceeding, apparently at an accelerating pace."

Wiley said that the highest sort of leadership is needed now to avoid war and to attempt to bring world peace.

He praised the leadership of President Eisenhower and Dulles while saying that the problems involved in the "massive retali-

Judge Dismisses Murder Affidavits Against Two Men

ST. FRANCISVILLE, La., March 20 (AP) — A West Feliciana court today dismissed murder affidavits brought against two Jackson men by state Rep. Reeves Morgan whose son is jailed in connection with the fatal roadside beating of Ernest Beasley.

Judge H. H. Kilbourne ruled E. P. Adams and Robert Wilson "should not be tried and convicted of murder on their lack of good judgment" in not sending for medical aid when they found Beasley in a dazed and bloody condition on a lonely gravel road near the East-West Feliciana Parish line.

Morgan's son Charles was one of four arrested for murder Tuesday by Sheriff T. H. Martin after Beasley, a Jackson gravel company employe, died in New Orleans Charity Hospital.

The others are Mrs. Blanch Beasley, the victim's wife, Mrs. Charlene Guillory and Lionel Tate.

Branding the lawmaker's attempt to shift the charges to Wilson and Adams "a trumped up business to confuse the issue," Martin retained Sam D'Amico, prominent Baton Rouge criminal lawyer, to help defend the two against Morgan's affidavits.

"This is an effort to muddy the waters," the sheriff said. "I don't care who it is, representative's son or anybody else, I'm going to do my best to see that the right persons are punished anytime a crime occurs in my jurisdiction."

Today's hearing concerned only Morgan's affidavits against Wilson and Adams.

Attorney W. W. Overton of Clinton, who represents the four charged by Martin, said he may apply for a preliminary hearing in behalf of his clients.

Apparently, attempts to convene a special session of the grand jury Monday to consider the charges have been abandoned. The next regular session is for June.

A parade of witnesses at the hearing gave varying accounts of the events leading up to Beasley's death and conflicting versions of what Adams and Wilson had to

U. S. Pilots Fly Through Flak To Supply French

HANOI, Indo-China, March 20—UP—American civilian pilots flew through Communist anti-aircraft barrages Saturday to drop supplies to the embattled defenders of Dien Bien Phu as the French hit the Reds with the biggest single aerial strike of the Indo-China war.

Gen. Henri E. Navarre, French supreme commander, said that the lives of the 10,000-man French union garrison of the northwestern Indo - China stronghold depended upon the U. S. and French fliers.

U.S. Civilians have been threading lumbering C-119 "Flying Boxcars" through deadly curtains of enemy flak since Thursday. The planes were provided by the United States and serviced by U. S. Air Force technicians recently arrived in Indo-China. The crews are French.

The Americans are flying for the Civil Air Transport Airline operated by Retired Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault who led the American "Flying Tigers" against the Japanese before World War II.

The French high command mustered one-sixth of its entire air strength in Indo-China for Saturday's aerial assault on the Communist legions closing in on the French bastion. It said the 60 planes it threw into the air at once over Dien Bien Phu was the biggest force assembled for a single mission in the eight-year-long war.

Some were unarmed French transports whose crewmen rolled fire and explosive bombs out of hatches onto rebel positions. Others were old carrier planes, outmoded land-based fighters and B-26 attack-bombers supplied by the U. S.

The number one targets were the Communist siege guns which have been pounding the defending forces relentlessly for the past several days. The big guns dug into the hills around the four-by-six mile wide Dien Bien Phu basin Friday stepped up fire to the rate of one mortar or heavy cannon shell every six seconds.

Military sources said the Red guns now are able to reach every important installation in the fortress, including the command post of Col. Christian De Castries, nerve center of the French defense.

The French war pilots dipped low through a hail of Red flak to pinpoint the Communist artillery and troop concentrations. Plumes of smoke and fire marked hits.

Returning pilots reported the Reds constantly shifted gun emplacements to throw off the attacking aircraft. The French admittedly were taken by surprise by the heavy concentrations of Chinese - supplied and equipped artillery and anti-aircraft guns Red Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap unveiled in opening the Red assault last Saturday.

Over Dien Bien Phu itself, the sky bloomed with multi-colored parachutes spilling out from the transport planes, crates of food, ammunition and medical supplies floated down to the fortress, which has been cut off except by air for almost three months.

Sen. Flanders Praises Speech By McCarthy

Adlai Stevenson Refuses A Reply To 'Indictment'

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., March 20 (AP) —Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) today termed Sen. McCarthy's Friday speech in Milwaukee as "magnificent for the Republican party."

A week ago Tuesday, the Vermont senator vigorously attacked McCarthy for "doing his best to shatter the Republican party by intention or through ignorance," in a speech on the Senate floor.

"McCarthy's speech gives signs that he is finally hitting the sawdust trail," Flanders told the 12th annual Middlebury College Conference at a panel session.

"I hope that he is because he could be of tremendous value to the Republican party," Flanders said.

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said today he will not reply to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's "20-count indictment" of the Democratic party, declaring "I will not stoop to the senator's level."

Stevenson said he had read the charges of Sen. McCarthy, who last night in Milwaukee accused the Democrats of "20 years of treason" and called Stevenson the "attorney for the defense." McCarthy asked Stevenson to plead guilty or not guilty.

Stevenson flew here from Boston with his son, John Fell Stevenson, 17; William Blair, an aide, and Mrs. Carol Evans, his secretary. He currently is on a speaking tour.

He said he would attend tonight's performance of the play, "The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial."

While saying he planned no reply to any of McCarthy's statements, the unsuccessful 1952 Democratic presidential candidate did say, however, it was "the first I heard of it" when asked for comment on McCarthy's statement that Stevenson had been given the task of formulating America's postwar policy for Italy.

May Rival H-Bomb In Destruction

U. S. Manufactures New Deadly Invisible Gas

DENVER, March 20 (AP)—A new weapon in the horror class with atom and hydrogen bombs is being made and stored at the Rocky Mountain Arsenal near Denver.

Lt. Col. S. J. Efnor, deputy commanding officer at the arsenal, confirmed today that deadly GB gas, which can cause death in 30 seconds, is made behind the arsenal's windowless walls.

It is known that Russia has the gas, first developed by Hitler's Nazi scientists. The Red army took the German plant in its push across the German-Polish border in World War II.

Surrounded by elaborate safety precautions, the workers at the arsenal turn out the deadly chemicals in liquid form, packed in finished munitions casing ready for use.

Officials at the plant have stressed the safety precautions and say there is no need for Colorado residents to fear the gas.

In gas form, the killer can't be seen, tasted or smelled. Its presence in an attack could go undiscovered unless a droplet spattered on a victim in liquid form.

Production of the killing gas first was disclosed last night by the Rocky Mountain News, Denver morning newspaper; and further details came today from the Denver Post.

"Potential military value of GB gas," the Post said, "is greater, in some respects, than even the atomic weapons.

Using it under the most favorable wind, weather and saturation conditions, an invader can wipe out life in a city and take it over intact—its industries, utilities, transportation and power plants ready to be used again in a few hours, instead of being ruined and radioactive."

The gas was described as so deadly it could leave its victim practically helpless after one breath.

Rabbits and canaries along with intricate electrical equipment are used in the plant as safety precautions. The caged rabbits and birds are placed in spots where they would react quickly in case of an unexpected leakage of gas.

Chemists say there is an antidote—atrophine, a chemical derived from a plant grown in countries behind the Iron Curtain. American chemists have learned to produce the substance synthetically for use through hypodermic injections.

The Post said that despite safety precautions, a few workers at the plant have been affected by the gas but quick treatment averted tragedy in each case.

Probe Launched Into C-119 Crash That Killed 18

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 20 (AP) —Air Force investigators searched through wreckage and human remains scattered over Maryland farmland today for the cause of a plane crash that killed 18 men last night.

There was no immediate word from the investigating party and their headquarters at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington said no findings would be made known for at least several days.

However, Defense Department officials identified the 11 Air Force and five Navy men among the dead. Names of a Marine and a soldier who were the remaining victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Horrified farm families, startled by a noise one witness said was like a monster truck in low gear, saw the big twin engine C119 careen in flames over their heads last night. It grazed the edge of a wooded area 19 miles south of Annapolis, crashed and exploded, scattering wreckage, bodies and parts of bodies over portions of two farms.

A watch found at the scene had stopped at 10:29.

A brush and timber fire started, but heavy rain and the efforts of firemen from six nearby communities controlled it.

Sailors and Marines from the Naval Academy here established a guard over the scene as the fact-finding party went to work.

Officials said the plane belonged to the 774th Troop Carrier Squadron based at Ardmore, Okla., and was on a routine flight from Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., to Mitchell Field, N. Y. It stopped to refuel at Bolling Field near Washington and took off from there, with no sign of trouble, just 17 minutes before the crash.

The plane was shattered by a tremendous explosion. The heavy motors came to earth 100 yards apart. Part of a tail section hung high in a tree. Mrs. Franklin Paddy of Lothian, a small community nearby, said it sounded to her as though the plane exploded while still in the air.

S.-Sgt. Charles E. McClure, also of Keesler AFB, driver of the car, was not injured.

U. S. Triples Danger Area Of Atomic Blasts

450-Mile Radius Set For Future Pacific Tests

TOKYO, Sunday, March 21 (AP) The United States, surprised by the devastating power of the hydrogen blast March 1, has more than tripled the danger zone for tests in mid-Pacific, Japan's Diet was informed yesterday.

Japanese ships were told to stay out of an area with a radius of 450 miles during future tests in the Marshall Islands area. The previous barred-off zone was roughly 150 miles north-south by 200 east-west.

Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki told the Diet that the greatly enlarged limit was set in a note handed to the Japanese ambassador in Washington.

The United States acted after 23 Japanese fishermen went to hospitals with radioactive burns suffered by a shower of ashes. The fishermen insisted that their boat, the Lucky Dragon, was outside the specified 150-by-200 zone and 80 miles from the blast's center.

U. S. officials also were prompted to enlarge the danger zone after determining that 28 American observers and more than 300 Marshallese 100 miles away were affected.

Japanese fishing boats even further away from the blast than the Lucky Dragon returned home with catches of tuna which were found to be radioactive although not dangerously so.

Some of the Lucky Dragon catch had to be pulled off the market and buried as likely to cause tumors if eaten.

Dr. John Morton, director of the U. S. atomic bomb casualty commission at Hiroshima, yesterday examined 21 of the Lucky Dragon crewmen at Yaizu port. He recommended their transfer to the Tokyo hospital where the other two are under treatment.

"A few of them here (at Yaizu) are more serious cases than the patients in Tokyo," he said.

"I can't say yet how long it will take for them to be cured but I think all the patients should be taken to Tokyo for treatment."

Two new drugs are to be used. One is Tokyo University's triloysin, which seeks to build up white corpuscles destroyed by radiation. In some cases yesterday, the white corpuscle count of victims was down to 4,200 from 6,000 earlier in the week. White corpuscles are vital in resisting disease.

The other drug is American-developed EDTA (ethylen-diamintetraacetic acid.)

Jes' Ramblin'

An early ride to town over a Louisville avenue bus is fraught with real interest. "Smitty" Smith, the genial bus operator, is quite likely to be a few minutes ahead of schedule and this permits, when he feels philanthropically disposed to "set up" the bus load to coffee at one of the motor courts en route.

Also, the schedule allowing, he will wait for someone a block or two distant to seek a new world's record as he or she sprints to catch the bus.

Barely a person along the route fails to receive a joyful wave of the hand, for "Smitty" knows everybody up and down the street.

But there is a source of refuge unequaled hereabouts. One of the passengers, all too often, finds as he makes a hasty morning toilet that he lacks a freshly laundered shirt. He meets the people where he works and he needs to look nice. But this man, by long trial and error, has the answer. There's a certain laundry on "Smitty's"

Says Wisconsin Man In Triple Role

Symington Urges Probe Of McCarthy-Army Feud By 'Impartial' Group

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP) — Sen. Symington (D-Mo) suggested tonight that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) step off his investigation subcommittee temporarily, or let some other group determine the "questions of veracity" between McCarthy and the Army.

"The good name of the Senate is involved," Symington said.

Symington, one of three Democrats on McCarthy's subcommittee, said that if the Wisconsin senator and his three Republican colleagues insist that McCarthy appear in the "triple role of accusing witness, prosecutor and judge," then he will ask the Armed Services Committee to take over.

Symington's proposal appeared to take Sen. Mundt (R-SD) by surprise.

"I have not talked to Joe about this," Mundt said, meaning McCarthy.

Mundt is acting chairman of the subcommittee in McCarthy's absence on a speaking trip. McCarthy has agreed that Mundt take over the chairmanship while the group is conducting its proposed investigation of conflicting charges exchanged between McCarthy and his staff on the one hand and Secretary of the Army Stevens and his aides on the other.

Previous suggestions that the investigation be transferred to some other Senate committee, however, have met firm resistance by McCarthy, who insists that his subcommittee will take care of its own affairs.

Mundt spent part of the day in a mysterious quest for a special counsel to direct the subcommittee's projected probe of its own chairman and his differences with officials of the Army Department.

Mundt and Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, senior Democrat on the subcommittee, settled on a "nationally prominent attorney," not otherwise identified, who apparently was taken aghast at the idea but who promised to think it over.

Mundt said he and McClellan telephoned this lawyer and his initial reaction was as follows:

"This is a terrible thing to happen to me. Don't bother me with this."

But after half an hour of impressing upon him "the need for a highly respected and qualified counsel," and the "duties of public service," Mundt said the lawyer agreed to consult with his partners and let them know before next Tuesday, when the subcommittee is due to meet.

"We said we would give him the

Residence Groups Commended In Red Cross Drive

The residential divisions of Monroe and West Monroe were cited as the leading groups in the current Red Cross fund campaign at the weekly report meeting of the Ouachita Parish chapter. The meeting, at which Campaign Chairman James A. Noe presided, was held Friday evening.

While the total of $24,076.23 reflected "good work," Noe stated it will be necessary for all workers to concentrate on finishing up their contacts this week. The chairman said all employes should take special pride in their Red Cross membership since it makes them a "part of the many services such as providing gamma globulin, helping disaster victims and providing free instructions in first aid and home nursing. This is, of course, in addition to helping servicemen and their families," the drive chairman added.

Noe commended Mrs. James Trousdale, chairman of the Monroe residential division, and Mrs. Tony Zurga, West Monroe residential chairman, for the work of their divisions. The Monroe groups lack $553.25, while West Monroe needs $139.07.

Senate Inquiry In New Orleans Spirited Affair

Criminal Action Is Threatened By Senator Eastland

NEW ORLEANS, March 20 —UP—Clifford Durr, frail former federal official grabbed ex-Communist Paul Crouch and shouted, "I'll kill you," Saturday after Crouch testified Durr's wife was a pawn in a Red plot reaching into the White House during the New Deal.

A tense three-day hearing by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee on alleged Communist activity in the South ended on this violent note after seven persons were accused of past Communist ties. Several were threatened with contempt action by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.), the only committee member present, and two were removed from the courtroom.

Durr, a former federal communications commissioner, is the husband of attractive Mrs. Virginia Durr, a sister-in-law of U. S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black.

Durr grappled with Crouch as he left the stand after testifying Mrs. Durr "had full knowledge" of a conspiracy by a Communist espionage ring that allegedly piped out secret information from the White House from 1934 to 1942.

"You dirty dog! I'll kill you for lying about my wife," Durr yelled as he grabbed Crouch's arm.

Attorneys and U. S. marshals dragged Durr from Crouch. White-faced and trembling, he was then led from the courtroom by friends. He had attended the hearings Saturday under the eye of a physician. He was ordered to bed after the outburst.

Crouch Friday charged that Durr had been a Communist while Durr was acting as an attorney for Aubrey Williams, president of the Southern Conference Education Fund, which was under investigation in the hearing.

Earlier Saturday, Miles Horton, a teacher at the Highland Folk School at Monteagle, Tenn., was ejected from the courtroom after he clashed with Eastland.

47 Cases Will Be Presented To Grand Jury

A total of 47 cases will be presented to the Ouachita Parish grand jury when it meets in regular spring session April 5. District Attorney Fred Fudickar, Jr., said Saturday. This is one of the largest number of cases to be presented to a grand jury in a single session.

Although the list is unique in its number to be presented, very few of the cases will be of serious consequence, it was pointed out. A number of the cases are either theft by check or forgery and involve persons being held by out-of-state authorities or in confinements already.

However, there will be several cases involving persons charged with contributing to the delinquency of juveniles.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 20 (AP) —Air Force investigators searched through wreckage and human remains scattered over Maryland farmland today for the cause of a plane crash that killed 18 men last night.

There was no immediate word from the investigating party and their headquarters at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington said no findings would be made known for at least several days.

However, Defense Department officials identified the 11 Air Force and five Navy men among the dead. Names of a Marine and a soldier who were the remaining victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Horrified farm families, startled by a noise one witness said was like a monster truck in low gear, saw the big twin engine C119 careen in flames over their heads last night. It grazed the edge of a wooded area 19 miles south of Annapolis, crashed and exploded, scattering wreckage, bodies and parts of bodies over portions of two farms.

A watch found at the scene had stopped at 10:29.

A brush and timber fire started, but heavy rain and the efforts of firemen from six nearby communities controlled it.

Sailors and Marines from the Naval Academy here established a guard over the scene as the fact-finding party went to work.

Officials said the plane belonged to the 774th Troop Carrier Squadron based at Ardmore, Okla., and was on a routine flight from Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., to Mitchell Field, N. Y. It stopped to refuel at Bolling Field near Washington and took off from there, with no sign of trouble, just 17 minutes before the crash.

The plane was shattered by a tremendous explosion. The heavy motors came to earth 100 yards apart. Part of a tail section hung high in a tree. Mrs. Franklin Paddy of Lothian, a small community nearby, said it sounded to her as though the plane exploded while still in the air.

U. S. Triples Danger Area Of Atomic Blasts

450-Mile Radius Set For Future Pacific Tests

TOKYO, Sunday, March 21 (AP) The United States, surprised by the devastating power of the hydrogen blast March 1, has more than tripled the danger zone for tests in mid-Pacific, Japan's Diet was informed yesterday.

Japanese ships were told to stay out of an area with a radius of 450 miles during future tests in the Marshall Islands area. The previous barred-off zone was roughly 150 miles north-south by 200 east-west.

Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki told the Diet that the greatly enlarged limit was set in a note handed to the Japanese ambassador in Washington.

The United States acted after 23 Japanese fishermen went to hospitals with radioactive burns suffered by a shower of ashes. The fishermen insisted that their boat, the Lucky Dragon, was outside the specified 150-by-200 zone and 80 miles from the blast's center.

U. S. officials also were prompted to enlarge the danger zone after determining that 28 American observers and more than 300 Marshallese 100 miles away were affected.

Japanese fishing boats even further away from the blast than the Lucky Dragon returned home with catches of tuna which were found to be radioactive although not dangerously so.

Some of the Lucky Dragon catch had to be pulled off the market and buried as likely to cause tumors if eaten.

Dr. John Morton, director of the U. S. atomic bomb casualty commission at Hiroshima, yesterday examined 21 of the Lucky Dragon crewmen at Yaizu port. He recommended their transfer to the Tokyo hospital where the other two are under treatment.

"A few of them here (at Yaizu) are more serious cases than the patients in Tokyo," he said.

"I can't say yet how long it will take for them to be cured but I think all the patients should be taken to Tokyo for treatment."

Two new drugs are to be used. One is Tokyo University's iriloysin, which seeks to build up white corpuscles destroyed by radiation. In some cases yesterday, the white corpuscle count of victims was down to 4,200 from 6,000 earlier in the week. White corpuscles are vital in resisting disease.

The other drug is American-developed EDTA (ethylen-diamintetraacetic acid.)

Although Japanese health officials have assured housewives that the danger from radioactive tuna is over, tuna sales at the fish markets were slow.

An early ride to town over a Louisville avenue bus is fraught with real interest. "Smitty" Smith, the genial bus operator, is quite likely to be a few minutes ahead of schedule and this permits, when he feels philanthropically disposed to "set up" the bus load to coffee at one of the motor courts en route.

Also, the schedule allowing, he will wait for someone a block or two distant to seek a new world's record as he or she sprints to catch the bus.

Barely a person along the route fails to receive a joyful wave of the hand, for "Smitty" knows everybody up and down the street.

But there is a source of refuge unequaled hereabouts. One of the passengers, all too often, finds as he makes a hasty morning toilet that he lacks a freshly laundered shirt. He meets the people where he works and he needs to look nice. But this man, by long trial and error, has the answer. There's a certain laundry on "Smitty's"

Says Wisconsin Man In Triple Role

Symington Urges Probe Of McCarthy-Army Feud By 'Impartial' Group

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP) — Sen. Symington (D-Mo) suggested tonight that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) step off his investigation subcommittee temporarily, or let some other group determine the "questions of veracity" between McCarthy and the Army.

"The good name of the Senate is involved," Symington said.

Symington, one of three Democrats on McCarthy's subcommittee, said that if the Wisconsin senator and his three Republican colleagues insist that McCarthy appear in the "triple role of accusing witness, prosecutor and judge," then he will ask the Armed Services Committee to take over.

Symington's proposal appeared to take Sen. Mundt (R-SD) by surprise.

"I have not talked to Joe about this," Mundt said, meaning McCarthy.

Mundt is acting chairman of the subcommittee in McCarthy's absence on a speaking trip. McCarthy has agreed that Mundt take over the chairmanship while the group is conducting its proposed investigation of conflicting charges exchanged between McCarthy and his staff on the one hand and Secretary of the Army Stevens and his aides on the other.

Previous suggestions that the investigation be transferred to some other Senate committee, however, have met firm resistance by McCarthy, who insists that his subcommittee will take care of its own affairs.

Mundt spent part of the day in a mysterious quest for a special counsel to direct the subcommittee's projected probe of its own chairman and his differences with officials of the Army Department.

Mundt and Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, senior Democrat on the subcommittee, settled on a "nationally prominent attorney," not otherwise identified, who apparently was taken aghast at the idea but who promised to think it over.

Mundt said he and McClellan telephoned this lawyer and his initial reaction was as follows:

"This is a terrible thing to happen to me. Don't bother me with this."

But after half an hour of impressing upon him "the need for a highly respected and qualified counsel," and the "duties of public service," Mundt said the lawyer agreed to consult with his partners and let them know before next Tuesday, when the subcommittee is due to meet.

"We said we would give him the

Residence Groups Commended In Red Cross Drive

The residential divisions of Monroe and West Monroe were cited as the leading groups in the current Red Cross fund campaign at the weekly report meeting of the Ouachita Parish chapter. The meeting, at which Campaign Chairman James A. Noe presided, was held Friday evening.

While the total of $24,076.23 reflected "good work," Noe stated it will be necessary for all workers to concentrate on finishing up their contacts this week. The chairman said all employes should take special pride in their Red Cross membership since it makes them a "part of the many services such as providing gamma globulin, helping disaster victims and providing free instructions in first aid and home nursing. This is, of course, in addition to helping servicemen and their families," the drive chairman added.

Noe commended Mrs. James Trousdale, chairman of the Monroe residential division, and Mrs. Tony Zurga, West Monroe residential chairman, for the work of their divisions. The Monroe groups lack $553.25, while West Monroe needs $139.07.

Senate Inquiry In New Orleans Spirited Affair

Criminal Action Is Threatened By Senator Eastland

NEW ORLEANS, March 20 —UP—Clifford Durr, frail former federal official grabbed ex-Communist Paul Crouch and shouted, "I'll kill you," Saturday after Crouch testified Durr's wife was a pawn in a Red plot reaching into the White House during the New Deal.

A tense three-day hearing by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee on alleged Communist activity in the South ended on this violent note after seven persons were accused of past Communist ties. Several were threatened with contempt action by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.), the only committee member present, and two were removed from the courtroom.

Durr, a former federal communications commissioner, is the husband of attractive Mrs. Virginia Durr, a sister-in-law of U. S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black.

Durr grappled with Crouch as he left the stand after testifying Mrs. Durr "had full knowledge" of a conspiracy by a Communist espionage ring that allegedly piped out secret information from the White House from 1934 to 1942.

"You dirty dog! I'll kill you for lying about my wife," Durr yelled as he grabbed Crouch's arm.

Attorneys and U. S. marshals dragged Durr from Crouch. White-faced and trembling, he was then led from the courtroom by friends. He had attended the hearings Saturday under the eye of a physician. He was ordered to bed after the outburst.

Crouch Friday charged that Durr had been a Communist while Durr was acting as an attorney for Aubrey Williams, president of the Southern Conference Education Fund, which was under investigation in the hearing.

Earlier Saturday, Miles Horton, a teacher at the Highland Folk School at Monteagle, Tenn., was ejected from the courtroom after he clashed with Eastland.

"They're treating me like a crim-

47 Cases Will Be Presented To Grand Jury

A total of 47 cases will be presented to the Ouachita Parish grand jury when it meets in regular spring session April 5, District Attorney Fred Fudickar, Jr., said Saturday. This is one of the largest number of cases to be presented to a grand jury in a single session.

Although the list is unique in its number to be presented, very few of the cases will be of serious consequence, it was pointed out. A number of the cases are either theft by check or forgery and involve persons being held by out-of-state authorities or in confinements already.

However, there will be several cases involving persons charged with contributing to the delinquency of juveniles.

Dr. Harry M. Lemert, head of the Music and Fine Arts Department, is general manager of the productions.

Two one-act operas are by Ernest Toch and Paul Hindemith. "There and Back" by Hindemith will feature Tommy Rainer as Robert, Jane Blanchard as Helen, James Raymick as the orderly, Jerry Futrell as the doctor and Jennings Wilkins as the sage.

The Toch work, "The Princess on the Pea," has been cast with the following students in leading parts: Sara Barton as the princess; Betty Spurlock as the queen; Billy Crane, the king; Jimmy Tucker, the chancellor; Janet Cash, the nurse, Tommy Rainer, minister, and Jennings Wilkins, the prince.

Other students in supporting parts will be announced at an early date.

The two operas will be under the musical direction of Joe Barrt Mullins, assistant professor of music and band director.

Miss Gertude Sandrock, also of the music department, is in charge of vocal coaching, and Eloy Fominaya, assistant professor of string instruments at the college, will direct the orchestra in performing the instrumental scores.

George Brian, of the speech faculty, will handle the staging of both productions.

The works designated for performances this season were selected on the basis of their musical value and their appropriate degree of difficulty for students' abilities.

City Man, 75, In Serious Condition; Allegedly Beaten

A 75-year-old Monroe man, J. B. Bullock, was in serious condition at the E. A. Conway Memorial hospital here Saturday after he was allegedly beaten at his home on the riverbank on the north side of Monroe.

According to unofficial reports, Bullock was allegedly beaten in a fight with another man Friday afternoon and police were searching for the other man.

Officers, however, did not release any details of the alleged fight.

A physician at the hospital said Bullock was suffering from cerebral hemorrhage and could be considered in "pretty bad shape."

Camp Polk To Get Priority In Reactivation

WASHINGTON, March 20—UP—Camp Polk will be given top priority if the Army reactivates any bases in the United States, a high department of Army official has assured Sens. Allen Ellender and Russell Long of Louisiana.

He advised the two, however, that there is no present prospect for keeping the camp open beyond June 30.

Long and Ellender conferred earlier this week with Deputy Undersecretary Frank H. Higgins in an attempt to keep the camp opened following an army announcement that the Fourth Armored Division will soon be reactivated.

Higgins said the disposition of the Fourth Division was planned months ago and was part of the Army's "New Look" program long before the decision to close Camp Polk was made.

WELCOME TO OUR CITY—Miss Carrie Dee Drew, extreme right, who was general chairman of Saturday's state convention program of Delta Kappa Gamma, presents the keys to the city to Mrs. Edna McGuire Boyd, Indiana state president and principal speaker at the meeting of the national honor society for women teachers. Looking on are Miss Mary Thornton, executive secretary of the state organization, and Miss Beatrice Davis, state president. (Staff photo by John Fogleman)

Spiritual Leadership Must Be Provided By U. S., Group Is Told

The United States must give spiritual as well as material leadership, Mrs. Edna McGuire Boyd of Indiana told the state convention of Delta Kappa Gamma here Saturday. Over 125 members of the national honor society of women teachers heard the speaker declare, "In this time of suspicion we should make a new beginning."

Mrs. Boyd, who is president of her state organization, was the principal writer of the new constitution for the national society.

Since the United States is called upon for leadership, the country must recognize two major problems: Upheaval of people in colonies and conflict between communism and a free world.

If the nation develops leadership, it must recognize both individual acceptance of God and brotherhood of man and loyalty to an ideal. "America is the story of devotion to an ideal," Mrs. Boyd said.

Leadership also requires maturity, the speaker declared. Americans are youthful in spirit, unwillingness to wait for evolution of social values. They are prone to consider that nations love America for what the country has given them in material ways.

America has established good will in foreign lands. But leaders have lacked ability to understand the real needs in many countries, the speaker explained. This has resulted, she said, in failure to provide genuine technological aid. India needs improved plows instead of tractors, Mrs. Boyd told the group.

It is our obligation to understand people who recently have become nations, the Delta Kappa Gamma leader asserted. "People of India are behaving as our country did when it was granted freedom." If we are mature, we will recognize the psychology of the times.

America should be a demonstration of a free society; the way to make democracy a success. Then we need have no fear of communism, Mrs. Boyd declared.

She urged members of the organization to realize the value of influencing public opinion. In this time of suspicion, she explained, "we can make democracy more vital by using true and respected words; by working passionately to make ideals live; practicing democratic principles by planning together; being guided by principles rather than personalities."

Also featured at Saturday's convention was the awarding of a scholarship by the state organization to Mrs. Allie Windham Webb of Thibodeaux. The winner is assistant professor of social sciences at Francis T. Nichols Junior College, The scholarship will be used by her to do advanced graduate study at Louisiana State University, where she will complete her dissertation on "The History of Negro Voting in Louisiana."

A trip to town these mornings with "Smitty" is a real experience!

Nurse Recruitment Week is March 21-27. During the past week representatives of various agencies and groups in our local community met with Miss Dorothy Tayrien at Conway Memorial Hospital to make plans for activities, publicity, and creating an interest in nurse recruitment. On Wednesday afternoon, March 24 from 4-6 p. m. there will be a "social hour" at Conway Hospital for young women interested in the profession of nursing and nurse - training.

New plans in the state include obtaining lay support for recruiting nurses. Many members from state agencies and organizations allied to nursing have been asked to serve in order to increase group support and interest in combating the "nurse shortage."

"The public will accept him, if he agrees, as a man of outstanding ability and complete impartiality."

"I don't know whether he is a Republican or a Democrat" Mundt said further.

Mundt said he and McClellan had narrowed a list of possibilities down to three, "including this man."

"We told him we hoped to wind this up in two or three weeks but it would take all of his time."

inal!" Horton shouted as marshals tugged him out.

Mrs. Mildred White testified Friday that she attended the school as a Red "to recruit party members."

The Durr-Crouch incident broke out after Crouch, once convicted of treason and sentenced to 40 years, said five top Communists, Joseph Gelders, the Rev. Malcolm Dobbs, Howard Lee, Joseph Lash and Gilbert Parks, had "easy access" to the White House.

"They got all kinds of information from government officials from 1934 to 1942," Crouch said.

"President and Mrs. Roosevelt never had the least suspicion they were Red agents. However, Mrs. Durr had full knowledge of the conspiracy."

Crouch was joined in his accusations by John Butler of Dallas, also a former Communist. Crouch and Butler said Mrs. Durr was influenced by known Communists, but said they couldn't say whether she was one herself.

Crouch said these five gained access to top government information from various officials, including the President, but said if the President and his wife had suspected the five were Communist, they would have been immediately denied access to the White House.

In yesterday's heated session, Mrs. Durr and former National Youth Administrator Aubrey Williams, now president of the Southern Conference Education fund which is being investigated by the committee were accused by Crouch and also ex-Communist John Butler of dealings with the Communist party. Williams was accused of being a Communist.

A similar forecast has been made for Arkansas.

Dulles told the Foreign Relations Committee yesterday that selectivity—in terms of time, place and weapons—is the key to the program built around a strengthened air force and the use of new weapons.

The secretary of state said the United States retains the choice of how it will fight back against small or large Communist aggression and where it will do it.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader, said in an interview that he believes Dulles "clarified misinterpretations" that have arisen in connection with the policy outlined.

"As has been suggested in some quarters, this program does not necessarily mean atomic retaliation by us," Knowland said. "We have a wide choice of weapons and we can meet local situations as they arise."

Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate suggested that, by implying that any aggression might be met by dropping bombs on Moscow and Peiping, the program seemed to increase the risk of World War III. He said if action were so limited, communists might get away with small local aggressions in which the United States refused to risk world war.

Knowland backed up Dulles in declaring that there was no such limitation on American action.

Camp Polk To Get Priority In Reactivation

WASHINGTON, March 20—UP—Camp Polk will be given top priority if the Army reactivates any bases in the United States, a high department of Army official has assured Sens. Allen Ellender and Russell Long of Louisiana.

He advised the two, however, that there is no present prospect for keeping the camp open beyond June 30.

Long and Ellender conferred earlier this week with Deputy Undersecretary Frank H. Higgins in an attempt to keep the camp opened following an army announcement that the Fourth Armored Division will soon be reactivated.

Higgins said the disposition of the Fourth Division was planned months ago and was part of the Army's "New Look" program long before the decision to close Camp Polk was made.

WELCOME TO OUR CITY—Miss Carrie Dee Drew, extreme right, who was general chairman of Saturday's state convention program of Delta Kappa Gamma, presents the keys to the city to Mrs. Edna McGuire Boyd, Indiana state president and principal speaker at the meeting of the national honor society for women teachers. Looking on are Miss Mary Thornton, executive secretary of the state organization, and Miss Beatrice Davis, state president. (Staff photo by John Fogleman)

Spiritual Leadership Must Be Provided By U. S., Group Is Told

The United States must give spiritual as well as material leadership, Mrs. Edna McGuire Boyd of Indiana told the state convention of Delta Kappa Gamma here Saturday. Over 125 members of the national honor society of women teachers heard the speaker declare, "In this time of suspicion we should make a new beginning."

Mrs. Boyd, who is president of her state organization, was the principal writer of the new constitution for the national society.

Since the United States is called upon for leadership, the country must recognize two major problems: Upheaval of people in colonies and conflict between communism and a free world.

If the nation develops leadership, it must recognize both individual acceptance of God and brotherhood of man and loyalty to an ideal. "America is the story of devotion to an ideal," Mrs. Boyd said.

Leadership also requires maturity, the speaker declared. Americans are youthful in spirit, unwillingness to wait for evolution of social values. They are prone to consider that nations love America for what the country has given them in material ways.

America has established good will in foreign lands. But leaders have lacked ability to understand the real needs in many countries, the speaker explained. This has resulted, she said, in failure to provide genuine technological aid. India needs improved plows instead of tractors, Mrs. Boyd told the group.

It is our obligation to understand people who recently have become nations, the Delta Kappa Gamma leader asserted. "People of India are behaving as our country did when it was granted freedom." If we are mature, we will recognize the psychology of the times.

America should be a demonstration of a free society; the way to make democracy a success. Then we need have no fear of communism, Mrs. Boyd declared.

She urged members of the organization to realize the value of influencing public opinion. In this time of suspicion she explained, "we can make democracy more vital by using true and respected words; by working passionately to make ideals live; practicing democratic principles by planning together; being guided by principles rather than personalities."

Also featured at Saturday's convention was the awarding of a scholarship by the state organization to Mrs. Allie Windham Webb of Thibodeaux. The winner is assistant professor of social sciences at Francis T. Nichols Junior College, The scholarship will be used by her to do advanced graduate study at Louisiana State University, where she will complete her dissertation on "The History of Negro Voting in Louisiana."

The marvelous, unruffled disposition of "Smitty" makes it a pleasure to ride with him, but only one occurrence serves to ruffle his disposition. That is when a long timber train for Brownsville blocks the North Second street crossing and "Smitty's" bus just has to wait. He tries to beat the train each morning and sometimes succeeds.

A trip to town these mornings with "Smitty" is a real experience!

Nurse Recruitment Week is March 21-27. During the past week representatives of various agencies and groups in our local community met with Miss Dorothy Tayrien at Conway Memorial Hospital to make plans for activities, publicity, and creating an interest in nurse recruitment. On Wednesday afternoon, March 24 from 4-6 p. m. there will be a "social hour" at Conway Hospital for young women interested in the profession of nursing and nurse - training.

New plans in the state include obtaining lay support for recruiting nurses. Many members from state agencies and organizations allied to nursing have been asked to serve in order to increase group support and interest in combating the "nurse shortage."

Mrs. Mildred White testified Friday that she attended the school as a Red "to recruit party members."

The Durr-Crouch incident broke out after Crouch, once convicted of treason and sentenced to 40 years, said five top Communists, Joseph Gelders, the Rev. Malcolm Dobbs, Howard Lee, Joseph Lash and Gilbert Parks, had "easy access" to the White House.

"They got all kinds of information from government officials from 1934 to 1942," Crouch said.

"President and Mrs. Roosevelt never had the least suspicion they were Red agents. However, Mrs. Durr had full knowledge of the conspiracy."

Crouch was joined in his accusations by John Butler of Dallas, also a former Communist. Crouch and Butler said Mrs. Durr was influenced by known Communists, but said they couldn't say whether she was one herself.

Crouch said these five gained access to top government information from various officials, including the President, but said if the President and his wife had suspected the five were Communist, they would have been immediately denied access to the White House.

In yesterday's heated session, Mrs. Durr and former National Youth Administrator Aubrey Williams, now president of the Southern Conference Education fund which is being investigated by the committee were accused by Crouch and also ex-Communist John Butler of dealings with the Communist party. Williams was accused of being a Communist.

Although many of the flowers, trees and shrubs in the Twin Cities have been in bloom for several weeks, and mild temperatures have prevailed in the area during most of that period, Spring did not officially arrive until 9:54 p.m. yesterday.

A similar forecast has been made for Arkansas.

Dulles told the Foreign Relations Committee yesterday that selectivity—in terms of time, place and weapons—is the key to the program built around a strengthened air force and the use of new weapons.

The secretary of state said the United States retains the choice of how it will fight back against small or large Communist aggression and where it will do it.

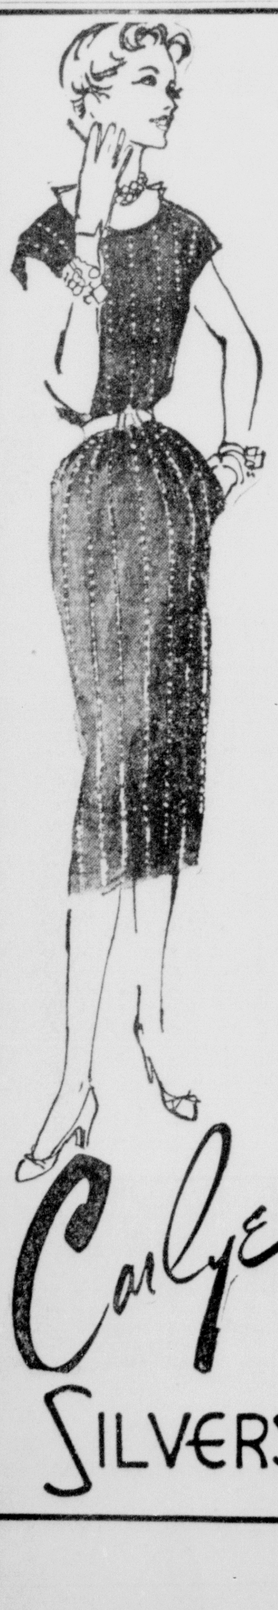

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader, said in an interview that he believes Dulles "clarified misinterpretations" that have arisen in connection with the policy outlined.

"As has been suggested in some quarters, this program does not necessarily mean atomic retaliation by us," Knowland said. "We have a wide choice of weapons and we can meet local situations as they arise."

Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate suggested that, by implying that any aggression might be met by dropping bombs on Moscow and Peiping, the program seemed to increase the risk of World War III. He said if action were so limited, communists might get away with small local aggressions in which the United States refused to risk world war.

Knowland backed up Dulles in declaring that there was no such limitation on American action.

Noted Ark. Chorus To Be Presented In Concert

The Collegiate Singers, famed University of Arkansas choral group, will appear at Neville Auditorium on April 28 for their first performance before a Louisiana audience. This group, under the masterful direction of Herrold Headley, is recognized as one of the truly superior college choirs in the nation.

The scheduled performance of the Collegiate Singers in Monroe (confirmed by Mr. Headley late in the week) is one of the many appearances to be made by the group during their annual spring tour of southern states this year. More than a thousand miles will be covered by the group on this musical expedition. Last season, the Collegiate Singers visited some fifteen cities performing for enthusiastic local and high school audiences.

Monroyans are in for a delightful treat, since the actual performance of this Headley - trained group is an impressive affair, for the director is a perfectionist who demands much of both his singers and his accompaniment. His insistence is ever upon the music itself; he trains the singers to fit it, rather than selecting an easy piece that asks little of the participants. The overflow crowds that greet each public performance of the Collegiate Singers prove the success of presenting "music of quality."

Only forty singers are members of the Collegiate Singers, and these forty are hand - picked from hundreds of hopeful aspirants who audition each year. Countless hours of hard work are spent in practice sessions, but the members cheerfully accept this to sing under Headley's direction. Membership in the Collegiate Singers is not limited to students, for some are faculty members, others are residents of Fayetteville — the hometown of the university. All must meet the same requirements: each member must perfect his part; if a passage is difficult, the singer alone or with other members of his group will practice until it is worked out. Above all, he must be willing to work hard.

The group's appearance in Monroe will be sponsored by members of the senior class at Neville who will act as hosts to the forty visiting singers from the University of Arkansas. The group will give a single performance the night of April 28. Information concerning price and availability of tickets will be announced by the Neville seniors at a later date.

JOHN R. ROGERS

John R. Rogers Will Speak To Teachers Tues.

John R. Rogers, associate professor of education at Northwestern State College, will address the Monroe City Classroom Teachers Association Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. at Central Grammar School on "Personalizing the Reading Task."

Mr. Rogers has had varied and vast experience in the teaching profession. He has had eight years of teaching experience, from the fifth grade through the graduate school. He has served as a school principal, taught at the University of Texas, Stephen F. Austin State College, and Southern Arkansas State College.

Professor Rogers states that his major field of interest is the elementary school and that he is particularly concerned with all phases of the language arts program.

"In my speech to the Monroe City Classroom Teachers I plan to present specific methods which any teacher may use to make sure that books selected by or for any child are appropriate for that particular child," he said.

Incoming Tuna To Be Inspected

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration said today its inspectors have been instructed to check incoming shipments of tuna and shark meat from the Pacific atom bomb test area for radioactivity. The step is a precautionary one because of the nuclear weapons test at Bikini March 1.

The agency said inspectors at Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle will use Geiger counters for several weeks to determine whether there is "any detectable contamination with radioactivity."

Catahoula Blood Bank Providing Service For Ill

JONESVILLE, March 20 (Special) — A "walking blood bank" in Catahoula parish is providing an unestimatable service for ill or injury - stricken parish citizens in the dire need of blood at a moment's notice.

Within a span of a week, the Catahoula "walking blood bank" has been requested to provide 12 pints of sorely - needed blood for parish residents in area hospitals.

W. S. White of Jonesville recently had an internal hemorrhage in the Baptist hospital in Alexandria and seven pints of blood were provided by Jonesville citizens. Donors included his son, Pete White, Rex Tullos, George Hudson, Marion Davis. Ted Collins, Richard Arnaud and "Cooter" King.

Herbert Ebert, Jonesville Booster employee, received an emergency call recently and donated a pint of blood at the Harrisonburg clinic for Mrs. Clotilde Rutledge, who had just given birth to a 10 and one - quarter pound boy.

Four other parish citizens received calls to donate blood for A. D. Swayze Sr., of Jonesville, ill in a Monroe hospital. Charles King, B. B. Lazarus, Pete Lazarus and A. D. Swayze Jr., answered the emergency call for blood.

Catahoulans join the "walking blood bank" merely by having their blood typed and reporting this information to Paul Hodges, "walking blood bank" director. When he receives a call for an emergency donor or donors, Hodges checks his files and contacts persons having the type blood needed. In this way, blood sometimes can be provided within a matter of minutes.

A heavy demand for donors in recent weeks has reduced considerably the number of persons eligible to donate blood, Hodges said, and new members are needed by the organization.

This "walking blood bank," he said, has been highly successful in Catahoula parish and already on several occasions has been credited with saving persons' lives.

Club Developing Road Side Parks On Highway 84

JENA, March 20. (Special)—Development of a roadside park on highway 84 east of Jena, and beautification of the through-highways of the parish are two ambitious projects being undertaken by the Jena Home Demonstration club it was reported this week.

Work already is in progress on developing the roadside park area and permission from officials concerned is being awaited before the ladies fully launch work on the road beautification project which proposes to plant crepe myrtles and other shrubs along the highways of the parish.

A plot of land about 5.6 miles east of Jena and about two miles west of the Whitehall junction has been donated to the Jena Home Demonstration club for development as a roadside park.

The members of the club already have begun work of clearing away the underbrush and landscaping the land. When completed, the park will contain benches and tables, a barbecue pit and trash disposal bin.

In connection with the beautification of the highways, the club discussed ways and means of stricter enforcement of the parish ordinance which prohibits dumping of trash along the highways and urged the cooperation of the public in combatting this practice.

It was pointed out that specified dumping areas are set up by the parish police jury and use of these public dumps instead of throwing trash out along the highways was stressed.

A plot of land about 5.6 miles east of Jena and about two miles west of the Whitehall junction has been donated to the Jena Home Demonstration club for development as a roadside park.

The members of the club already have begun work of clearing away the underbrush and landscaping the land. When completed, the park will contain benches and tables, a barbecue pit and trash disposal bin.

In connection with the beautification of the highways, the club discussed ways and means of stricter enforcement of the parish ordinance which prohibits dumping of trash along the highways and urged the cooperation of the public in combatting this practice.

It was pointed out that specified dumping areas are set up by the parish police jury and use of these public dumps instead of throwing trash out along the highways was stressed.

God, Courage, Honor, Country
Some Thoughts On Americanism

Many Americans wonder today about the word "patriotism". They wonder what requirements are needed to make what was once termed a "patriot".

The word has now become confused with "mass hysteria" and "reaction". Those Americans, fundamentally interested in the salvation of this republic from the several sources attempting its destruction, who are militant in their beliefs, are called "supernationalists" and "super patriots". They are slandered and chided because of their beliefs which thirty years ago, were almost second nature to all Americans. Today, of course, unless one is an avid internationalist possessing wide social concepts, one is "backward". In any discussion of the word "patriotism", it is necessary to consider four rudiments or tenets of that which formerly was second nature, patriotism.

It is hard to conceive of a patriotic American who does not believe in God. Belief in God constitutes the basic belief in moral law, law without which, the nation cannot survive. There are those today who deny that a belief in God is a necessity for patriotism. The history of the United States shows very clearly that it was founded by people who came to these shores to have freedom of worship, to worship as they pleased, but, nevertheless, to worship. Americans today see a Godless materialist philosophy dominating more than 800 million of the Earth's people. More than a quarter of the surface of the globe is dominated by the same philosophy which denied spiritual and moral law. In every nation, the minions of this philosophy are at work.

In this nation, the foremost effort is the corruption of the morals and mores of the population. Whether by narcotics of all various types, and that term can be applied in a loose manner, there are forces at work to destroy and ruin the moral laws which helped make the United States. The affair in New Orleans and in other communities throughout the nation are enough to prove to the average American that there is trouble among the younger citizens and the younger citizens many times, emulate the older, "wiser" ones.

Every strike at God and moral law, is a strike against patriotism. Yet, God still cannot get into many classrooms of the nation, although it is gratifying to note that others operate in the alternative.

Courage is another aspect which is a necessity for patriotism. It is impossible to conceive of a patriotic American without courage or the courage of his convictions. Too many people in influential positions have not the courage of their convictions and as a result, have deceived the greater part of the citizenry as to the true picture of the times. Those who have the courage should speak out militantly, forgetting the smears and slanderous diatribes of those who oppose a mentally armed United States. China was lost by Americans who refused for one reason or the other to speak out.

Great Americans, knowing their names would be slandered, their positions swept from beneath their feet, have nevertheless, spoken out with the described results. It is gratifying to note that their words did not fall on deaf ears. American fighting men in all the past wars have shown a courage and bravery which has successfully pulled them out of terrible positions. It is this courage which is under attack even now. Thus, to a great extent, courage is a necessity for patriotism.

Honor. What about honor?

Honor is a force of moral law which has nearly been forgotten by far too many Americans in these days. Yet, without an honorable populace, the nation can hardly hope to survive. Honor of course, is the main tenet of moral law which is eliminated by the Marxist religion. Honor is forgotten and in its place, is inserted logic. The honorable thing to do is many times forgotten by Americans who do "the best thing for me". The founders of this nation were men of honor. It is said that many of them took honor "too far." Howard Fast, the Stalin prize winner and pro-Communist who defiled the founders of America in his "Citizen Tom Paine", described the founders of the nation as "men without honor." Some teachers and instructors are taking his words to heart and are spreading these vicious lies.

Communists, and pro-Communists everywhere have attempted to disavow honor as a basic American trait. It cannot and should not be done, yet, honor is not taught as it should be in schools of this nation when it is learned that in some school systems, the instructors themselves make a tidy sum selling blank report cards and casting their eyes in other directions while the "cribbing" goes on. Cheating, an opposite of honor, never helps, it hurts. A nation of cheaters cannot survive and that is why the Communists are in domestic trouble today. Thus, it is not hard to see that patriotism to a great extent, requires honor.

What about country?

Do you ever think of this great nation in which you are privileged to live and make your way? It was established at a terrific sacrifice of life and limb. It was bought by men and women who knew what hardship was and knew the price of freedom. Few Americans today appreciate their deeds.

When this land today can come under the attack of a poisonlike philosophy which has recruited far more Americans than it is pleasant to contemplate, when this land comes under the attack of those seeking to foist on it another more powerful government not representative of freedom and individuality, and when it is a known fact that without the help of many hundreds of native Americans, the attacks could not succeed, one must stop and ponder the future.

Being a patriot today is to suffer the freezing blasts of slander and prevarication, while those even in high office, sell principle, honor, God and country for partisan politics and a warped philosophy are enamored in the spotlight, the warm passages of public apathy.

Yet, there are men, working hard, against almost insurmountable odds, who still believe in God, courage, honor and country as necessities of their belief and their struggle. True, they are still in the minority and it may easily be that it is too late for them to succeed. You see, love of country is not any longer inherent in the American people. Country is taken for granted. The few who fight are the real patriots, the real Americans. It is hoped that every lie about their person, piece of slander, every insult against them by those working against the best interests of this nation, will be as steps to their ladder of fame, the one which may lead to the highest reward.

The Washington Times-Herald
A Tragic Loss

On Wednesday afternoon, at 12:44 if the reports of the time of the transaction are correct, a great newspaper ceased to exist.

The Washington Times-Herald formerly owned by Mrs. Eleanor Patterson ("Cissie," to her friends) who had willed it to seven employees (who in turn, sold it to Col. Robert McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune,) was bought by Eugene Meyer and his son-in-law, Philip Graham, the Chairman of the board and the publisher (respectively) of the Washington Post. The deal involved eight and a half million dollars.

The Times-Herald had for years been the only real voice of the conservative Americans in almost all of that section of the nation. It supported Senator McCarthy, it supported the late Senator Bob Taft, it supported General MacArthur, it opposed Trumanism and was strong in opposition to the Roosevelt regime. It opposed the forces today working to change the United States by various means, into something which it was never intended to be.

As such, it was a thorn in the side of the Washington Post which cannot deny that it is a journal of extreme left leaning beliefs. The shocked national capital realizes that with its loss, there will not be any voice of pro-Americanism to fight the internationalist Washington Post of Meyer and Graham.

The Post supports the Truman-Acheson Democrat leadership line to the letter.

It is known that the Times-Herald was not a big money maker. In fact, last year, it lost. However, it had the biggest circulation in the District and surrounding territory. It was the voice of Americanism. As such, in some manner, it had to be removed.

Mrs. Garvin Tankersley, the niece of Col. McCormick and its former editor, was given twelve hours in which to raise eight million dollars. She attempted, the Morning World was informed, to receive financial support from some Texas oil people and from other sources plus adding 350,000 dollars of her own money to raise the down payment of a million and a half dollars. She tried until the last minute when she tearfully gave up saying, "I didn't want the paper to die. It has a place in Washington. What the Times-Herald stands for should be saved."

Alas, it was not, and now, it is dead, captured by its enemy, the Post. So goes another voice attempting to defend the nation. In a time of desperate need, a necessary voice has been stilled.

Americans everywhere will bemoan the demise of the Times-Herald. Another fighter is down. The ranks are still thinner. The powers in opposition to the basic principles of Americanism are powerful. They are prosperous and they have a definite goal. The conservatives are split, divided. Those with the funds to help are holding what they have. What for? It is certain that they will lose them and everything else.

The death of the Times-Herald should not have taken place. It clearly points to the lack of cohesion among those who are fighting for their nation.

UNESCO

"United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization." That title, greatly misleading spells the greatest threat to the United States which has been posed in many a year.

UNECSO as it is called, is a strike at the vitals of this nation and operates through the national school systems. It teaches the students that American history is to be forgotten. It converts the young Americans to forget American beliefs and American heroes. It has two major aims in mind. The first is propaganda designed to force adoption by all UN members of the "Universial Declaration of Human Rights."

This newspaper has fully described the Human Rights Convention. If that monster is passed, the end of American sovereignty will be automatic. The second "goal" is the revision and rewriting of all American textbooks with first and foremost emphasis on the history books.

To spearhead this evil in the United States, there has been a commission set up to "advise" the government on "UNESCO affairs." It is composed of more than a hundred members, 40 of them were appointed by Dean Acheson. Among them was Alger Hiss, the convict, traitor and Russian espionage agent. "UNESCO" receives the aid of the National Education Association. That organization is the voice of "progress" in the American school systems. It supports wholeheartedly, the "U. N." and "UNESCO." There are more than 15 educational societies also in support of it. The main support in the United States comes from the "American Association for the United Nations," previously described.

Now, it would not be truthful nor fair to attack the entire organization and membership of the NEA or the other organizations supporting "UNESCO." They are all composed of many, many loyal and patriotic Americans. However, they have become victims of "Nationalitis" wherein the national headquarters has taken over the decisions of policy "UNESCO's" guidebooks, "Towards World Understanding" and "The UNESCO Story" are among the books seeking by cleverness and guile to transform the American school children into "Citizens of the World."

It would be perhaps easier for the people of this and other communities to fathom some of the operations of "UNESCO" by reading the guide for teachers termed, "In the classroom with the child under thirteen years of age." the "Guide" is a part of the series, "Towards World Understanding."

"The first problem," you are told, "is for the children to be protected from selfish individualism." "A child must be impressed with his obligations as a world citizen." Consider page nine of the "guide" which states in part, "The kindergarten, or infant school has a significant part to play in the child's education. Not only can it correct many of the errors of home training, but it can also prepare the child for membership at about the age of seven in a group of his own age and habits—the first of many such social identifications that he must achieve on his way to membership in world society."

Consider now, page 11 which states in part, "The study of history raises problems of value which are better postponed until the pupil is freed from the nationalistic prejudices which at present surround the teaching of history."

Page 54 shocks you with, "The narrow family spirit of the parents, may in fact not only compromise indirectly and in some degree unconsciously, the eventual integration of the child in the human community. It may even counter the development of international understanding. It is sufficient to note that it is most frequently in the family that the children are infected with nationalism by hearing what is nationalism extolled."

Page 55 continues in the same vein, "How can the parents be persuaded to adopt an attitude so different from the great majority of adults? It has been said that it is the children who educate the parents. LET THE SCHOOL MAKE USE OF THIS LEVERAGE. The children are finally told that, "it is the adults of our communities, with their fears, their prejudices, their old habits of thinking, or refusing to think, who undo the good work of our schools, and thereby retard the progress of mankind."

Thus, it is easy to see that there is a definite and diabolic attack on the family unit, that which has helped make this nation great. There is an attack on the parents themselves which undermines the young people as well as the adults.

Fortunately, UNESCO is rapidly being banned from schools all over America. The extent of its penetration in these communities is not known, but is being even now, carefully examined. Should traces of this foreign heresy and treasonable teachings be found in the Ouachita parish school system, or in the Monroe or West Monroe schools, it should be immediately removed.

To that end, all citizens must work.

A Reconciliation?

Last week, the President received a guest for lunch. He was General Douglas MacArthur, one-time Eisenhower superior who was fired for attempting to win the Korean War by Truman and Acheson in a midnight performance which will go down in history as a terrible and unfortunate mistake.

Since the General was fired, he has taken the position of Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Remington Rand Corporation, a job at which he has diligently worked and faithfully served.

However, it is felt that Douglas MacArthur's genius is being wasted with that company and it is further believed that Remington Rand would be the first to agree with the statement. The President, who is supposed to be fighting the Communists wherever they might be, needs the constant advice of this great American. MacArthur knows the Orient and the minds of its people as do few other Americans. It was he who formulated the Japanese Republic and the post-war occupation of that nation.

It was he who by the time of the Korean War, had the Japanese as loyal friends and allies of the United States when it is a known fact that five years before that date, the Japanese hated Americans and were killing themselves in flaming airplanes as vivid proof.

It is believed that the General should be given some post of authority as an advisor or of some similar higher capacity in order that his great knowledge of the Orient could be used. There are very few people who will disagree that the key to the fight against the international Bolshevik conspiracy is one which could easily be won or lost in Asia. The Orient is actually the key to the future.

The apparent semi-reconciliation of General MacArthur and President Eisenhower should come as a matter of course between two great Americans who are devoted servants of the American people and who are attempting to wage a fight against a force not matched in history for its cruelty and barbaric actions.

Chiropractor Debunks Debunkers

Farmerville, La.

Editor, Morning World:

There have been two attacks upon the Chiropractic Profession in your newspaper within the past week. On the 11th instant a physician-anesthesiologist lectured the Twin City Council of the Parent-Teachers Association on the evils of 'Chiropractic Medicine"; on the 17th following there was a medical tirade of untruths printed on the editorial page, under the heading of EDITORIAL accusing Chiropractors of curing everything.

To the layman these would appear to be accidental. They are nothing of the kind, and I propose to tell the general public what's going on. The Louisiana Medical Society has boasted that they are going to "rid Louisiana" of Chiropractors when the legislature meets in May In order to do this there must be a conditioning of public opinion against Chiropractors. These outbursts are only the beginning — there will be lectures to other P.-T. A. groups and civic organizations; there will be radio "health" discussions, etc., designed to make the Chiropractors appear to be ignorant, untrained and unfit. Nobody wants the public health endangered by untrained personnel: hence, well-meaning people will lend their support to a resolution condemning Chiropractic.

To begin with, it is unfortunate that this Anesthesiologist chose such a worthy and beneficial organization as the Twin City Council of the P.-T. A. to be the springboard for such a discourse. I don't believe this group knew what they were doing; nor would they ever consent to being USED as a pawn in a clever, under-handed political maneuver of a selfish monopoly!

There is no such word as "Chiropractic medicine." The word is Chiropractic It is derived from two Greek words: "Cheir" and "Praktikos," meaning "done by hand." The Chiropractor gives no shots, prescribes no medicine, performs no surgery, administers no X-ray or Radium Therapy. He makes no diagnosis; does not claim to cure anything. However, he is thoroughly trained in all of the sciences that pertain or relate to the human body, the health of the body, the Chemistry, Physics, etc. There are 35 major Chiropractic Colleges in the U. S. The standard course of study covers four years. 4,000 class-room hours are a minimum requirement; 4,400-hour basic course is recommended. The curriculum and hours of study parallel or surpass the minimum requirements of the American Medical Association for Class A Schools. Chiropractors are licensed in 44 states, District of Columbia, Hawaii, Alaska and 7 provinces of Canada. There are 22,000 Chiropractors in the U. S. Over 32,000,000 people in America are under Chiropractic care. There are over 100 Chiropractors in Louisiana. Over 220 000 Chiropractic patients in Louisiana. It is true, that Chiropractic is only the second-largest healing profession in the world; but we must bear in mind that it is only 59 years old.

Chiropractic is no accident. There is an explanation. All disorders of the human body can be traced back into the nervous system. The brain controls the body through nerve channels. Nerves are the frame-work of the body—and they all come from the brain. As long as there is no interruption between the various parts of the body and the brain there is normal function. If pressure develepes anywhere along the line there is abnormal function. The Chiropractor is able to analyze the spine, discover the points of pressure due to misaligned vertebrae, adjust these segments back into proper place, take pressure off of nerves that interfere with normal transmission and normal function is restored. It is found that a person with a straight spine is well; a person with a "crooked" spine is sick. The Chiropractor does not have to diagnose; he merely has to analyze and adjust. When the spine is adjusted and straightened the Chiropractor does not have to cure—the patient gets well. The Chiropractor is trained to the highest degree of skill and accuracy; he is a true friend to those who are suffering and in distress. Shame upon any person who would distort the facts and attempt to deprive sick people of Chiropractic care!

The Chiropractor does not want to practice Medicine. He wants to do what he is trained to do: adjust the segments of the spinal column by use of his hands! For years there has been an effort toward legislation that would recognize Chiropractic as a separate, distinct healing art, license Chiropractors, set up a Chiropractic Board so that the practice of this profession could be regulated here in Louisiana as it is in other states. Is the Medical Society sincere in its opposition to a Chiropractic Bill or does it aspire to be a greater, more powerful, monopoly? Is it more interested in "protecting" the health of the people or protecting their own selfish interests? It is to be hoped that in the weeks ahead these facts shall be kept in mind; in the interest of fair-play both sides should be heard, the truth realized, legislators should be urged to act in the best interest of the people.

Communism, Republicanism Objectives Of Extremists

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

It is only pertinent that every citizen should be interested in the social, civic, political, and economic advancement of his country: inasmuch as all these features contribute to the environments of our well being. Countless millions of dollars are being spent every year to educate the rising generation, and to bring them up in the limelight of refinement, and to move them onward and upward to higher standards of morals and principals. But it appears that Satan has by subtility, gained control of the ruling influence and has plunged our fondest dreams into a conglomeration of corruption.

Every Sabbath morning we prepare our children and send them to Sabbath school with the intention of educating and instructing them in the tenets of God's holy law, "the ten commandments" which every well instructed teenager can quote from memory, but it appears that in the ebullition of fast moving events they are led to forget the fine arts taught them in Sabbath School and from the pulpit. All of the fine principles set forth in the tenets of the ten commandments seem to get lost in the natural inclination of people to gain wealth, eminence, and political prestige, in violation of every one of God's commandments.

Nowadays we can't look at a newspaper, or listen to the radio without seeing and hearing defamatory onslaughts hurled at the integrity of someone or group of people. In early life, I was taught that when you hear anyone making baseless charges against another, they were only trying to screen and hide their own sins. And in my many years of observation, I find this to be very correct. Politicians hurling charges and countercharges at each other, are only evidence of the intention to create corruption in high places, and screen themselves behind the ignorance of unlearned people.

In my opinion, the best way to fight the order of any political party or faction is to teach those who don't know them, the tenets, dogmas, and objectives of each party, then politicians would find the soil a little too wet to plow. Furthermore millions of people would learn that the projected goal of both Communism and Republicanism are the objectives of unreasonable extremists. It is natural for everyone to enjoy the right to own and possess all of their earnings, but under communism you don't own anything. The few who are the government owns everything. If you shoull buy an automobile, it is assumed to belong to the government, and the government has the right to confiscate it and not pay you anything for it. And under the laissez - faire policy of Republicanism, if one man could gain the whole world, he has the right to build a fence around it and shut all of the rest of mankind out into open space. Their principal objective is to make the rich richer and the poor poorer.

To me they are reminiscent of two wood choppers I once knew. One was a bachelor named Roberson, and the other was a one-eyed married man named Sims. They worked together and both lived in the same house. At night Roberson would hold one hand over Sim's good eye while he hugged Mrs. Sims with the other arm. This seems to be pretty much like the Republicans are trying to do us. Hold one hand over our good eye while they plunder our pocket books with the other hand.

Please watch the maneuverings of the administration a few months longer.

Is This Right?

Delhi, La.

Editor, Morning World:

It seems that we have been given the run around and nothing said about how some of our boys have been drafted into the armed services and others have been left free. It seems that it is wrong that a few can be deferred and others have to go and stay away from home. I would like to ask the public, "Is this right?"

It seems that if a man can get with the right bunch he can dodge everything and this is very true here in my own parish. I have a son in the service and I am proud of him. I do not want to see anyone go but it seems that it is a rich man's war and a poor man's fight.

Early Filing Of Income Tax

New Orleans, La.

Editor, Morning World:

During the current income tax filing period this office estimates that there were filed approximately 725,000 returns of many types, principally income tax returns. Included in this group were approximately 385,000 income tax returns on which overpayments of tax were indicated, which naturally the taxpayers were most anxious to receive at the earliest date possible. In the same period of time it is estimated this office received $206,162,998 in payment of many kinds of taxes. I am sure you can appreciate the very large task it is to receive and process the returns and the money involved in such a short period of time.

In connection with this program this office issued a number of press releases in which instructions of various kinds were given for the benefit of the taxpaying public, especially urging it to file its returns early because of a serious shortage of personnel in the office. I would like to express to you personally my appreciation for the excellent cooperation received from the Monroe Morning World and News-Star in publishing these press releases and other articles dealing with the tax problem. Your full and wholehearted cooperation in this respect has materially lightened the workload of this office. You have, in my opinion, rendered an excellent public service in bringing to the attention of the public the matters which I thought it should know and which aided in the preparation of its various tax returns.

As stated above, this office appreciates the cooperation on your part and hopes for its continuation in the future.

Every strike at God and moral law, is a strike against patriotism. Yet, God still cannot get into many classrooms of the nation, although it is gratifying to note that others operate in the alternative.

Courage is another aspect which is a necessity for patriotism. It is impossible to conceive of a patriotic American without courage or the courage of his convictions. Too many people in influential positions have not the courage of their convictions and as a result, have deceived the greater part of the citizenry as to the true picture of the times. Those who have the courage should speak out militantly, forgetting the smears and slanderous diatribes of those who oppose a mentally armed United States. China was lost by Americans who refused for one reason or the other to speak out.

Great Americans, knowing their names would be slandered, their positions swept from beneath their feet, have nevertheless, spoken out with the described results. It is gratifying to note that their words did not fall on deaf ears. American fighting men in all the past wars have shown a courage and bravery which has successfully pulled them out of terrible positions. It is this courage which is under attack even now. Thus, to a great extent, courage is a necessity for patriotism.

Honor. What about honor?

Honor is a force of moral law which has nearly been forgotten by far too many Americans in these days. Yet, without an honorable populace, the nation can hardly hope to survive. Honor of course, is the main tenet of moral law which is eliminated by the Marxist religion. Honor is forgotten and in its place, is inserted logic. The honorable thing to do is many times forgotten by Americans who do "the best thing for me". The founders of this nation were men of honor. It is said that many of them took honor "too far." Howard Fast, the Stalin prize winner and pro-Communist who defiled the founders of America in his "Citizen Tom Paine", described the founders of the nation as "men without honor." Some teachers and instructors are taking his words to heart and are spreading these vicious lies.

Communists, and pro-Communists everywhere have attempted to disavow honor as a basic American trait. It cannot and should not be done, yet, honor is not taught as it should be in schools of this nation when it is learned that in some school systems, the instructors themselves make a tidy sum selling blank report cards and casting their eyes in other directions while the "cribbing" goes on. Cheating, an opposite of honor, never helps, it hurts. A nation of cheaters cannot survive and that is why the Communists are in domestic trouble today. Thus, it is not hard to see that patriotism to a great extent, requires honor.

What about country?

Do you ever think of this great nation in which you are privileged to live and make your way? It was established at a terrific sacrifice of life and limb. It was bought by men and women who knew what hardship was and knew the price of freedom. Few Americans today appreciate their deeds.

When this land today can come under the attack of a poisonlike philosophy which has recruited far more Americans than it is pleasant to contemplate, when this land comes under the attack of those seeking to foist on it another more powerful government not representative of freedom and individuality, and when it is a known fact that without the help of many hundreds of native Americans, the attacks could not succeed, one must stop and ponder the future.

Being a patriot today is to suffer the freezing blasts of slander and prevarication, while those even in high office, sell principle, honor, God and country for partisan politics and a warped philosophy are enamored in the spotlight, the warm passages of public apathy.

Yet, there are men, working hard, against almost insurmountable odds, who still believe in God, courage, honor and country as necessities of their belief and their struggle. True, they are still in the minority and it may easily be that it is too late for them to succeed. You see, love of country is not any longer inherent in the American people. Country is taken for granted. The few who fight are the real patriots, the real Americans. It is hoped that every lie about their person, piece of slander, every insult against them by those working against the best interests of this nation, will be as steps to their ladder of fame, the one which may lead to the highest reward.

The Washington Times-Herald
A Tragic Loss

On Wednesday afternoon, at 12:44 if the reports of the time of the transaction are correct, a great newspaper ceased to exist.

The Washington Times-Herald formerly owned by Mrs. Eleanor Patterson ("Cissie," to her friends) who had willed it to seven employees (who in turn, sold it to Col. Robert McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune,) was bought by Eugene Meyer and his son-in-law, Philip Graham, the Chairman of the board and the publisher (respectively) of the Washington Post. The deal involved eight and a half million dollars.

The Times-Herald had for years been the only real voice of the conservative Americans in almost all of that section of the nation. It supported Senator McCarthy, it supported the late Senator Bob Taft, it supported General MacArthur, it opposed Trumanism and was strong in opposition to the Roosevelt regime. It opposed the forces today working to change the United States by various means, into something which it was never intended to be.

As such, it was a thorn in the side of the Washington Post which cannot deny that it is a journal of extreme left leaning beliefs. The shocked national capital realizes that with its loss, there will not be any voice of pro-Americanism to fight the internationalist Washington Post of Meyer and Graham.

The Post supports the Truman-Acheson Democrat leadership line to the letter.

It is known that the Times-Herald was not a big money maker. In fact, last year, it lost. However, it had the biggest circulation in the District and surrounding territory. It was the voice of Americanism. As such, in some manner, it had to be removed.

Mrs. Garvin Tankersley, the niece of Col. McCormick and its former editor, was given twelve hours in which to raise eight million dollars. She attempted, the Morning World was informed, to receive financial support from some Texas oil people and from other sources plus adding 350,000 dollars of her own money to raise the down payment of a million and a half dollars. She tried until the last minute when she tearfully gave up saying, "I didn't want the paper to die. It has a place in Washington. What the Times-Herald stands for should be saved."

Alas, it was not, and now, it is dead, captured by its enemy, the Post. So goes another voice attempting to defend the nation. In a time of desperate need, a necessary voice has been stilled.

Americans everywhere will bemoan the demise of the Times-Herald. Another fighter is down. The ranks are still thinner. The powers in opposition to the basic principles of Americanism are powerful. They are prosperous and they have a definite goal. The conservatives are split, divided. Those with the funds to help are holding what they have. What for? It is certain that they will lose them and everything else.

The death of the Times-Herald should not have taken place. It clearly points to the lack of cohesion among those who are fighting for their nation.

UNESCO

"United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization." That title, greatly misleading spells the greatest threat to the United States which has been posed in many a year.

UNECSO as it is called, is a strike at the vitals of this nation and operates through the national school systems. It teaches the students that American history is to be forgotten. It converts the young Americans to forget American beliefs and American heroes. It has two major aims in mind. The first is propaganda designed to force adoption by all UN members of the "Universial Declaration of Human Rights."

This newspaper has fully described the Human Rights Convention. If that monster is passed, the end of American sovereignty will be automatic. The second "goal" is the revision and rewriting of all American textbooks with first and foremost emphasis on the history books.

To spearhead this evil in the United States, there has been a commission set up to "advise" the government on "UNESCO affairs." It is composed of more than a hundred members, 40 of them were appointed by Dean Acheson. Among them was Alger Hiss, the convict, traitor and Russian espionage agent. "UNESCO" receives the aid of the National Education Association. That organization is the voice of "progress" in the American school systems. It supports wholeheartedly, the "U. N." and "UNESCO." There are more than 15 educational societies also in support of it. The main support in the United States comes from the "American Association for the United Nations," previously described.

Now, it would not be truthful nor fair to attack the entire organization and membership of the NEA or the other organizations supporting "UNESCO." They are all composed of many, many loyal and patriotic Americans. However, they have become victims of "Nationalitis" wherein the national headquarters has taken over the decisions of policy "UNESCO's" guidebooks, "Towards World Understanding" and "The UNESCO Story" are among the books seeking by cleverness and guile to transform the American school children into "Citizens of the World."

It would be perhaps easier for the people of this and other communities to fathom some of the operations of "UNESCO" by reading the guide for teachers termed, "In the classroom with the child under thirteen years of age." the "Guide" is a part of the series, "Towards World Understanding."

"The first problem," you are told, "is for the children to be protected from selfish individualism." "A child must be impressed with his obligations as a world citizen." Consider page nine of the "guide" which states in part, "The kindergarten, or infant school has a significant part to play in the child's education. Not only can it correct many of the errors of home training, but it can also prepare the child for membership at about the age of seven in a group of his own age and habits—the first of many such social identifications that he must achieve on his way to membership in world society."

Consider now, page 11 which states in part, "The study of history raises problems of value which are better postponed until the pupil is freed from the nationalistic prejudices which at present surround the teaching of history."

Page 54 shocks you with, "The narrow family spirit of the parents, may in fact not only compromise indirectly and in some degree unconsciously, the eventual integration of the child in the human community. It may even counter the development of international understanding. It is sufficient to note that it is most frequently in the family that the children are infected with nationalism by hearing what is nationalism extolled."

Page 55 continues in the same vein, "How can the parents be persuaded to adopt an attitude so different from the great majority of adults? It has been said that it is the children who educate the parents. LET THE SCHOOL MAKE USE OF THIS LEVERAGE. The children are finally told that, "it is the adults of our communities, with their fears, their prejudices, their old habits of thinking, or refusing to think, who undo the good work of our schools, and thereby retard the progress of mankind."

Thus, it is easy to see that there is a definite and diabolic attack on the family unit, that which has helped make this nation great. There is an attack on the parents themselves which undermines the young people as well as the adults.

Fortunately, UNESCO is rapidly being banned from schools all over America. The extent of its penetration in these communities is not known, but is being even now, carefully examined. Should traces of this foreign heresy and treasonable teachings be found in the Ouachita parish school system, or in the Monroe or West Monroe schools, it should be immediately removed.

To that end, all citizens must work.

A Reconciliation?

Last week, the President received a guest for lunch. He was General Douglas MacArthur, one-time Eisenhower superior who was fired for attempting to win the Korean War by Truman and Acheson in a midnight performance which will go down in history as a terrible and unfortunate mistake.

Since the General was fired, he has taken the position of Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Remington Rand Corporation, a job at which he has diligently worked and faithfully served.

However, it is felt that Douglas MacArthur's genius is being wasted with that company and it is further believed that Remington Rand would be the first to agree with the statement. The President, who is supposed to be fighting the Communists wherever they might be, needs the constant advice of this great American. MacArthur knows the Orient and the minds of its people as do few other Americans. It was he who formulated the Japanese Republic and the post-war occupation of that nation.

It was he who by the time of the Korean War, had the Japanese as loyal friends and allies of the United States when it is a known fact that five years before that date, the Japanese hated Americans and were killing themselves in flaming airplanes as vivid proof.

It is believed that the General should be given some post of authority as an advisor or of some similar higher capacity in order that his great knowledge of the Orient could be used. There are very few people who will disagree that the key to the fight against the international Bolshevik conspiracy is one which could easily be won or lost in Asia. The Orient is actually the key to the future.

The apparent semi-reconciliation of General MacArthur and President Eisenhower should come as a matter of course between two great Americans who are devoted servants of the American people and who are attempting to wage a fight against a force not matched in history for its cruelty and barbaric actions.

Chiropractor Debunks Debunkers

Farmerville, La.

Editor, Morning World:

There have been two attacks upon the Chiropractic Profession in your newspaper within the past week. On the 11th instant a physician-anesthesiologist lectured the Twin City Council of the Parent-Teachers Association on the evils of 'Chiropractic Medicine"; on the 17th following there was a medical tirade of untruths printed on the editorial page, under the heading of EDITORIAL accusing Chiropractors of curing everything.

To the layman these would appear to be accidental. They are nothing of the kind, and I propose to tell the general public what's going on. The Louisiana Medical Society has boasted that they are going to "rid Louisiana" of Chiropractors when the legislature meets in May. In order to do this there must be a conditioning of public opinion against Chiropractors. These outbursts are only the beginning — there will be lectures to other P.-T. A. groups and civic organizations; there will be radio "health" discussions, etc., designed to make the Chiropractors appear to be ignorant, untrained and unfit. Nobody wants the public health endangered by untrained personnel: hence, well-meaning people will lend their support to a resolution condemning Chiropractic.

To begin with, it is unfortunate that this Anesthesiologist chose such a worthy and beneficial organization as the Twin City Council of the P.-T. A. to be the springboard for such a discourse. I don't believe this group knew what they were doing; nor would they ever consent to being USED as a pawn in a clever, under-handed political maneuver of a selfish monopoly!

There is no such word as "Chiropractic medicine." The word is Chiropractic. It is derived from two Greek words: "Cheir" and "Praktikos," meaning "done by hand." The Chiropractor gives no shots, prescribes no medicine, performs no surgery, administers no X-ray or Radium Therapy. He makes no diagnosis; does not claim to cure anything. However, he is thoroughly trained in all of the sciences that pertain or relate to the human body, the health of the body, the Chemistry, Physics, etc. There are 35 major Chiropractic Colleges in the U. S. The standard course of study covers four years. 4,000 class-room hours are a minimum requirement; 4,400-hour basic course is recommended. The curriculum and hours of study parallel or surpass the minimum requirements of the American Medical Association for Class A Schools. Chiropractors are licensed in 44 states, District of Columbia, Hawaii, Alaska and 7 provinces of Canada. There are 22,000 Chiropractors in the U. S. Over 32,000,000 people in America are under Chiropractic care. There are over 100 Chiropractors in Louisiana. Over 220 000 Chiropractic patients in Louisiana. It is true, that Chiropractic is only the second-largest healing profession in the world; but we must bear in mind that it is only 59 years old.

Chiropractic is no accident. There is an explanation. All disorders of the human body can be traced back into the nervous system. The brain controls the body through nerve channels. Nerves are the frame-work of the body—and they all come from the brain. As long as there is no interruption between the various parts of the body and the brain there is normal function. If pressure develops anywhere along the line there is abnormal function. The Chiropractor is able to analyze the spine, discover the points of pressure due to misaligned vertebrae, adjust these segments back into proper place, take pressure off of nerves that interfere with normal transmission and normal function is restored. It is found that a person with a straight spine is well; a person with a "crooked" spine is sick. The Chiropractor does not have to diagnose; he merely has to analyze and adjust. When the spine is adjusted and straightened the Chiropractor does not have to cure—the patient gets well. The Chiropractor is trained to the highest degree of skill and accuracy; he is a true friend to those who are suffering and in distress. Shame upon any person who would distort the facts and attempt to deprive sick people of Chiropractic care!

The Chiropractor does not want to practice Medicine. He wants to do what he is trained to do: adjust the segments of the spinal column by use of his hands! For years there has been an effort toward legislation that would recognize Chiropractic as a separate, distinct healing art, license Chiropractors, set up a Chiropractic Board so that the practice of this profession could be regulated here in Louisiana as it is in other states. Is the Medical Society sincere in its opposition to a Chiropractic Bill or does it aspire to be a greater, more powerful, monopoly? Is it more interested in "protecting" the health of the people or protecting their own selfish interests? It is to be hoped that in the weeks ahead these facts shall be kept in mind; in the interest of fair-play both sides should be heard, the truth realized, legislators should be urged to act in the best interest of the people.

Communism, Republicanism Objectives Of Extremists

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

It is only pertinent that every citizen should be interested in the social, civic, political, and economic advancement of his country: inasmuch as all these features contribute to the environments of our well being. Countless millions of dollars are being spent every year to educate the rising generation, and to bring them up in the limelight of refinement, and to move them onward and upward to higher standards of morals and principals. But it appears that Satan has by subtility, gained control of the ruling influence and has plunged our fondest dreams into a conglomeration of corruption.

Every Sabbath morning we prepare our children and send them to Sabbath school with the intention of educating and instructing them in the tenets of God's holy law, "the ten commandments" which every well instructed teenager can quote from memory, but it appears that in the ebullition of fast moving events they are led to forget the fine arts taught them in Sabbath School and from the pulpit. All of the fine principles set forth in the tenets of the ten commandments seem to get lost in the natural inclination of people to gain wealth, eminence, and political prestige, in violation of every one of God's commandments.

Nowadays we can't look at a newspaper, or listen to the radio without seeing and hearing defamatory onslaughts hurled at the integrity of someone or group of people. In early life, I was taught that when you hear anyone making baseless charges against another, they were only trying to screen and hide their own sins. And in my many years of observation, I find this to be very correct. Politicians hurling charges and countercharges at each other, are only evidence of the intention to create corruption in high places, and screen themselves behind the ignorance of unlearned people.

In my opinion, the best way to fight the order of any political party or faction is to teach those who don't know them, the tenets, dogmas, and objectives of each party, then politicians would find the soil a little too wet to plow. Furthermore millions of people would learn that the projected goal of both Communism and Republicanism are the objectives of unreasonable extremists. It is natural for everyone to enjoy the right to own and possess all of their earnings, but under communism you don't own anything. The few who are the government owns everything. If you shoull buy an automobile, it is assumed to belong to the government, and the government has the right to confiscate it and not pay you anything for it. And under the laissez - faire policy of Republicanism, if one man could gain the whole world, he has the right to build a fence around it and shut all of the rest of mankind out into open space. Their principal objective is to make the rich richer and the poor poorer.

To me they are reminiscent of two wood choppers I once knew. One was a bachelor named Roberson, and the other was a one-eyed married man named Sims. They worked together and both lived in the same house. At night Roberson would hold one hand over Sim's good eye while he hugged Mrs. Sims with the other arm. This seems to be pretty much like the Republicans are trying to do us. Hold one hand over our good eye while they plunder our pocket books with the other hand.

Please watch the maneuverings of the administration a few months longer.

Is This Right?

Delhi, La.

Editor, Morning World:

It seems that we have been given the run around and nothing said about how some of our boys have been drafted into the armed services and others have been left free. It seems that it is wrong that a few can be deferred and others have to go and stay away from home. I would like to ask the public, "Is this right?"

It seems that if a man can get with the right bunch he can dodge everything and this is very true here in my own parish. I have a son in the service and I am proud of him. I do not want to see anyone go but it seems that it is a rich man's war and a poor man's fight.

Early Filing Of Income Tax

New Orleans, La.

Editor, Morning World:

During the current income tax filing period this office estimates that there were filed approximately 725,000 returns of many types, principally income tax returns. Included in this group were approximately 385,000 income tax returns on which overpayments of tax were indicated, which naturally the taxpayers were most anxious to receive at the earliest date possible. In the same period of time it is estimated this office received $206,162,998 in payment of many kinds of taxes. I am sure you can appreciate the very large task it is to receive and process the returns and the money involved in such a short period of time.

In connection with this program this office issued a number of press releases in which instructions of various kinds were given for the benefit of the taxpaying public, especially urging it to file its returns early because of a serious shortage of personnel in the office. I would like to express to you personally my appreciation for the excellent cooperation received from the Monroe Morning World and News-Star in publishing these press releases and other articles dealing with the tax problem. Your full and wholehearted cooperation in this respect has materially lightened the workload of this office. You have, in my opinion, rendered an excellent public service in bringing to the attention of the public the matters which I thought it should know and which aided in the preparation of its various tax returns.

As stated above, this office appreciates the cooperation on your part and hopes for its continuation in the future.

Road Bond Issue Defeated By Two Contested Votes

LAKE CHARLES, La., March 20 —UP—Two contested votes, ruled valid by the Calcasieu parish Police Jury, defeated a $200,000 road bond issue in ward five here.

Without the contested ballots, the measure would have passed by a slim margin in property valuation, with the voters also approving the measure 111 to 110.

One voter failed to sign a ballot and another voted property which he had recently sold. Both ballots were ruled valid and the measure failed on property valuation, $68,160 for to $72,625 against, although there were 113 votes for to only 110 against.

MISS VIVIANA CAZAYOUX

State Library Association To Convene Here

The Louisiana Library Association will hold its 28th annual conference in Monroe Thursday and Friday with Miss Vivian Cazayoux, state president, presiding at the general sessions. The two-day convention will be devoted to the development of the library in regards to the general community in which it serves.

The opening session of the meeting will be at 2 p.m. Thursday when David Clift, executive secretary of the American Library Association, speaks on "The American Library Association, the Library and Adult Education."

The keynote address will be given Thursday night by Emerson Greenaway, director of the Free Public Library of Philadelphia, where talk will outline the general theme of the meeting "The Essential Ingredient—An Informed Community." Greenaway is recognized nationally in the library profession for his ability in the fields of library organization and administration. He is the author of many articles in library literature.

Prior to his appointment in 1951 to his present position, Greenaway was librarian of the Enoch Pratt Library in Baltimore, one of the most noteworthy institutions in the country. This particular library is known for its special collections and group services which were strengthened under the administration of Greenaway. One of the many additional programs developed under his leadership was the Atomic Energy Institute, now recognized throughout the country.

Friday the group will hold three discussions each dealing with specific phases of library work. Beginning at 9:30 a.m. the college and reference section, the Louisiana Association of School Libraries and the Public Library Section will discuss their various problems and ways of eliminating them. Guest speaker at the college and reference section will be David Webb, librarian of the North Texas State College at Denton. He will speak on "A Sense of Proportion."

Slated for the meeting of the Association of School librarians is a panel of speakers, who will discuss "From School Library to Materials Center For an Informed Youth." Miss Sue Hefley will serve as moderator while the panel members will be Miss Genevra Washburn, Miss Alice Clay, Miss Lillian Kennedy, Mrs. Lena de Grummond and Louis Germany.

The public library section meeting will be devoted primarily to business with reports on various projects of the group.

From 1:30 until 2 p.m. the Citizen's Library movement will hold a short meeting after which the trustees section will hear Greenaway discuss the "Public Library's Potentiality for Community Service."

Friday night at 8 p.m. Edward Larocque Tinker, American novelist, biographer and historian, will be the principal speaker at which time he will talk on "The Gaucho in the Library." The talk will deal with a study of the gaucho he made while in South America. A translation of this book appeared last year under the title "Horsemen of the Americas and the Literatures They Inspired."

Dr. Tinker, an authority on the French period in Louisiana and particularly in New Orleans, has made a distinguished collection of the French imprints on the state. These were later given to the American Antiquarian Society of Worcester, Mass. The collection was the basis for his thesis entitled "Les Escrits de Langue Francaise en Louisiane," for which he received a doctorate at the Sarbonne in Paris in 1932. He has also written several other books about New Orleans, during this period.

Dr. Tinker was twice honored by the French government and is a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor. He has been awarded two medals by the French Academy and has lectured in Mexico and South America under the Auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and Department of State.

Miss Cazayoux, who is film librarian at the Louisiana State Library, will preside at the principal sessions. Convention chairman is Miss Frances Flanders of Monroe, librarian of the Ouachita Parish Public Library, while Ruth Walling of Baton Rouge, chief reference librarian of Louisiana State University is program chairman.

Convention headquarters will be the Virginia Hotel.

Pope Pius Spends Restful Night

VATICAN CITY, March 20 —UP— Pope Pius XII appeared in "excellent spirits" Saturday after passing a restful night, Vatican sources said Saturday.

The Pope showed "sudden improvement" following his first public appearance Friday since he became ill eight weeks ago, the source said.

The 78-year-old pontiff appeared at the window of his studio Friday for two minutes and 10 seconds to bless a huge crowd in St. Peter's Square beneath him.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

Today, we are practically floating in the clouds and the cause of it all is anticipation of one of the most beautiful sets for "Craig's Wife," yet to grace the Selman Field Playhouse stage.

Mrs. Robert C. Butz and Jerry Holzman, who are co-chairmen of the properties committee, were graciously given their pick of furniture from the D. & E. Furniture Store. They chose ultra, ultra modern furniture in blonde. Besides the beautiful furniture, the set will also have a swank television set and our thanks are due Walter Reed Refrigeration Co. for this appointment of the stage. Considering that the set has been painted in chartreuse and yellow, and has a marble staircase, in all probability this will be one of the most eye-enchanting plays of Little Theatre history.

Mrs. Nita Brinson will be back on the job for this production. She did a most note-worthy job of make-up for the last play "Be Your Age" and will hold down the job of make-up chairman for "Craig's Wife."

Thursday, March 25, is the opening date of "Craig's Wife" and it is scheduled to run through March 31. All Little Theatre members are urged to get their reservations in as early as possible. Little Theatre boxoffice opens Wednesday, March 24, and will be open daily throughout the run of the show from 2 until 7 p.m.

LAKE CHARLES, La., March 20 —UP—Two contested votes, ruled valid by the Calcasieu parish Police Jury, defeated a $200,000 road bond issue in ward five here.

Without the contested ballots, the measure would have passed by a slim margin in property valuation, with the voters also approving the measure 111 to 110.

One voter failed to sign a ballot and another voted property which he had recently sold. Both baliots were ruled valid and the measure failed on property valuation, $68,160 for to $72,625 against, although there were 113 votes for to only 110 against.

The two-day convention will be devoted to the development of the library in regards to the general community in which it serves.

The opening session of the meeting will be at 2 p.m. Thursday when David Clift, executive secretary of the American Library Association, speaks on "The American Library Association, the Library and Adult Education."

The keynote address will be given Thursday night by Emerson Greenaway, director of the Free Public Library of Philadelphia, where talk will outline the general theme of the meeting "The Essential Ingredient—An Informed Community." Prior to his appointment in 1951 to his present position, Greenaway was librarian of the Enoch Pratt Library in Baltimore, one of the most noteworthy institutions in the country. This particular library is known for its special collections and group services which were strengthened under the administration of Greenaway. One of the many additional programs developed under his leadership was the Atomic Energy Institute, now recognized throughout the country.

Friday the group will hold three discussions each dealing with specific phases of library work. Beginning at 9:30 a.m. the college and reference section, the Louisiana Association of School Libraries and the Public Library Section will discuss their various problems and ways of eliminating them. Friday night at 8 p.m. Edward Larocque Tinker, American novelist, biographer and historian, will be the principal speaker at which time he will talk on "The Gaucho in the Library." A translation of this book appeared last year under the title "Horsemen of the Americas and the Literatures They Inspired."

Dr. Tinker, an authority on the French period in Louisiana and particularly in New Orleans, has made a distinguished collection of the French imprints on the state. These were later given to the American Antiquarian Society of Worcester, Mass. The collection was the basis for his thesis entitled "Les Escrits de Langue Francaise en Louisiane," for which he received a doctorate at the Sarbonne in Paris in 1932. He has also written several other books about New Orleans, during this period.

Dr. Tinker was twice honored by the French government and is a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor. He has been awarded two medals by the French Academy and has lectured in Mexico and South America under the Auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and Department of State.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

Today, we are practically floating in the clouds and the cause of it all is anticipation of one of the most beautiful sets for "Craig's Wife," yet to grace the Selman Field Playhouse stage.

Mrs. Robert C. Butz and Jerry Holzman, who are co-chairmen of the properties committee, were graciously given their pick of furniture from the D. & E. Furniture Store. They chose ultra, ultra modern furniture in blonde. Besides the beautiful furniture, the set will also have a swank television set and our thanks are due Walter Reed Refrigeration Co. for this appointment of the stage. Considering that the set has been painted in chartreuse and yellow, and has a marble staircase, in all probability this will be one of the most eye-enchanting plays of Little Theatre history.

Mrs. Nita Brinson will be back on the job for this production. She did a most note-worthy job of make-up for the last play "Be Your Age" and will hold down the job of make-up chairman for "Craig's Wife."

Thursday, March 25, is the opening date of "Craig's Wife" and it is scheduled to run through March 31. All Little Theatre members are urged to get their reservations in as early as possible. Portland Police Seek Gunman Who Terrorized School In Kidnap Plot

PORTLAND, Ore., March 20 —UP—All available police were called Saturday to hunt down a tall, sharp-featured gunman who terrorized an exclusive private school and wounded a teacher in a futile attempt to kidnap a wealthy banker's son and hold him for $125,000 ransom.

Heroic efforts of the wounded teacher, the intended victim's mother and another teacher were credited by police with breaking up the reckless daylight attempt to kidnap 9-year-old George Brice III.

The Brice boy was unaware of the excitement until it was over. He was in the gymnasium behind the main school buildings.

Police picked up several men for questioning Friday night as they searched the fashionable North west Hills district, but all were released.

The gunman fled on foot after wounding Manvel Schauffler, 8th grade teacher and athletic instructor, in the finger and firing into a classroom. One shot narrowly missed Mrs Emma Lou Lawrence, Fifth Grade teachers, who tried to hold a classroom door against the intruder.

Schauffler spotted the man trying to break into the room and grappled with him. A shot struck him in the finger and he fell to the floor. Another shot went through the door and came so close to Mrs. Lawrence's head that she had splinters in her hair. He forced his way into the room but Mrs. Lawrence struck his arm and deflected a second shot.

The gunman then lost his nerve and fled.

Schauffler was modest about his efforts. He said he didn't know the gun was loaded when he tackled the assailant in the hallway.

School officials praised Mrs. Brice for her calmness. She remembered to take the keys to her car with her when she was forced to leave her maid, Lizzie Mae Brown, in the car after driving the gunman to the school from her home.

Mrs. Brice said she was convinced the man had an accomplice. He referred to "the boss" when he told her that he would accept $125,000 ransom, though his "boss" wanted $300,000.

Report On Pay Of State Lawmakers

BATON ROUGE, La., March 20 —UP—Louisiana, one of 17 states which still pays its legislators on a per diem basis, has joined "several other states" in providing an expense allowance, Public Affairs Research Council said today.

The 1952 legislature authorized an increased per diem pay and a $150 per month expense allowance for legislators between regular sessions. During the 60-day biennial session, legislators are paid $30 a day plus travel allowances.

PAR said changes have been "especially apparent in the creation and expansion of legislative service agencies, reduction in the number of standing committees, increase in legislators' pay and adoption of annual sessions," based on recommendations of the American political science association.

31 States Now Pay Legislators On Annual Basis

BATON ROUGE, March 20. (Special)—There are now 31 states which pay legislators on an annual basis, it was reported today by the Public Affairs Research Council (PAR).

Though Louisiana is one of the 17 states which still pays legislators on a per diem basis, it has joined "several other states" in providing an expense allowance, PAR said.

The 1952 Legislature authorized increased per diem pay and a $150 per month expense allowance for legislators between regular sessions. During the 60-day biennial sessions, legislators are paid $30 per day plus travel allowance.

In a review of legislative trends and reform recommendations of the American Political Science Association, PAR said in its monthly News Analysis changes have been "especially apparent in the creation and expansion of legislative service agencies, reduction in the number of standing committees, increase in legislators' pay, and adoption of annual sessions."

PAR said a special study group of the Political Science Association has made recommendations including:

1. Reapportionment of legislatures after each federal census by a special agency.
2. Reducing the size of legislative bodies.
3. Using annual sessions in populous states.
4. Increased pay and retirement benefits.
5. Training programs for new legislators.
6. Adoption of codes of ethics.
7. Revision of rules of procedure.
8. Use of permanent interim research groups.

Cotton Future Prices Firm In Week's Trading

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—Texas dust storms and the prospect of continued drouth throughout the Southwest cotton belt had a firming influence this week on cotton futures prices.

All deliveries traded on the New York Cotton Exchange moved higher, with net advances ranging from 15 cents to $1.75 a bale. Nearby May registered the smallest gain while the biggest advance was recorded by the distant July contract.

Also tending to bolster the market was the diminishing outlook for any system of flexible cotton crop price supports. Gains were held down in some instances by profit taking.

The government's latest official estimate of consumption, indicating a total use of 685,000 bales in February, was larger than the New York Cotton Exchange's earlier estimate of 665,000 bales but still somewhat disappointing.

3 Bear Cubs Found High Up In Tree

By MRS. ERLE REED
Tallulah Correspondent

TALLULAH, Mach 20 (Special) —A nest of three black bear cubs was found in Madison Parish during the earlier part of February and today the "threesome" is a much discussed subject throughout the parish.

A crew of eight timber cutters, employed by the Chicago Mill and Lumber Company in a swamp six miles west of Sondheimer, felled a tall cypress tree and heard the wail of the three small animals, not more than two or three days old. The cubs were in a hollow of the tree, 65 feet from its base.

R. L. Singleton brought the baby animals to his rooming house, intending to take them to his home in Mississippi. He found that he was prohibited from transporting them out of Louisiana by state law, and being unable to care for them, gave them to his landlord, Ollie L. Lott. Lott and his wife has kept the cubs in their living quarters at the rear of their grocery store in Tallulah.

They rave found that their newly acquired charges, weighing about one and a half pounds each at first and with eyes closed, presented more or less of a problem.

After two or three days, they learned to drink warm canned milk from a nursing bottle, four ounces at a feeding, three times a day and once at night. About 2:30 a.m. the foster parents were awakened by cries, which were only stopped by the night bottle. Weekly weighing has shown progressive gains, and to date the cubs tip the scales at 4, 4½, and 4¾ pounds, respectively.

Ike Confers With Military Leaders On Indo-China

WASHINGTON, March 20—UP—President Eisenhower conferred with his military and diplomatic high command on the Indo-China situation Saturday, apparently to prepare for talks next week with Gen. Paul Ely, chief of staff of the French armed forces.

The unscheduled White House meeting, attended by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, took place barely an hour before Ely arrived by plane from Paris.

Ely and Radford will meet with Mr. Eisenhower at 9:30 a. m. Monday. The French general also will have conferences with Dulles, Wilson and the joint chiefs of staff during his five-day visit.

Informed sources said Ely wants more U. S. planes, including B-26 bombers, C-119 transports and helicopters, to bolster French forces battling the Communists in Indo-China. He may also sound out U. S. officials on the possibility of sending more American Air Force technicians to Indo-China to service the planes. Some 250 American ground crew technicians already are on the scene.

On his arrival Ely expressed "great confidence in the course of the battle at Dien Bien Phu," the key French outpost that has been surrounded by the Communists.

"If the Viet Minh (Communist forces) continue to have the losses they are having there, I do not know how they can stay in the battle," he said.

State Department experts also expressed optimism about eventual victory in the raging battle for Dien Bien Phu.

They said nothing has developed in the Indo-China to alarm U. S. officials or to give a "crisis" aspect to Saturday's White House meeting.

Although U. S. leaders will be sympathetic to any French request for additional planes, they are unlikely to welcome the idea of sending more American technicians.

Portland Police Seek Gunman Who Terrorized School In Kidnap Plot

PORTLAND, Ore., March 20 —UP—All available police were called Saturday to hunt down a tall, sharp-featured gunman who terrorized an exclusive private school and wounded a teacher in a futile attempt to kidnap a wealthy banker's son and hold him for $125,000 ransom.

Heroic efforts of the wounded teacher, the intended victim's mother and another teacher were credited by police with breaking up the reckless daylight attempt to kidnap 9-year-old George Brice III.

The Brice boy was unaware of the excitement until it was over. He was in the gymnasium behind the main school buildings.

Police picked up several men for questioning Friday night as they searched the fashionable North west Hills district, but all were released.

The gunman fled on foot after wounding Manvel Schauffler, 8th grade teacher and athletic instructor, in the finger and firing into a classroom. One shot narrowly missed Mrs Emma Lou Lawrence, Fifth Grade teachers, who tried to hold a classroom door against the intruder.

Schauffler spotted the man trying to break into the room and grappled with him. A shot struck him in the finger and he fell to the floor. Another shot went through the door and came so close to Mrs. Lawrence's head that she had splinters in her hair. He forced his way into the room but Mrs. Lawrence struck his arm and deflected a second shot.

The gunman then lost his nerve and fled.

Schauffler was modest about his efforts. He said he didn't know the gun was loaded when he tackled the assailant in the hallway.

School officials praised Mrs. Brice for her calmness. She remembered to take the keys to her car with her when she was forced to leave her maid, Lizzie Mae Brown, in the car after driving the gunman to the school from her home.

Mrs. Brice said she was convinced the man had an accomplice. He referred to "the boss" when he told her that he would accept $125,000 ransom, though his "boss" wanted $300,000.

Report On Pay Of State Lawmakers

BATON ROUGE, La., March 20 —UP—Louisiana, one of 17 states which still pays its legislators on a per diem basis, has joined "several other states" in providing an expense allowance, Public Affairs Research Council said today.

The 1952 legislature authorized an increased per diem pay and a $150 per month expense allowance for legislators between regular sessions. During the 60-day biennial session, legislators are paid $30 a day plus travel allowances.

PAR said changes have been "especially apparent in the creation and expansion of legislative service agencies, reduction in the number of standing committees, increase in legislators' pay and adoption of annual sessions," based on recommendations of the American political science association.

31 States Now Pay Legislators On Annual Basis

BATON ROUGE, March 20. (Special)—There are now 31 states which pay legislators on an annual basis, it was reported today by the Public Affairs Research Council (PAR).

Though Louisiana is one of the 17 states which still pays legislators on a per diem basis, it has joined "several other states" in providing an expense allowance, PAR said.

The 1952 Legislature authorized increased per diem pay and a $150 per month expense allowance for legislators between regular sessions. During the 60-day biennial sessions, legislators are paid $30 per day plus travel allowance.

In a review of legislative trends and reform recommendations of the American Political Science Association, PAR said in its monthly News Analysis changes have been "especially apparent in the creation and expansion of legislative service agencies, reduction in the number of standing committees, increase in legislators' pay, and adoption of annual sessions."

PAR said a special study group of the Political Science Association has made recommendations including:

1. Reapportionment of legislatures after each federal census by a special agency.
2. Reducing the size of legislative bodies.
3. Using annual sessions in populous states.
4. Increased pay and retirement benefits.
5. Training programs for new legislators.
6. Adoption of codes of ethics.
7. Revision of rules of procedure.
8. Use of permanent interim research groups.

Cotton Future Prices Firm In Week's Trading

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—Texas dust storms and the prospect of continued drouth throughout the Southwest cotton belt had a firming influence this week on cotton futures prices.

All deliveries traded on the New York Cotton Exchange moved higher, with net advances ranging from 15 cents to $1.75 a bale. Nearby May registered the smallest gain while the biggest advance was recorded by the distant July contract.

Also tending to bolster the market was the diminishing outlook for any system of flexible cotton crop price supports. Gains were held down in some instances by profit taking.

The government's latest official estimate of consumption, indicating a total use of 685,000 bales in February, was larger than the New York Cotton Exchange's earlier estimate of 665,000 bales but still somewhat disappointing.

Policeman Fired For Taking Part In Crooked Game

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A city policeman resigned today after being arrested in a raid on a "crooked" gambling house.

Chief Joe Green announced the resignation of patrolman Paul Littlefield.

Littlefield, he said, was one of three arrested last night when city and state police broke up a "fast moving game in which crooked gambling paraphernalia was used and the suckers generally processed at one time." He joined the force two years ago.

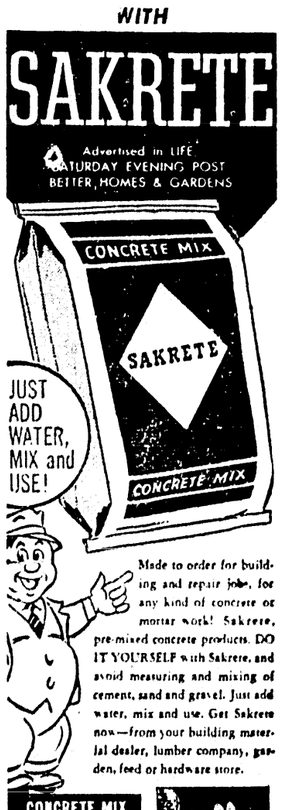

Also arrested and released on $200 bond on gambling charges were Jake Cheek and S. K. Thomas, both of Baton Rouge.

About a third of the area of the United States still is classified as forest.

R. Wilson, Calhoun, Is On LIPROA Board

BATON ROUGE, La., March 20—A group of Louisiana independent oil and gas producers, royalty and mineral owners have formed a new state-wide organization.

It is the Louisiana Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, with offices at 703 Louisiana National Bank Bldg., Baton Rouge.

Every parish in the state is expected to be represented in its membership and on important state wide committees to be appointed soon.

Elected as the first president of LIPRO was James M. Cunningham, a consulting geologist of Lafayette and a resident of Rayne. He was formerly state geologist for Louisiana and later an assistant to the former Conservation Commissioner Joe L. McHugh.

Other officers are Paul E. Parsons of Jennings, vice president, Rodgers S. Wilson of Calhoun, chairman of the executive committee, Warren S. Axtell of Lafayette, secretary, ad Charles E. Kelly, executive vice president and treasurer.

Royalty owners and independents in Louisiana have long felt the need for their own organization, Cunningham said. LIPRO is the first state-wide group dedicated solely to their interests, he said.

Virtually every landowner, whether or not his land produces at present, is eligible for membership in LIPRO, Cunningham pointed out. Membership is open to persons owning fractional interests in producing properties, as well as to independent producers with extensive holdings.

Major oil and gas companies and large integrated firms are excluded from membership.

Policeman Fired For Taking Part In Crooked Game

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A city policeman resigned today after being arrested in a raid on a "crooked" gambling house.

Chief Joe Green announced the resignation of patrolman Paul Littlefield.

Littlefield, he said, was one of three arrested last night when city and state police broke up a "fast moving game in which crooked gambling paraphernalia was used and the suckers generally processed at one time." He joined the force two years ago.

Also arrested and released on $200 bond on gambling charges were Jake Cheek and S. K. Thomas, both of Baton Rouge.

About a third of the area of the United States still is classified as forest.

R. Wilson, Calhoun, Is On LIPROA Board

BATON ROUGE, La., March 20—A group of Louisiana independent oil and gas producers, royalty and mineral owners have formed a new state-wide organization.

It is the Louisiana Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, with offices at 703 Louisiana National Bank Bldg., Baton Rouge.

Every parish in the state is expected to be represented in its membership and on important state wide committees to be appointed soon.

Elected as the first president of LIPRO was James M. Cunningham, a consulting geologist of Lafayette and a resident of Rayne. He was formerly state geologist for Louisiana and later an assistant to the former Conservation Commissioner Joe L. McHugh.

Other officers are Paul E. Parsons of Jennings, vice president, Rodgers S. Wilson of Calhoun, chairman of the executive committee, Warren S. Axtell of Lafayette, secretary, ad Charles E. Kelly, executive vice president and treasurer.

Royalty owners and independents in Louisiana have long felt the need for their own organization, Cunningham said. LIPRO is the first state-wide group dedicated solely to their interests, he said.

Virtually every landowner, whether or not his land produces at present, is eligible for membership in LIPRO, Cunningham pointed out. Membership is open to persons owning fractional interests in producing properties, as well as to independent producers with extensive holdings.

Major oil and gas companies and large integrated firms are excluded from membership.

PAR Reports On Earmarking Of State Beer Tax

BATON ROUGE, La., March 20 —UP—The Public Affairs Research Council said today that dedication of any portion of the beer tax would "decrease the amount of revenue which the state has available for the general cost of government."

PAR noted some 46 measures now under discussion for action by the legislature when it meets in May.

Dedication of part of the beer tax, mentioned as one means of financing a highway bond issue, last year provided some $5.2-million for the state general fund, PAR said.

Among other proposals under consideration are bond issues for state institutions and higher education and an increase in the 1.47 mill property tax which is dedicated in part to the $9.75-million institutions bond issue of last session.

PAR said, however, that any further dedication of the property tax would "prolong the gradual abandonment of the state property tax, as proposed by the governor."

Bonded state indebtedness stood at $212-million as of last June 30, PAR said. This figure does not include all bonds authorized by the 1952 legislature, since some of the bonds have not been issued yet.

Experimental Signs Tried On Highway

BATON ROUGE, La., March 20 —UP—Experimental signs designed to speed the flow of traffic at some intersections and traffic circles are being used on the circle south of here on an experimental basis.

The state highway department said the yellow "yield right of way" signs will instruct motorists entering the circle to yield to those already in the circle.

Highway officials said cars would not be required to stop if the circle is clear. The signs will replace stop signs at some intersections throughout the state highway system if they prove successful.

Citizens Group Of Library Body To Convene Here

Members of the statewide Citizens Library Movement will meet in Monroe, March 26 at 1:30 p. m., Sallie Farrell, executive secretary, has announced.

The meeting will take place at the Virginia Hotel during the annual convention of the Louisiana Library Association.

James L. Love of Hammond, president of the movement, will report progress on the movement's statewide campaign for endorsement of its 1954 goal of getting legislative funds for a new state library building in Baton Rouge.

Also scheduled for the meeting is adoption of the group's revised by-laws, Miss Farrell said.

Other officers of the citizens' library movement, besides Love and Miss Farrell, are Mrs. Fenn A. Leaming, of Mansfield, vice president; Mrs. George M. Lester, of Bains, secretary, C. Paul Phelps, of Ponchatoula, treasurer; and as directors, John Caffery, Franklin; Dr. Harriet Daggett, Baton Rouge; Mrs. Martha Robinson, New Orleans.

Field Service Worker For PTA Brings New Era

A new era in Parent - Teacher extension work was inaugurated in Louisiana, with the appointment of Mrs. L. P. Farmer, of New Orleans as a field service worker. Mrs. Farmer, a former teacher has done extensive work in P.-T. A. organization.

Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, state director of extension, said that added impetus will be given this phase of activity with the appointment of this capable worker. Mrs. DeFreese held consultation with Mrs. Farmer at the Virginia Hotel resently and outlined some of the most urgent areas of activity. Five years ago Mrs. DeFreese visioned the possibility of this ever-expanding program of P.-T. A. extension when she was elected state director. This dream has now become a reality.

Mrs. Farmer stated, "The nerve center of the P.-T. A. is its expanding membership. Consistently, for almost 31 years the Louisiana Parent - Teacher Association has sought to make this service available to all public schools. Yet, for all our efforts, many Louisiana schools are not realizing the benefits of this democratic organization. The P.-T. A. opens the way in every community through which the citizen develops an awareness of his civic responsibilities. The P.-T. A. is child - centered — activated principally by a sincere desire to improve the lot of children in every local community, in the nation, and in the world. All other objectives of the organization grow out of this fundamental concern.

The fruits of P.-T. A. endeavor are seen today throughout the entire state and nation. Without the P.-T. A. and its program many a community would be poorer today; with such a program many schools that do not have one would be richer. The P.-T. A. has stood behind the public schools in all attempts to improve its curriculum, practices, and techniques. It has joined with teachers to convince the general public of the need for better salaries, establish tenure, and retirement and to improve the welfare of teachers as individuals. It helps to bring about increased understanding, appreciation and support of public education. It helps prepare the community to accept and to understand educational advances and newer trends. In the last analysis the 'proof of the pudding is in the eating.' One may well inquire, what school does not need such services?"

Mrs. Farmer will tour the 16 districts in the state, completing the round in time to make a detailed report to the state convention, which will be held in Alexandria, April 22, 23, 24 at the Bentley Hotel.

Money accumulated from life memberships is to be used to further extension work in this state. A recognition service will be held for life members at the convention banquet, stated Mrs. DeFreese. The rapid increase of life members is attributed to the desire of directors to have this trained leadership of a field service worker.

War Heroine To Stay In U. S. If Congress Acts

BATON ROUGE, La., March 20 —UP—An attorney for Mrs. Joey Guerrero, Philippine war heroine, said here today he "feels certain" a private bill granting Mrs. Guerrero American citizenship will be passed by Congress, probably sometime this month.

The board of immigration appeal upheld Mrs. Guerrero's appeal for a stay from a deportation order, but the citizenship bill was upheld in committee pending submission of a medical report from the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital at Carville, La.

Mrs. Guerrero has been undergoing treatment for Hansen's disease at Carville and authorities there said she has responded to treatment and her disease has been arrested.

The attorney, Robert L. Kleinpeter, quoted Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-P) as saying he expects the private bill to pass "without any trouble" whenever the medical report is submitted and the bill again brought up.

During World War Two Mrs. Guerrero smuggled food and medicine to Americans interned or captured and imprisoned by the Japanese in the Philippines, and supplied military information to American troops.

Rep. James Morrison of Louisiana is sponsor of the bill.

JACK HOWARD

Jaycees To Plan For Campaign Of Jack Howard

A special session of the Louisiana Junior Chamber of Commerce has been called for Sunday, March 28, to draw up plans for the campaign of Jack Howard, Monroe businessman, who is an announced candidate for the presidency of the national organization. The meeting will be held in the Bentley Hotel in Alexandria at 1 p.m.

The announcement was made Saturday by Winston B. Linam, state president, in Shreveport.

Representatives from all 25 chapters of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Louisiana are expected to attend the meeting.

Election of the national Jaycee head will take place at the annual convention to be held in Colorado Springs, Colo., on June 18. Harry Stewart, Raleigh, N. C., Jaycee, presently serving as the U. S. Jaycee treasurer, is also a candidate for the position.

Howard is presently serving as national vice president in charge of the Junior Chamber's sports program.

"I hope to set up a schedule whereas I can visit every state Jaycee organization before convention time to present my platform," Howard said. He is in Michigan this week end visiting with the Junior Chamber of Commerce there.

"Howard has an exceptionally good chance of winning with already gaining the support of seven U. S. Jaycee vice - presidents throughout the U. S.," President Linam said. He also pointed out that the announcement of Howard's candidacy for the national post presents a fine opportunity to bring much prestige to Louisiana throughout the nation.

Linam will preside at the meeting next Sunday where different committees will be organized to get Howard's campaign underway. All Jaycees are urged to attend.

Groups Discuss Student - Nurse Recruitment

Representatives from several local clubs met March 16 at the Northwestern State College School of Nursing, Monroe division, E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital, for the purpose of discussing plans for student nurse recruitment week, which was set for March 21-March 27 and recently proclaimed state "Careers in Nursing Week" by Governor Robert F. Kennon.

The group consisted of Mrs. Kit Walters, president of the Monroe District Nurses' Association; Mrs. Paul Thompson, Monroe Quota Club; Mrs. C. Prentice Gray, nurse recruitment chairman of the women's auxiliary to the Ouachita Parish Medical Society; Miss Bess Sharp, executive secretary of the Y. W. C. A.; Miss Josephine Cascio of the Monroe District Nurses' Association; Mrs. H. B. Zeagler of the Monroe Council of Church Women; Miss Elizabeth Stenberg of the Monroe Business and Professional Women's Club, and Miss Dorothy Tayrien, state and district chairman of the committee on careers in nursing, Louisiana League for Nursing.

Prefacing the group's planning, Miss Tayrien said, "Stepped up student nurse recruitment measures are being planned by the state joint committee on careers in nursing, which has been enlarged recently to 20 members, consisting of representatives from the state department of institutions, Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs, American National Red Cross, Louisiana Council of Church Women, Louisiana State Medical Society, Women's Auxiliary to the Louisiana Medical Society, Louisiana Hospital Association, Louisiana Association of Student Nurses, Louisiana Health Council, and other groups.

"Agencies, clubs and organizations have been invited to nurse careers committee membership on a state and local basis to encourage lay group action and support in combating the nurse shortage that exists in Louisiana. Several student nurse recruitment lay groups are springing up spontaneously, such as the citizens's committee of the Caddo Parish Health Council."

"Activities planned and sponsored by community groups for the purpose of raising nurse scholarship and loan funds are being supported by state and local nurse careers committees as effective measures for encouraging qualified young people to enter nursing education programs."

"The Monroe Quota Club sponsorship of the Belhaven Chorale of the New Orleans Symphony Orchestra, March 23, for a Nurse Scholarship Fund, during this student nurse recruitment week, is highly commended. The Quota Club has sponsored several nurse scholarships in the past and has adopted this as one of its projects."

The group's planning included store window displays, radio and TV recruitment spots, announcement of a nurse scholarship award, presentation of a nurse loan fund, announcements . . . churches, a coke party for high school students at the Northwestern State College School of Nursing, sponsored by the Women's Medical Auxiliary and aided by the represented groups, a film showing on nursing as a career, tours of the E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital and School of Nursing and high school careers talks.

Three Catahoula Girls Competing For State Offices

JONESVILLE, March 20 (Special) — Three Catahoula parish girls have been nominated to compete for state offices in the Central District F. H. A. meeting scheduled in Natchitoches on April 3.

Ann Adams of Block High School was nominated to compete in the race for parliamentarian; Katherine Wright of Harrisonburg High School was selected to run for the state office of treasurer and Patricia Brooks, Sicily Island High School, will seek the office of state historian.

The central district nominating committee met in Natchitoches March 6, with the three Catahoula parish girls nominated at that time for the state offices.

A large delegation of Catahoula F. H. A. members and advisors are expected to attend the Natchitoches meeting, with parish F. H. A. members scheduled to participate in the program.

PAR Reports On Earmarking Of State Beer Tax

BATON ROUGE, La., March 20 —UP—The Public Affairs Research Council said today that dedication of any portion of the beer tax would "decrease the amount of revenue which the state has available for the general cost of government."

PAR noted some 46 measures now under discussion for action by the legislature when it meets in May.

Dedication of part of the beer tax, mentioned as one means of financing a highway bond issue, last year provided some $5.2-million for the state general fund, PAR said.

Among other proposals under consideration are bond issues for state institutions and higher education and an increase in the 1.47 mill property tax which is dedicated in part to the $9.75-million institutions bond issue of last session.

PAR said, however, that any further dedication of the property tax would "prolong the gradual abandonment of the state property tax, as proposed by the governor."

Bonded state indebtedness stood at $212-million as of last June 30, PAR said. This figure does not include all bonds authorized by the 1952 legislature, since some of the bonds have not been issued yet.

Experimental Signs Tried On Highway

BATON ROUGE, La., March 20 —UP—Experimental signs designed to speed the flow of traffic at some intersections and traffic circles are being used on the circle south of here on an experimental basis.

The state highway department said the yellow "yield right of way" signs will instruct motorists entering the circle to yield to those already in the circle.

Highway officials said cars would not be required to stop if the circle is clear. The signs will replace stop signs at some intersections throughout the state highway system if they prove successful.

In 1953 California grew about 2,449,000 tons of grapes valued at $107,223,000.

Vance Rhodes Wins First In Photo Contest

Vance Rhodes, West Monroe photographer, captured first place in the first monthly print competition of the Delta Camera Club of northeast Louisiana, which was held Friday night at a local camera shop, it was reported Saturday.

Dan Moreland and Allen Turpin tied for second place in the print contest — Moreland with a closeup shot of a laughing man and Turpin with a character study.

These pictures, as well as other photographs by the advanced amateurs, will be on display in the window of the camera store from March 22 to March 27 and in a local studio window from March 29 through April 2.

The Delta Camera Club holds monthly print competitions as well as semi-annual and annual competitions. Any photographs in this area interested in entering their pictures in the contests are urged to contact Allen Turpin, club secretary, at 414 Louisville avenue.

Citizens Group Of Library Body To Convene Here

Members of the statewide Citizens Library Movement will meet in Monroe, March 26 at 1:30 p. m., Sallie Farrell, executive secretary, has announced.

The meeting will take place at the Virginia Hotel during the annual convention of the Louisiana Library Association.

James L. Love of Hammond, president of the movement, will report progress on the movement's statewide campaign for endorsement of its 1954 goal of getting legislative funds for a new state library building in Baton Rouge.

Also scheduled for the meeting is adoption of the group's revised by-laws, Miss Farrell said.

Other officers of the citizens' library movement, besides Love and Miss Farrell, are Mrs. Fenn A. Leaming, of Mansfield, vice president; Mrs. George M. Lester, of Bains, secretary; C. Paul Phelps, of Ponchatoula, treasurer; and as directors, John Caffery, Franklin; Dr. Harriet Daggett, Baton Rouge; Mrs. Martha Robinson, New Orleans.

Field Service Worker For PTA Brings New Era

A new era in Parent - Teacher extension work was inaugurated in Louisiana, with the appointment of Mrs. L. P. Farmer, of New Orleans as a field service worker. Mrs. Farmer, a former teacher has done extensive work in P.-T. A. organization.

Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, state director of extension, said that added impetus will be given this phase of activity with the appointment of this capable worker. Mrs. DeFreese held consultation with Mrs. Farmer at the Virginia Hotel resently and outlined some of the most urgent areas of activity. Five years ago Mrs. DeFreese visioned the possibility of this ever-expanding program of P.-T. A. extension when she was elected state director. This dream has now become a reality.

Mrs. Farmer stated, "The nerve center of the P.-T. A. is its expanding membership. Consistently, for almost 31 years the Louisiana Parent - Teacher Association has sought to make this service available to all public schools. Yet, for all our efforts, many Louisiana schools are not realizing the benefits of this democratic organization. The P.-T. A. opens the way in every community through which the citizen develops an awareness of his civic responsibilities. The P.-T. A. is child - centered — activated principally by a sincere desire to improve the lot of children in every local community, in the nation, and in the world. All other objectives of the organization grow out of this fundamental concern.

The fruits of P.-T. A. endeavor are seen today throughout the entire state and nation. Without the P.-T. A. and its program many a community would be poorer today; with such a program many schools that do not have one would be richer. The P.-T. A. has stood behind the public schools in all attempts to improve its curriculum, practices, and techniques. It has joined with teachers to convince the general public of the need for better salaries, establish tenure, and retirement and to improve the welfare of teachers as individuals. It helps to bring about increased understanding, appreciation and support of public education. It helps prepare the community to accept and to understand educational advances and newer trends. In the last analysis the 'proof of the pudding is in the eating.' One may well inquire, what school does not need such services?"

Mrs. Farmer will tour the 16 districts in the state, completing the round in time to make a detailed report to the state convention, which will be held in Alexandria, April 22, 23, 24 at the Bentley Hotel.

Money accumulated from life memberships is to be used to further extension work in this state. A recognition service will be held for life members at the convention banquet, stated Mrs. DeFreese. The rapid increase of life members is attributed to the desire of directors to have this trained leadership of a field service worker.

War Heroine To Stay In U. S. If Congress Acts

BATON ROUGE, La., March 20 —UP—An attorney for Mrs. Joey Guerrero, Philippine war heroine, said here today he "feels certain" a private bill granting Mrs. Guerrero American citizenship will be passed by Congress, probably sometime this month.

The board of immigration appeal upheld Mrs. Guerrero's appeal for a stay from a deportation order, but the citizenship bill was upheld in committee pending submission of a medical report from the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital at Carville, La.

Mrs. Guerrero has been undergoing treatment for Hansen's disease at Carville and authorities there said she has responded to treatment and her disease has been arrested.

The attorney, Robert L. Kleinpeter, quoted Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-P) as saying he expects the private bill to pass "without any trouble" whenever the medical report is submitted and the bill again brought up.

During World War Two Mrs. Guerrero smuggled food and medicine to Americans interned or captured and imprisoned by the Japanese in the Philippines, and supplied military information to American troops.

Rep. James Morrison of Louisiana is sponsor of the bill.

JACK HOWARD

Jaycees To Plan For Campaign Of Jack Howard

A special session of the Louisiana Junior Chamber of Commerce has been called for Sunday, March 28, to draw up plans for the campaign of Jack Howard Monroe businessman, who is an announced candidate for the presidency of the national organization. The meeting will be held in the Bentley Hotel in Alexandria at 1 p.m.

The announcement was made Saturday by Winston B. Linam, state president, in Shreveport.

Representatives from all 25 chapters of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Louisiana are expected to attend the meeting.

Election of the national Jaycee head will take place at the annual convention to be held in Colorado Springs, Colo., on June 18. Harry Stewart, Raleigh, N. C., Jaycee, presently serving as the U. S. Jaycee treasurer, is also a candidate for the posjtion.

Howard is presently serving as national vice president in charge of the Junior Chamber's sports program.

"I hope to set up a schedule whereas I can visit every state Jaycee organization before convention time to present my platform," Howard said. He is in Michigan this week end visiting with the Junior Chamber of Commerce there.

"Howard has an exceptionally good chance of winning with already gaining the support of seven U. S. Jaycee vice - presidents throughout the U. S.," President Linam said. He also pointed out that the announcement of Howard's candidacy for the national post presents a fine opportunity to bring much prestige to Louisiana throughout the nation.

Linam will preside at the meeting next Sunday where different committees will be organized to get Howard's campaign underway. All Jaycees are urged to attend.

Groups Discuss Student - Nurse Recruitment

Representatives from several local clubs met March 16 at the Northwestern State College School of Nursing, Monroe division, E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital, for the purpose of discussing plans for student nurse recruitment week, which was set for March 21-March 27 and recently proclaimed state "Careers in Nursing Week" by Governor Robert F. Kennon.

The group consisted of Mrs. Kit Walters, president of the Monroe District Nurses' Association; Mrs. Paul Thompson, Monroe Quota Club; Mrs. C. Prentice Gray, nurse recruitment chairman of the women's auxiliary to the Ouachita Parish Medical Society; Miss Bess Sharp, executive secretary of the Y. W. C. A.; Miss Josephine Cascio of the Monroe District Nurses' Association; Mrs. H. B. Zeagler of the Monroe Council of Church Women; Miss Elizabeth Stenberg of the Monroe Business and Professional Women's Club, and Miss Dorothy Tayrien, state and district chairman of the committee on careers in nursing, Louisiana League for Nursing.

Prefacing the group's planning, Miss Tayrien said, "Stepped up student nurse recruitment measures are being planned by the state joint committee on careers in nursing, which has been enlarged recently to 20 members, consisting of representatives from the state department of institutions, Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs, American National Red Cross, Louisiana Council of Church Women, Louisiana State Medical Society, Women's Auxiliary to the Louisiana Medical Society, Louisiana Hospital Association, Louisiana Association of Student Nurses, Louisiana Health Council, and other groups.

"Agencies, clubs and organizations have been invited to nurse careers committee membership on a state and local basis to encourage lay group action and support in combating the nurse shortage that exists in Louisiana. Several student nurse recruitment lay groups are springing up spontaneously, such as the citizens's committee of the Caddo Parish Health Council."

"Activities planned and sponsored by community groups for the purpose of raising nurse scholarship and loan funds are being supported by state and local nurse careers committees as effective measures for encouraging qualified young people to enter nursing education programs."

"The Monroe Quota Club sponsorship of the Belhaven Chorale of the New Orleans Symphony Orchestra, March 23, for a Nurse Scholarship Fund, during this student nurse recruitment week, is highly commended. The Quota Club has sponsored several nurse scholarships in the past and has adopted this as one of its projects."

The group's planning included store window displays, radio and TV recruitment spots, announcement of a nurse scholarship award, presentation of a nurse loan fund, announcements [illegible] churches, a coke party for high school students at the Northwestern State College School of Nursing, sponsored by the Women's Medical Auxiliary and aided by the represented groups, a film showing on nursing as a career, tours of the E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital and School of Nursing and high school careers talks.

Annoyed by signs on many ancient Connecticut houses proclaiming "Washington slept here," one citizen posted a sign: "Washington Would Have Stopped Here If He Had Come This Way."

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The Twin City Sports will "sink or swim" with the kind of support the baseball fans give them. Right now they are needing expressions of that support in the purchase of advanced tickets for the approaching Cotton States League season.

Three hundred and thirty persons, including baseball enthusiasts as far away at Arkansas and Mississippi, subscribed around $20,000 in stock to save baseball for the Twin Cities, but a lot of that money has already been spent, and, before the season opener April 27 at El Dorado and the home opener here April 29, not much of that amount is going to be left, if any.

That's why the club is driving for the sale of 3,000 books of tickets in advance of the season opener. These books, containing 20 tickets good for any home games on the Sports' schedule except the annual Legion Night contest, cover one third of the season's 60 home games scheduled for Legion Memorial Stadium. If 3,000 books can be sold, that will actually amount to 60,000 total admissions, enough, according to early figuring, to assure the Sports of a financially successful season.

Early sales will also mean early cash to work with in bringing Monroe, West Monroe and northeast Louisiana the better ball players the Sports organization may be able to purchase. With cash available, the club can afford to spend a little more money to acquire a few key players to go along with what rookie talent or limited-service players that can be obtained as free agents. If the early working capital is not available, then we'll have to hope and pray that the ball players we are able to get prove to be beyond our expectations and furnish us with a championship contender.

Without the kind of talent it will take money to acquire, we'll be fortunate indeed if we make the first division. Depending on footloose players that nobody else wants will mean poor ball games, small attendance, a losing financial venture, and you can just kiss baseball goodbye for 1955.

Given a chance to go out and bid for the kind of players we need can mean a contender from the start. Once we can show the Sports can make a good race, the fans (that were lost last year when Shreveport controlled the club) will come back. We've heard folks say this is a dead town, that Monroe won't support baseball, that West Monroe is not interested in professional baseball. Our answer is that it's a rare city anywhere in the country that will support a team that's losing to the satisfaction of the men paying the bills, and that the same cities can become baseball conscious to a fever pitch if you give them a winner. Monroe and West Monroe can and will support a winner, but you've got to have the right kind of players to get the customers interested.

Baseball in the Twin Cities today becomes a civic enterprise. The club is owned by, in the majority, Twin City men and women. They put up the money to keep baseball here, and they don't expect to get back a dime for their investments, but they do want to break even. The fans who couldn't see their way clear to buy stock (still available at $25 a share) are the ones who now must shoulder the load of seeing that the franchise isn't forfeited by making their dollars felt at the turnstiles.

The housewife who doesn't care for baseball but would like a quiet evening at home after watching after the kids all day can still help by encouraging hubby to take the kids to the ball games. A new edict of the club says all children 12 years old and under will be admitted free with a parent. Better still, mom is welcome too. She can share the tickets in pop's book.

These ticket books we've been talking about are on sale for $14.40 each . . . that's 20 games for $14.40, representing a saving of $1.60 if you were buying the tickets a game at a time. Actually, by owning a book, you get to see two games free. The ticket books are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce, Adler Tire Company, Calvert's Drugs, Gay Clothing, Lockhart Sports Shop, Hunt and Whitaker's, and Frey's Pharmacy. Patrons who may not have the opportunity to to telephone 3-9461 or 3-8805, and mail service will be provided, or Manager Ed Head has declared he will deliver the books personally anywhere in the Twin Cities.

Bolt, Mayer Cling To Four-Ball Margin

Holscher, Rosburg Stroke Off; Haas, Wall Running 3rd

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Tommy Bolt and Dick Mayer clung grimly to their one stroke lead in the $15,000 International Four-Ball Golf Tournament today, fighting off a spirited bid for first place by two young Californians, Bud Holscher and Bob Rosburg.

Holscher, the 23-year-old Santa Monica sharpshooter, and his San Francisco partner, Rosburg, matched the lead temporarily on today's front nine as Bolt, the stormy Texan, and Mayer, the St. Petersburg, Fla., star, skidded to sixth place.

But Mayer splashed the hottest golfing streak of the tournament on the homestretch and lifted himself and his partner back up to the top of the standings.

Mayer and Bolt managed only a single birdie between them as they took 35 strokes on the first nine, but Mayer's brilliance on the tough back nine gave them a 6-under-par 30 for a 54-hole best-ball total of 193. With one round to go, they were 23 strokes under par for the Normandy Shores course.

Holscher carried the load for his team, shooting five birdies as the west coast contenders went out in 31. They came back in 34 for a total of 194 and stood in position to strike for the $3,000 top prize in tomorrow's final round.

Five teams were jammed up in a third-place tie at 195 and three more were deadlocked at 196. Ten teams were four strokes or less behind the leaders and any of these combinations could take charge in the last round.

The veteran Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, and his partner, Skip Alexander, St. Petersburg, Fla., made a menacing gesture on today's front nine when they birdied five consecutive holes from the third through the seventh and turned in 30, six under par. They took 33 on the back nine for a total of 195.

Chick Harbert, Northville, Mich., and Walter Burkemo, Franklin, Mich., also went out in 30 but faultered to take 34 on the back nine and wind up the day in the third place group with 195.

SUPPORT THE SPORTS—This isn't the latest battery for the Twin Cities Sports, but the girls are lending Manager Ed Head a hand in trying to put across the advanced sale of season book tickets (20 to a book for any home game except Legion Night) for the Sports' Cotton States League games here this season. The "catcher" is Barbara Sue Ford and the "batter" is Ellen Browne. Manager Head, a la umpire, waves a fistful of his ticket books.

Indian-Cronin Return Mat Feature Tuesday

Once again a three-match wrestling program is slated for Gus Kallio's Walnut Street Arena Tuesday night, headed by a return bout between Indian Chief Apache and "Big Boy" Cronin. Rex Mobley takes his crack at big Charro Aztec in the semi-final; and the opener pits Al Massey against Paddy Mack.

In the two-falls-to-win main, the Chief will be out to rectify an unpopular loss to the villainous Cronin in their feature fight last Tuesday, in which the former was hampered all the way by the "Big Boy's" usual fouling.

Cronin pulled on the Indian's long braids like he was a ringing a bell, and at one time even wrapped them around his hand for a better pulling power. On top of these illegal tactics, he slugged, gouged, kicked and banged Apache's head in the corner, all of which had the clean-styled Apache in a frenzy, chasing Cronin around the ring, stalking more than wrestling, and, turning the tables at one time on Cronin's corner punishment.

Hampered throughout by the villain's style, Apache was unable to fight his usual smooth match, and lost the first and third falls only after being illegally sapped, or mad enough to become careless.

Aztec has lost on successive weeks in the one-hour time limit, one-fall semi tussle to Cronin and Massey, neither of which was a clear-cut wrestling match. Cronin slugged the big Mexican into submissiveness two weeks ago, and Massey won last week when Aztec was disqualified. The semi Tuesday night should be a bona fide hero vs. villain match, for the Mex is a villain from 'way back, and Mobley is a legal, scientific grappler. However, it must be remembered that Rex, when pushed too far, can hold his own with any illegal tactics, such as he did two weeks ago in his match with Massey, which had the crowd on its feet throughout. Mobley, tired of Massey's fouls, turned tiger and their match was an action-packed thriller from then on.

Mack, who showed plenty of ability and experience in his win over Bill Barney last week, meets a "horse of a different color" Tuesday, in big Al. For Massey, an experienced veteran himself, not only can more-than-match any Mack style, but knows a few tricks that Mack may never have seen. The Bostoner, who was only able to beat Barney by using illegal tactics to make Bill so irate he threw caution to the winds, will get just as much as he dishes out Tuesday, and probably more.

The first match is scheduled for 8:15, and Barney is slated to assume his usual officiating role for all bouts.

Sain Inks '54 Yank Contract; Takes Workout

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Johnny Sain signed his New York Yankee baseball contract today and took his first workout after ending his brief retirement.

The veteran righthanded pitcher said he had gotten a lifelong friend to take over his newly acquired automobile agency at Walnut Ridge, Ark., and declared his main interest until October was to help the Yankees win their sixth straight pennant and World Series.

Sain said he had thrown "six or eight times back home in Arkansas and felt it would take him about 10 days to get into pitching shape.

Sain reportedly got an $8,000 increase to boost his salary to $30,000.

Braves Advance Ducat Sale Past 1,000,000 Mark

MILWAUKEE, March 20 (AP)—Ticket director Bill Eberly of the Milwaukee Braves proudly reported today that advance ticket sales have passed the million mark and are still "moving along."

Advance sales now stand at 1,040,000.

Mail orders for Braves' home games this summer have come in heavily from Wisconsin cities outside Milwaukee and such neighboring Illinois cities as Rockford and Chicago, Eberly said. Recent orders also have come from more distant points such as Omaha, Neb., Virginia, Minn., and Portland, Ore.

Braves' fans set a new National League attendance record of 1,826,397 last year in the team's initial season at Milwaukee. The hope this year is for a total gate in excess of two million, since 4,000 new seats are in the works to boost the Milwaukee Stadium's capacity to 40,000.

Brazen Brat Cops Opening Feature At Laurel Track

LAUREL, Md., March 20 (AP)—Brazen Brat and Maryland racing staged successful 1954 debuts today as the 6-year-old mare won the Capitol Handicap before a record opening crowd of 22,365 at Laurel.

Mrs. Samuel Pistorio's horse led 10 others all the way of the three-quarter mile race in warm, windy weather. The crowd was 477 more than the previous first day Laurel record set two years ago.

As far as jockey Nick Shuk was concerned, Brazen Brat's victory came in the nick of time. After he dismounted, doctors made him cancel scheduled rides in the last two races because he had been complaining of pains in the side.

Brazen Brat picked up right where she left off last year when she won her last two starts before taking a winter rest.

She repulsed a constant challenge throughout the race by A. H. Bowen's Sweet Vermouth to finish a length and a quarter in front in 1:13 1-5. The victory started off her fifth year of racing with $7,900 in the bank.

Her supporters at the $2 mutuel windows got back $8.20, $4.80, and $3.80.

Another female entry, Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Cerise Reine, took the bulk of the betting. She went off the $2.60 to $2 favorite and finished next to last.

While Brazen Brat and Sweet Vermouth fought it out right down to the finish Felipe Baldi's Dinner Winner came up to take third place 2½ lengths away from the winner.

The racing was the first of 19 days at Laurel and started 231 days and nights of the sport this year in Maryland. Today's opening was the earliest in the state's racing history.

Legion Baseball At Bastrop Due To Get Underway

BASTROP, La., March 20 (Special)—A meeting of persons interested in the American Legion baseball program will probably be called sometime next week. Sheriff Bob Harp said today.

Managers for the team will be selected and any other business to come before the meeting will be discussed at that time. The program is scheduled to get underway soon after the completion of the high school baseball schedule.

Sheriff Harp also stated that there will be a district meeting in Monroe, probably sometime in April, for the purpose of mapping schedules and registering teams.

Last year teams were entered from Bastrop, Monroe, Ruston, Farmerville, Winnsboro, and Rayville.

West Monroe will reenter a team this year since acquiring their new high school.

It is presumed that last year's teams will again be entered and that the league will probably be composed of six or eight teams.

Correlation, With Shoemaker Up, 1st In Florida Derby

MIAMI, Fla., March 20 (AP)—The California combination of Correlation and jockey Willie Shoemaker won the $146,250 Florida Derby before a record crowd of 31,764 at Gulfstream Park today.

Correlation, carrying 119 pounds, ran the mile and a furlong in 1:55 1-5 over a heavy track and whipped Woodvale farm's Goyamo, 2-1 favorite ridden by Eddie Arcaro, by a length in a driving finish.

Cain Hoy stable's Big Crest, with Henry Moreno up, was third and Joe W. Brown's Gigantic finished fourth in the field of 17 speedy 3-year-olds.

Correlation paid $17.20, $6.60 and $5.30 while Goyamo returned $4.20 and $3.80. Big Crest paid $6.50 to show.

The big crowd poured $312,135 through the betting machines on the Derby, largest single handle of any race in Gulfstream Park's history.

Correlation, owned by Robert S. Lytle of Los Angeles and flown here for the big race, broke 11th and dropped to 13th as they passed the clubhouse turn while Hasty House farm's Sea O Erin set the early pace and H. H. Mundy's Sir Chris pressed him for the lead with W. Maggin Perry's Remand running third at that point and Main Chance farm's Black Metal fourth.

Sea O Erin continued to lead until they neared the stretch while Black Metal, who had moved to second, dropped back and Correlation came on to take second two lengths behind the leaders.

Goyamo, a noted late finisher, had come from 14th and took the lead briefly at the head of the stretch but hung and Correlation sped past him 70 yards from the end.

Shoemaker brought Correlation between horses to gain his advantage on the turn for home, moving up from seventh.

Next Page, an entry with Gayamo, finished fifth, followed by Circle K farm's Mighty Ike.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The Twin City Sports will "sink or swim" with the kind of support the baseball fans give them. Right now they are needing expressions of that support in the purchase of advanced tickets for the approaching Cotton States League season.

Three hundred and thirty persons, including baseball enthusiasts as far away at Arkansas and Mississippi, subscribed around $20,000 in stock to save baseball for the Twin Cities, but a lot of that money has already been spent, and, before the season opener April 27 at El Dorado and the home opener here April 29, not much of that amount is going to be left, if any.

That's why the club is driving for the sale of 3,000 books of tickets in advance of the season opener. These books, containing 20 tickets good for any home games on the Sports' schedule except the annual Legion Night contest, cover one third of the season's 60 home games scheduled for Legion Memorial Stadium. If 3,000 books can be sold, that will actually amount to 60,000 total admissions, enough, according to early figuring, to assure the Sports of a financially successful season.

Early sales will also mean early cash to work with in bringing Monroe, West Monroe and northeast Louisiana the better ball players the Sports organization may be able to purchase. With cash available, the club can afford to spend a little more money to acquire a few key players to go along with what rookie talent or limited-service players that can be obtained as free agents. If the early working capital is not available, then we'll have to hope and pray that the ball players we are able to get prove to be beyond our expectations and furnish us with a championship contender.

Without the kind of talent it will take money to acquire, we'll be fortunate indeed if we make the first division. Depending on footloose players that nobody else wants will mean poor ball games, small attendance, a losing financial venture, and you can just kiss baseball goodbye for 1955.

Given a chance to go out and bid for the kind of players we need can mean a contender from the start. Once we can show the Sports can make a good race, the fans (that were lost last year when Shreveport controlled the club) will come back. We've heard folks say this is a dead town, that Monroe won't support baseball, that West Monroe is not interested in professional baseball. Our answer is that it's a rare city anywhere in the country that will support a team that's losing to the satisfaction of the men paying the bills, and that the same cities can become baseball conscious to a fever pitch if you give them a winner. Monroe and West Monroe can and will support a winner, but you've got to have the right kind of players to get the customers interested.

Baseball in the Twin Cities today becomes a civic enterprise. The club is owned by, in the majority, Twin City men and women. They put up the money to keep baseball here, and they don't expect to get back a dime for their investments, but they do want to break even. The fans who couldn't see their way clear to buy stock (still available at $25 a share) are the ones who now must shoulder the load of seeing that the franchise isn't forfeited by making their dollars felt at the turnstiles.

The housewife who doesn't care for baseball but would like a quiet evening at home after watching after the kids all day can still help by encouraging hubby to take the kids to the ball games. A new edict of the club says all children 12 years old and under will be admitted free with a parent. Better still, mom is welcome too. She can share the tickets in pop's book.

These ticket books we've been talking about are on sale for $14.40 each . . . that's 20 games for $14.40, representing a saving of $1.60 if you were buying the tickets a game at a time. Actually, by owning a book, you get to see two games free. The ticket books are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce, Adler Tire Company, Calvert's Drugs, Gay Clothing, Lockhart Sports Shop, Hunt and Whitaker's, and Frey's Pharmacy. Patrons who may not have the opportunity to to telephone 3-9461 or 3-8805, and mail service will be provided, or Manager Ed Head has declared he will deliver the books personally anywhere in the Twin Cities.

Bolt, Mayer Cling To Four-Ball Margin

Holscher, Roshburg Stroke Off; Haas, Wall Running 3rd

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Tommy Bolt and Dick Mayer clung grimly to their one stroke lead in the $15,000 International Four-Ball Golf Tournament today, fighting off a spirited bid for first place by two young Californians, Bud Holscher and Bob Rosburg.

Holscher, the 23-year-old Santa Monica sharpshooter, and his San Francisco partner, Rosburg, matched the lead temporarily on today's front nine as Bolt, the stormy Texan, and Mayer, the St. Petersburg, Fla., star, skidded to sixth place.

But Mayer splashed the hottest golfing streak of the tournament on the homestretch and lifted himself and his partner back up to the top of the standings.

Mayer and Bolt managed only a single birdie between them as they took 35 strokes on the first nine, but Mayer's brilliance on the tough back nine gave them a 6-under-par 30 for a 54-hole best-ball total of 193. With one round to go, they were 23 strokes under par for the Normandy Shores course.

Holscher carried the load for his team, shooting five birdies as the west coast contenders went out in 31. They came back in 34 for a total of 194 and stood in position to strike for the $3,000 top prize in tomorrow's final round.

Five teams were jammed up in a third-place tie at 195 and three more were deadlocked at 196. Ten teams were four strokes or less behind the leaders and any of these combinations could take charge in the last round.

The veteran Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, and his partner, Skip Alexander, St. Petersburg, Fla., made a menacing gesture on today's front nine when they birdied five consecutive holes from the third through the seventh and turned in 30, six under par. They took 33 on the back nine for a total of 195.

Chick Harbert, Northville, Mich., and Walter Burkemo, Franklin, Mich., also went out in 30 but faultered to take 34 on the back nine and wind up the day in the third place group with 195.

SUPPORT THE SPORTS—This isn't the latest battery for the Twin Cities Sports, but the girls are lending Manager Ed Head a hand in trying to put across the advanced sale of season book tickets (20 to a book for any home game except Legion Night) for the Sports' Cotton States League games here this season. The "catcher" is Barbara Sue Ford and the "batter" is Ellen Browne. Manager Head, a la umpire, waves a fistful of his ticket books.

Indian-Cronin Return Mat Feature Tuesday

Once again a three-match wrestling program is slated for Gus Kallio's Walnut Street Arena Tuesday night, headed by a return bout between Indian Chief Apache and "Big Boy" Cronin. Rex Mobley takes his crack at big Charro Aztec in the semi-final; and the opener pits Al Massey against Paddy Mack.

In the two-falls-to-win main, the Chief will be out to rectify an unpopular loss to the villainous Cronin in their feature fight last Tuesday, in which the former was hampered all the way by the "Big Boy's" usual fouling.

Cronin pulled on the Indian's long braids like he was a ringing a bell, and at one time even wrapped them around his hand for a better pulling power. On top of these illegal tactics, he slugged, gouged, kicked and banged Apache's head in the corner, all of which had the clean-styled Apache in a frenzy, chasing Cronin around the ring, stalking more than wrestling, and, turning the tables at one time on Cronin's corner punishment.

Hampered throughout by the villain's style, Apache was unable to fight his usual smooth match, and lost the first and third falls only after being illegally sapped, or mad enough to become careless.

Aztec has lost on successive weeks in the one-hour time limit, one-fall semi tussle to Cronin and Massey, neither of which was a clear-cut wrestling match. Cronin slugged the big Mexican into submissiveness two weeks ago, and Massey won last week when Aztec was disqualified. The semi Tuesday night should be a bona fide hero vs. villain match, for the Mex is a villain from 'way back, and Mobley is a legal, scientific grappler. However, it must be remembered that Rex, when pushed too far, can hold his own with any illegal tactics, such as he did two weeks ago in his match with Massey, which had the crowd on its feet throughout. Mobley, tired of Massey's fouls, turned tiger and their match was an action-packed thriller from then on.

Mack, who showed plenty of ability and experience in his win over Bill Barney last week, meets a "horse of a different color" Tuesday, in big Al. For Massey, an experienced veteran himself, not only can more-than-match any Mack style, but knows a few tricks that Mack may never have seen. The Bostoner, who was only able to beat Barney by using illegal tactics to make Bill so irate he threw caution to the winds, will get just as much as he dishes out Tuesday, and probably more.

The first match is scheduled for 8:15, and Barney is slated to assume his usual officiating role for all bouts.

Sain Inks '54 Yank Contract; Takes Workout

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Johnny Sain signed his New York Yankee baseball contract today and took his first workout after ending his brief retirement.

The veteran righthanded pitcher said he had gotten a lifelong friend to take over his newly acquired automobile agency at Walnut Ridge, Ark., and declared his main interest until October was to help the Yankees win their sixth straight pennant and World Series.

Sain said he had thrown "six or eight times back home in Arkansas and felt it would take him about 10 days to get into pitching shape.

Sain reportedly got an $8,000 increase to boost his salary to $30,000.

Braves Advance Ducat Sale Past 1,000,000 Mark

MILWAUKEE, March 20 (AP)—Ticket director Bill Eberly of the Milwaukee Braves proudly reported today that advance ticket sales have passed the million mark and are still "moving along."

Advance sales now stand at 1,040,000.

Mail orders for Braves' home games this summer have come in heavily from Wisconsin cities outside Milwaukee and such neighboring Illinois cities as Rockford and Chicago, Eberly said. Recent orders also have come from more distant points such as Omaha, Neb., Virginia, Minn., and Portland, Ore.

Braves' fans set a new National League attendance record of 1,826,397 last year in the team's initial season at Milwaukee. The hope this year is for a total gate in excess of two million, since 4,000 new seats are in the works to boost the Milwaukee Stadium's capacity to 40,000.

Brazen Brat Cops Opening Feature At Laurel Track

LAUREL, Md., March 20 (AP)—Brazen Brat and Maryland racing staged successful 1954 debuts today as the 6-year-old mare won the Capitol Handicap before a record opening crowd of 22,365 at Laurel.

Mrs. Samuel Pistorio's horse led 10 others all the way of the three-quarter mile race in warm, windy weather. The crowd was 477 more than the previous first day Laurel record set two years ago.

As far as jockey Nick Shuk was concerned, Brazen Brat's victory came in the nick of time. After he dismounted, doctors made him cancel scheduled rides in the last two races because he had been complaining of pains in the side.

Brazen Brat picked up right where she left off last year when she won her last two starts before taking a winter rest.

She repulsed a constant challenge throughout the race by A. H. Bowen's Sweet Vermouth to finish a length and a quarter in front in 1:13 1-5. The victory started off her fifth year of racing with $7,900 in the bank.

Her supporters at the $2 mutuel windows got back $8.20, $4.80, and $3.80.

Another female entry, Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Cerise Reine, took the bulk of the betting. She went off the $2.60 to $2 favorite and finished next to last.

While Brazen Brat and Sweet Vermouth fought it out right down to the finish Felipe Baldi's Dinner Winner came up to take third place 2½ lengths away from the winner.

The racing was the first of 19 days at Laurel and started 231 days and nights of the sport this year in Maryland. Today's opening was the earliest in the state's racing history.

Legion Baseball At Bastrop Due To Get Underway

BASTROP, La., March 20 (Special)—A meeting of persons interested in the American Legion baseball program will probably be called sometime next week, Sheriff Bob Harp said today.

Managers for the team will be selected and any other business to come before the meeting will be discussed at that time. The program is scheduled to get underway soon after the completion of the high school baseball schedule.

Sheriff Harp also stated that there will be a district meeting in Monroe, probably sometime in April, for the purpose of mapping schedules and registering teams.

Last year teams were entered from Bastrop, Monroe, Ruston, Farmerville, Winnsboro, and Rayville.

West Monroe will reenter a team this year since acquiring their new high school.

It is presumed that last year's teams will again be entered and that the league will probably be composed of six or eight teams.

Correlation, With Shoemaker Up, 1st In Florida Derby

MIAMI, Fla., March 20 (AP)—The California combination of Correlation and jockey Willie Shoemaker won the $146,250 Florida Derby before a record crowd of 31,764 at Gulfstream Park today.

Correlation, carrying 119 pounds, ran the mile and a furlong in 1:55 1-5 over a heavy track and whipped Woodvale farm's Goyamo, 2-1 favorite ridden by Eddie Arcaro, by a length in a driving finish.

Cain Hoy stable's Big Crest, with Henry Moreno up, was third and Joe W. Brown's Gigantic finished fourth in the field of 17 speedy 3-year-olds.

Correlation paid $17.20, $6.60 and $5.30 wrile Goyamo returned $4.20 and $3.80. Big Crest paid $6.50 to show.

The big crowd poured $312,135 through the betting machines on the Derby, largest single handle of any race in Gulfstream Park's history.

Correlation, owned by Robert S. Lytle of Los Angeles and flown here for the big race, broke 11th and dropped to 13th as they passed the clubhouse turn while Hasty House farm's Sea O Erin set the early pace and H. H. Mundy's Sir Chris pressed him for the lead with W. Maggin Perry's Remand running third at that point and Main Chance farm's Black Metal fourth.

Sea O Erin continued to lead until they neared the stretch while Black Metal, who had moved to second, dropped back and Correlation came on to take second two lengths behind the leaders.

Goyamo, a noted late finisher, had come from 14th and took the lead briefly at the head of the stretch but hung and Correlation sped past him 70 yards from the end.

Shoemaker brought Correlation between horses to gain his advantage on the turn for home, moving up from seventh.

Next Page, an entry with Gayamo, finished fifth, followed by Circle K farm's Mighty Ike.

Black Metal faded to seventh at the finish, followed by home by Sea O Erin, Remand, Pinetum, Marahajah, Our Gob, Pat Thompson, Mr. Jett, Sir Chris and Red Red Robin.

Cage Coaches Vote To Revamp 1-And-1 Foul Rule

Approve Premium On Marksmanship Over Inaccuracy

By SKIPPER PATRICK

KANSAS CITY, March 20 (AP)—The National Association of Basketball Coaches today voted to revamp the one-and-one free throw rule to put the premium on good shooting rather than inaccuracy.

The recommendation that goes to the national rules committee tomorrow gives the fouled player a second, or bonus shot, if the first shot is made. If the first shot is missed, the ball remains in play.

The present rule allows a second free throw if the first is missed.

Floyd S. Stahl, chairman of the rules recommendation committee explained the proposal, made by coach John Bunn of Springfield (Mass.) College would again make basketball a 40-minute game.

If passed by the rules committee, the automatic two free throws in the last three minutes would be eliminated.

The coaches voted yesterday to ask the rules committee to eliminate the quarter system in favor of two halves, thus cutting down on the number of stalls.

Bunn's proposal was accepted by unanimous vote. It would apply only to common fouls.

Infractions while a player was in the act of shooting would still draw two free throws.

Coach Eddie Hickey of St. Louis University, retiring president of the association, pointed out the new proposal would keep the players "working all the time."

"Under the present rule everybody except the shooter can walk away from the scene of activity on the first shot of a common foul," Hickey said. "If Bunn's proposal becomes the rule then everybody has to line up because that first toss might be missed."

The coaches recommended the present one-and-one rule two years ago. There's a good chance they will get it remodeled by the rules committee tomorrow.

Also given strong consideration but voted down was a proposal by Alvin Julian of Dartmouth that a jump ball follow free throws with the fouled team having its choice of its jumper—naturally the tallest man. The player committing the foul would be the other jumper.

A recommendation by coach Howard Hobson of Yale that the free throw lanes be widened from 10 to 12 feet also was beaten.

Merrins Goes 5 Strokes Ahead In Gulf's Tourney

By ED TUNSTALL

GULFPORT, Miss., March 20 (AP)—Amateur Eddie Merrins smashed par for the third straight day to take a five-stroke lead today in the $5,000 Gulf Coast Invitational Golf Tournament.

The poker-faced 21-year-old Louisiana State University senior posted a four-under-par 67 for a three-day total of 201 and a healthy margin over Hershel Spears, Huntsville, Ala., pro, with only the final 18 holes remaining. Merrins had a 65 on opening day and a 69 yesterday.

Merrins started off the day with a one-over-par five on the first hole but from then on the stocky Meridian, Miss., native had almost complete control over the Great Southern Golf Club's 6,006-yard, par 71 course.

His card showed seven birdies but he went one over on the 10th and 14th holes. His tremendous approach shots usually found their mark and remarkable putting kept him atop the professional laden field.

Barring a complete final round blowup, Merrins just about has the title clinched. Should Merrins top the field, it will mark the first time in the eight-year history of the tournament that an amateur has taken first place.

Boston's Celtics Knock Knicks Out Of Title Picture

BOSTON March 20 (AP)—The Boston Celtics edged New York Knickerbockers 79-78 today to eliminate the New Yorkers from eastern division playoffs of the National Basketball Association.

A basket by Bill Sharman with only 17 seconds left gave the Celtics their second victory of the eastern playoffs and sent New York down to its third straight playoff defeat.

Syracuse has a 2-0 playoff record, Boston 2-1 and New York 0-3. The Knicks play Syracuse in New York tomorrow afternoon. The Celtics meet Syracuse in Syracuse next Monday night.

No matter what the outcome of tomorrow afternoon's New York-Syracuse game or the Monday night clash between Boston and Syracuse, both Boston and Syracuse will move into the eastern division playoff final series.

That will be a best - of - three games series, with the winner meeting the western divisional winner for the N.B.A. championship.

The Celtics trailed 15-17 after one period and 36-41 at the half. Boston cut the deficit a bit in the third quarter but still trailed 55-57 strating the finale.

The Knicks held a 68-61 lead at the halfway marg of the final period. Boston chipped away at that margin and Bob Cousy's close-in jump shot sent the Celtics in front 77-76 with about 40 seconds to go.

Sharman led all scorers with 26 points including 16 free throws.

Bob Cousy added 20 and Jack Nichols scored another 16 for Boston.

The victory was doubly sweet for the Celtics who have been eliminated by New York in the playoffs for the past three seasons. They had dropped seven of nine post-season game to the Knicks.

LAKERS WIN

MINNEAPOLIS, March 20 (AP)—The Minneapolis Lakers swept to their third straight victory in the National Basketball Association playoffs tonight, beating Fort Wayne 78-73 in the western division.

The defeat all but eliminated Fort Wayne from the playoffs. It was the third straight setback for the Pistons, who can remain "alive" by beating Rochester Sunday while having Minneapolis beat Rochester in the final game of the western round robin.

Otherwise, Minneapolis and Rochester will start the western division final playoff, probably Wednesday.

Lions Get Grid Slate, Aim For Baseball Opener Here

Coach Jim Hodgins made a double barrelled report for the Ouachita Parish High School Lions last night, revealing his 1954 football schedule and announcing the Lions will open their baseball schedule against Calhoun High here Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Northeast State diamond.

The football schedule finds two schools, played last year, missing this trip — West Monroe and Baton Rouge, and two new additions—El Dorado, Ark., and Rayville. Otherwise the Lion grid campaign will follow its usual pattern with the same old Class AA conference contenders lined up although West Monroe, ready to play as double-A for the first time, is absent.

The Lion grid slate was announced as follows:

Sept. 9—Homer, here.
Sept. 17—Ruston, there.
Sept. 24—El Dorado, here.
Oct. 1—Bastrop, there.
Oct. 8—Haynesville, here.
Oct. 15—Fair Park, at Shreveport
Oct. 22—Permanently open.
Oct. 29—Byrd, here.
Nov. 5—Rayville, there.
Nov. 12—Bossier City, here.
Nov. 19—Neville, here.

The complete baseball schedule was not announced, but, in addition to the Calhoun game Tuesday, the slate will call for meetings with Class AA conference members, plus two games with Neville High.

Coach Hodgins has a choice of Carol George, Neal Duncan, Larry Barnes, Floyd Duchesne, and "Rookie" Wyatt as pitchers with Barnes also a capable catcher. However, T. L. Fuller is due to catch the Calhoun contest with the rest of the Lion lineup showing Doyle Holstead, first base; Dickie Crowe, second base; Bobby May, shortstop; Viv Pettit, third base; Ike McMullen, left field; Billy Smith, center field; and Neal Duncan or Frankie Heyl, right field.

Bulldog Golfers Easily Win Over Demon Linksmen

RUSTON, La., March 20 (Special)—The golfing Bulldogs of Louisiana Tech opened their links campaign here today by outclassing Northwestern State College's Demons as Coach Joe Aillet's club swingers marched to a 17½ to ½ victory.

With only Jerry Winston, Shreveport senior, back from his Gulf States Conference championship team of last year, Coach Aillet paired his No. 1 star with Joe Morris, Tech's No.4 player, to beat Bill Stanbury and Herschel Russell, Northwestern, in both individual and four-ball play. Stanbury, of Haynesville, and Russell, of Natchitoches, were returning Demon lettermen of last year.

Tech's second duo of Howard Dennis and Bobby Donovan defeated Robert Martin and Ray Guillory, Northwestern, 3-0, in four-ball play, and Donovan bested Guillory 3-0 in man-to-man action, but Martin saved Northestern from a complete whitewash by salvaging half a point as he lost his singles match to Dennis, 2½ to ½.

Winston, Morris, and Donovan had medal scores of 77 over the Ruston Country Club course.

Tech's next match is scheduled for Tuesday in Shreveport against Centenary College.

LaSalle Downs Bradley To Cop N. C. A. A. Crown

By BEN PHLEGAR

KANSAS CITY, March 20 (AP)—LaSalle's mighty Explorers burst the Bradley bubble tonight with a brilliant third quarter spurt that carried them to a record-shattering 92-76 triumph and the National Collegiate Basketball championship before a screaming crowd of almost 10,500.

Bradley's Braves, who had parlayed borrowed luck into a winning streak that carried them almost all the way, faded before the magic zone defense and powerful thrusts of the Explorers after the halftime.

Bradley had dominated the first 20 minutes and led by seven points early in the second quarter but its one-point halftime lead vanished as All-America Tom Gola with brilliant help from two fine sophomores, Charles Singley and Frank Blatcher, tore open the contest between the third and eighth minutes of the third quarter.

The 92-point total broke the previous high in a championship game by an even dozen points and equalled the all-time high for an NCAA contest, set last year by the University of Washington.

Kansas scored 80 points in beating St. Johns of Brooklyn in the 1952 classic.

The total of 168 points broke the all-time record, 165, in two different regional games a year ago.

Gola scored 18 points before he fouled out. His tip-in with 4:28 left broke the previous 80-point game record.

Singley kept LaSalle in the running the first half with perfect set shooting and although he drew his fourth foul when the third quarter was only three minutes old he went the distance and scored 23 points.

Blatcher was the game's high man from the floor, collecting 11 goals and a total of 23 points to share high honors with Singley.

Penn State, ahead from start to finish, staved off a desperate last-quarter rally by Southern California to win third place in the tournament, 70-61.

The contest was played under the suggested new foul rule which reverses the one-and-one shooting procedure and it almost cost Penn State the game.

Southern California made the first free throws 12 times and converted the bonus toss on 10 of its chances.

The recommended rule change would give a bonus shot after each successful free throw on all common fouls. If the first shot is missed the ball is in play.

Penn State had seven chances for the extra shot and sank six of them.

This was an entirely different Penn State team than the one badly outclassed last night by LaSalle. The Nittany Lions were deadly from the floor the first half hitting a cool 50 per cent of their shots.

Rematched For April 3 Fight

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Promoter Gabe Menendez announced today he has signed Holly Mims of Washington and Jesse Turner of St. Louis, Mo., for a nationally televised rematch here April 3.

The two middleweights met in a St. Louis slugfest last June 1 and Mims won a decision after flooring Turner in the sixth round.

Mims will be shooting for his 10th straight victory. In his last two fights he won a split decision over Moses Ward and scored a second round knockout of Sandy Baxter.

Turner outscored Garth Panter at Salt Lake City last Feb. 13.

The 10-round rematch of the two will be telecast (8 p.m. CST) over the American Broadcasting network, with the Washington area blacked out.

LSU, Rice Bow To Texas Ags In Track Meet

HOUSTON, Tex., March 20 (AP)—Bobby Gross contributed 10 points, as expected, as Texas A. & M. placed in every event today to win a triangular track meet from Rice and Louisiana State.

The Aggies scored 71 3-0 points. LSU had 51, with 11 ½ of them by a former Rice freshman, Bobby Dean of Corpus Cristi. Rice had 47 7-10 points.

A. & M. won seven firsts, LSU 5½, Rice 3½.

Gross took first in the shot-put with a distance of 51 feet 10 inches and led in the discus with a mark of 151 feet 10 inches.

Dean won the 100-yard dash in 10.1 seconds and captured the 220, around a turn, in 22.1. He also was on the LSU mile relay team that placed second behind the Aggies.

'53 Cotton States Stars Leave Marks To Aim For

By J. P. FRIEND
(League Statistician)

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., March 20 (Special) — Will the 1954 Cotton States League produce another batting star to rival the feats of Harold Martin? Will the pitchers regain their league status they held so long? Can the immediate future forese a replica of great batting feats as evidenced by the 1953 campaign? Who will succeed the great Bobby Harrison as the leading moundsman?

These are a few of the questions causing brow furrowing as the six Cotton States League teams put the final touches on the spring training plans preparatory to the launching of the 52nd birthday season.

It took 51 years to produce a slugger the likes of Harold Martin, the Bather buster and as many more summers may pass before an equal comes along. One thing is as certain as death and taxes, Martin really gave the fans—and the record books—something to remember him by. All he did was establish three all-time loop batting marks, and in doing so just about wrecked some promising pitching prospects. He slammed 41 home runs, amassed 350 total bases and slugged at a terrific .713 clip, all new marks.

Circuit clouters have been shooting at Ralph Winegarner's 40 home runs poled for El Dorado back in 1930, and until Martin parked a 41st pitch on August 15 against Greenville none had come real close.

Back in 1941 Roy Bueschen, Greenville outfielder, established a new total base record of 330 and it stood up until August 16 of last year when Martin tagged Charles Lindquist, ironically with Greenville, for a single, his 331st total base. Hal went on to rack up 19 more before the curtain fell, a mark that should live for a long time.

Martin's record for the year sounds big figures like the European war debt: 127 runs, 169 hits, 350 total bases, 32 doubles, 13 triples, 41 home runs, 23 stolen bases, 64 base on balls, 111 runs batted in, all in only 121 games. Winegarner and Bueschen wrote their records over 134 and 140-game routes, respectively. Times have changed a lot. Guy Waldron, with Greenwood, led the 1922 season in home runs with an unbelievable total of only four (count 'em). In that same year the entire Jackson team bagged just two homers in 119 contests, believe it or not!

That the 1953 season paced all others for only 126 contests, is reflected in the figures. In a combined 501 games there were 8,763 base hits that sang off the bats and 5,133 players dented home plate. The safeties totalled 12,494 bases, aided and abetted by 1,489 doubles, 293 three baggers and 552 four masters. The entire league batted .264 as a group with Jackson setting the pace with .273. Hot Springs averaged almost a homer a game, 112 in 124 outings. There were 20 batters eligible for the batting crown who finished within the coveted 300 circle. The leader, Hugh Glaze, who hit .355 for the champion Meridian Millers and was drafted by Little Rock, along with Dolph Regelsky, a slugging star in his own right, set the pace. He clinched the batting championship on the last day.

Regelsky set a whole flock of records during a two-game spree against Hot Springs, August 1, 2. The native Chicagoan poled four consecutive home runs after singling his first time up on Saturday night, then followed with another four master on his initial appearance Sunday afternoon. The records: four homers in one game; four consecutive home runs in one game; five consecutive home runs; 17 total bases for one game.

It isn't going to seem the same this year without Bobby Harrison, the Newton, (Miss.) lad who astounded fans in these parts with his pitching prowess. As a freshman Bobby won his first 15 games, wiping out the 40-year-old mark of Jake Hirsch, also with Meridian, for most games from start of the season, and eclipsing Art Hamilton's 13-game winning streak for Greenville four years before. By July 22 he had posted 20 wins, believed to be among the earliest, if not the earliest 20-game winner in league history. He wound up with 24 wins and only five defeats, the biggest winner, and the most effective with 1.82 in earned runs.

Thwarted in the first start of the 1953 season Harrison was dogged with tough breaks yet chalked up 19 wins against eight defeats. Half of his reverses came on one-run shutouts, two of which he granted no earned tallies. Tainted runs accounted for two other losses. His earned run mark was a nifty 2.15.

Cage Coaches Vote To Revamp 1-And-1 Foul Rule

Approve Premium On Marksmanship Over Inaccuracy

By SKIPPER PATRICK

KANSAS CITY, March 20 (AP)—The National Association of Basketball Coaches today voted to revamp the one-and-one free throw rule to put the premium on good shooting rather than inaccuracy.

The recommendation that goes to the national rules committee tomorrow gives the fouled player a second, or bonus shot, if the first shot is made. If the first shot is missed, the ball remains in play.

The present rule allows a second free throw if the first is missed.

Floyd S. Stahl, chairman of the rules recommendation committee explained the proposal, made by coach John Bunn of Springfield (Mass.) College would again make basketball a 40-minute game.

If passed by the rules committee, the automatic two free throws in the last three minutes would be eliminated.

The coaches voted yesterday to ask the rules committee to eliminate the quarter system in favor of two halves, thus cutting down on the number of stalls.

Bunn's proposal was accepted by unanimous vote. It would apply only to common fouls.

Infractions while a player was in the act of shooting would still draw two free throws.

Coach Eddie Hickey of St. Louis University, retiring president of the association, pointed out the new proposal would keep the players "working all the time."

"Under the present rule everybody except the shooter can walk away from the scene of activity on the first shot of a common foul," Hickey said. "If Bunn's proposal becomes the rule then everybody has to line up because that first toss might be missed."

The coaches recommended the present one-and-one rule two years ago. There's a good chance they will get it remodeled by the rules committee tomorrow.

Also given strong consideration but voted down was a proposal by Alvin Julian of Dartmouth that a jump ball follow free throws with the fouled team having its choice of its jumper—naturally the tallest man. The player committing the foul would be the other jumper.

A recommendation by coach Howard Hobson of Yale that the free throw lanes be widened from 10 to 12 feet also was beaten.

By ED TUNSTALL

GULFPORT, Miss., March 20 (AP)—Amateur Eddie Merrins smashed par for the third straight day to take a five-stroke lead today in the $5,000 Gulf Coast Invitational Golf Tournament.

The poker-faced 21-year-old Louisiana State University senior posted a four-under-par 67 for a three-day total of 201 and a healthy margin over Hershel Spears, Huntsville, Ala., pro, with only the final 18 holes remaining. Merrins had a 65 on opening day and a 69 yesterday.

Merrins started off the day with a one-over-par five on the first hole but from then on the stocky Meridian, Miss., native had almost complete control over the Great Southern Golf Club's 6,006-yard, par 71 course.

His card showed seven birdies but he went one over on the 10th and 14th holes. His tremendous approach shots usually found their mark and remarkable putting kept him atop the professional laden field.

Barring a complete final round blowup, Merrins just about has the title clinched. Should Merrins top the field, it will mark the first time in the eight-year history of the tournament that an amateur has taken first place.

Boston's Celtics Knock Knicks Out Of Title Picture

BOSTON, March 20 (AP)—The Boston Celtics edged New York Knickerbockers 79-78 today to eliminate the New Yorkers from eastern division playoffs of the National Basketball Association.

A basket by Bill Sharman with only 17 seconds left gave the Celtics their second victory of the eastern playoffs and sent New York down to its third straight playoff defeat.

Syracuse has a 2-0 playoff record, Boston 2-1 and New York 0-3. The Knicks play Syracuse in New York tomorrow afternoon. The Celtics meet Syracuse in Syracuse next Monday night.

No matter what the outcome of tomorrow afternoon's New York-Syracuse game or the Monday night clash between Boston and Syracuse, both Boston and Syracuse will move into the eastern division playoff final series.

That will be a best - of - three games series, with the winner meeting the western divisional winner for the N.B.A. championship.

The Celtics trailed 15-17 after one period and 36-41 at the half. Boston cut the deficit a bit in the third quarter but still trailed 55-57 strating the finale.

The Knicks held a 68-61 lead at the halfway marg of the final period. Boston chipped away at that margin and Bob Cousy's close-in jump shot sent the Celtics in front 77-76 with about 40 seconds to go.

Sharman led all scorers with 26 points including 16 free throws.

Bob Cousy added 20 and Jack Nichols scored another 16 for Boston.

The victory was doubly sweet for the Celtics who have been eliminated by New York in the playoffs for the past three seasons. They had dropped seven of nine post-season game to the Knicks.

LAKERS WIN

MINNEAPOLIS, March 20 (AP)—The Minneapolis Lakers swept to their third straight victory in the National Basketball Association playoffs tonight, beating Fort Wayne 78-73 in the western division.

The defeat all but eliminated Fort Wayne from the playoffs. It was the third straight setback for the Pistons, who can remain "alive" by beating Rochester Sunday while having Minneapolis beat Rochester in the final game of the western round robin.

Otherwise, Minneapolis and Rochester will start the western division final playoff, probably Wednesday.

Lions Get Grid Slate, Aim For Baseball Opener Here

Coach Jim Hodgins made a double barrelled report for the Ouachita Parish High School Lions last night, revealing his 1954 football schedule and announcing the Lions will open their baseball schedule against Calhoun High here Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Northeast State diamond.

The football schedule finds two schools, played last year, missing this trip — West Monroe and Baton Rouge, and two new additions—El Dorado, Ark., and Rayville. Otherwise the Lion grid campaign will follow its usual pattern with the same old Class AA conference contenders lined up although West Monroe, ready to play as double-A for the first time, is absent.

The Lion grid slate was announced as follows:

Sept. 9—Homer, here.
Sept. 17—Ruston, there.
Sept. 24—El Dorado, here.
Oct. 1—Bastrop, there.
Oct. 8—Haynesville, here.
Oct. 15—Fair Park, at Shreveport
Oct. 22—Permanently open.
Oct. 29—Byrd, here.
Nov. 5—Rayville, there.
Nov. 12—Bossier City, here.
Nov. 19—Neville, here.

The complete baseball schedule was not announced, but, in addition to the Calhoun game Tuesday, the slate will call for meetings with Class AA conference members, plus two games with Neville High.

Coach Hodgins has a choice of Carol George, Neal Duncan, Larry Barnes, Floyd Duchesne, and "Rookie" Wyatt as pitchers with Barnes also a capable catcher. However, T. L. Fuller is due to catch the Calhoun contest with the rest of the Lion lineup showing Doyle Holstead, first base; Dickie Crowe, second base; Bobby May, shortstop; Viv Pettit, third base; Ike McMullen, left field; Billy Smith, center field; and Neal Duncan or Frankie Heyl, right field.

Bulldog Golfers Easily Win Over Demon Linksmen

RUSTON, La., March 20 (Special)—The golfing Bulldogs of Louisiana Tech opened their links campaign here today by outclassing Northwestern State College's Demons as Coach Joe Aillet's club swingers marched to a 17½ to ½ victory.

With only Jerry Winston, Shreveport senior, back from his Gulf States Conference championship team of last year, Coach Aillet paired his No. 1 star with Joe Morris, Tech's No.4 player, to beat Bill Stanbury and Herschel Russell, Northwestern, in both individual and four-ball play. Stanbury, of Haynesville, and Russell, of Natchitoches, were returning Demon lettermen of last year.

Tech's second duo of Howard Dennis and Bobby Donovan defeated Robert Martin and Ray Guillory, Northwestern, 3-0, in four-ball play, and Donovan bested Guillory 3-0 in man-to-man action, but Martin saved Northestern from a complete whitewash by salvaging half a point as he lost his singles match to Dennis, 2½ to ½.

Winston, Morris, and Donovan had medal scores of 77 over the Ruston Country Club course.

Tech's next match is scheduled for Tuesday in Shreveport against Centenary College.

Richardson-Led Tulane Netters Win 5th In Row

AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—Tulane ran their unbeaten string to 28 today, blanking the Texas netters, 5-0.

Ham Richardson, the defending NCAA champion, topped Longhorn Johnny Hernandez, 6-1, 6-1. Hernandez is the defending Southwest Conference champion.

Richardson and Jose Aguero beat Hernandez and Tommy Springer in the top doubles match, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

Aguero defeated Springer, 6-2, 6-3, in the second singles match.

By BEN PHLEGAR

KANSAS CITY, March 20 (AP)—LaSalle's mighty Explorers burst the Bradley bubble tonight with a brilliant third quarter spurt that carried them to a record-shattering 92-76 triumph and the National Collegiate Basketball championship before a screaming crowd of almost 10,500.

Bradley's Braves, who had parlayed borrowed luck into a winning streak that carried them almost all the way, faded before the magic zone defense and powerful thrusts of the Explorers after the halftime.

Bradley had dominated the first 20 minutes and led by seven points early in the second quarter but its one-point halftime lead vanished as All-America Tom Gola with brilliant help from two fine sophomores, Charles Singley and Frank Blatcher, tore open the contest between the third and eighth minutes of the third quarter.

The 92-point total broke the previous high in a championship game by an even dozen points and equalled the all-time high for an NCAA contest, set last year by the University of Washington.

Kansas scored 80 points in beating St. Johns of Brooklyn in the 1952 classic.

The total of 168 points broke the all-time record, 165, in two different regional games a year ago.

Gola scored 18 points before he fouled out. His tip-in with 4:28 left broke the previous 80-point game record.

Singley kept LaSalle in the running the first half with perfect set shooting and although he drew his fourth foul when the third quarter was only three minutes old he went the distance and scored 23 points.

Blatcher was the game's high man from the floor, collecting 11 goals and a total of 23 points to share high honors with Singley.

Penn State, ahead from start to finish, staved off a desperate last-quarter rally by Southern California to win third place in the tournament, 70-61.

The contest was played under the suggested new foul rule which reverses the one-and-one shooting procedure and it almost cost Penn State the game.

Southern California made the first free throws 12 times and converted the bonus toss on 10 of its chances.

The recommended rule change would give a bonus shot after each successful free throw on all common fouls. If the first shot is missed the ball is in play.

Penn State had seven chances for the extra shot and sank six of them.

This was an entirely different Penn State team than the one badly outclassed last night by LaSalle. The Nittany Lions were deadly from the floor the first half hitting a cool 50 per cent of their shots.

Rematched For April 3 Fight

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Promoter Gabe Menendez announced today he has signed Holly Mims of Washington and Jesse Turner of St. Louis, Mo., for a nationally televised rematch here April 3.

The two middleweights met in a St. Louis slugfest last June 1 and Mims won a decision after flooring Turner in the sixth round.

Mims will be shooting for his 10th straight victory. In his last two fights he won a split decision over Moses Ward and scored a second round knockout of Sandy Baxter.

Turner outscored Garth Panter at Salt Lake City last Feb. 13.

The 10-round rematch of the two will be telecast (8 p.m. CST) over the American Broadcasting network, with the Washington area blacked out.

LSU, Rice Bow To Texas Ags In Track Meet

HOUSTON, Tex., March 20 (AP)—Bobby Gross contributed 10 points, as expected, as Texas A. & M. placed in every event today to win a triangular track meet from Rice and Louisiana State.

The Aggies scored 71 3-0 points. LSU had 51, with 11 ½ of them by a former Rice freshman, Bobby Dean of Corpus Crristi. Rice had 47 7-10 points.

A. & M. won seven firsts, LSU 5½, Rice 3½.

Gross took first in the shot-put with a distance of 51 feet 10 inches and led in the discus with a mark of 151 feet 10 inches.

Dean won the 100-yard dash in 10.1 seconds and captured the 220, around a turn in 22.1. He also was on the LSU mile relay team that placed second behind the Aggies.

Guy Waldron, with Greenwood led the 1922 season in home runs with an unbelievable total of only four (count 'em). In that same year the entire Jackson team bagged just two homers in 119 contests, believe it or not!

That the 1953 season paced all others for only 126 contests, is reflected in the figures. In a combined 501 games there were 8,763 base hits that sang off the bats and 5,133 players dented home plate. The safeties totalled 12,494 bases, aided and abetted by 1,489 doubles, 293 three baggers and 552 four masters. The entire league batted .264 as a group with Jackson setting the pace with .273. Hot Springs averaged almost a homer a game, 112 in 124 outings. There were 20 batters eligible for the batting crown who finished within the coveted 300 circle. The leader, Hugh Glaze, who hit .355 for the champion Meridian Millers and was drafted by Little Rock, along with Dolph Regelsky, a slugging star in his own right, set the pace. He clinched the batting championship on the last day.

Regelsky set a whole flock of records during a two-game spree against Hot Springs, August 1, 2. The native Chicagoan poled four consecutive home runs after singling his first time up on Saturday night, then followed with another four master on his initial appearance Sunday afternoon. The records: four homers in one game; four consecutive home runs in one game; five consecutive home runs; 17 total bases for one game.

It isn't going to seem the same this year without Bobby Harrison, the Newton, (Miss.) lad who astounded fans in these parts with his pitching prowess. As a freshman Bobby won his first 15 games, wiping out the 40-year-old mark of Jake Hirsch, also with Meridian, for most games from start of the season, and eclipsing Art Hamilton's 13-game winning streak for Greenville four years before. By July 22 he had posted 20 wins, believed to be among the earliest, if not the earliest 20-game winner in league history. He wound up with 24 wins and only five defeats, the biggest winner, and the most effective with 1.82 in earned runs.

Thwarted in the first start of the 1953 season Harrison was dogged with tough breaks yet chalked up 19 wins against eight defeats. Half of his reverses came on one-run shutouts, two of which he granted no earned tallies. Tainted runs accounted for two other losses. His earned run mark was a nifty 2.15.

New Highs For Year Reached On Stock Market

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—The stock market tossed off its restraint this week and pushed through to another new high for the year.

The market was at an average new high last week before it declined in the forepart of this week. Then in the final three days it mustered enough strength to more than wipe out its previous losses.

The week closed with The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at a new 1954 high of $116.70, the highest mark of the average since June 2 of 1930.

Most of the week the strength of the market was lodged in the aircrafts, motors, steels, oils and railroads.

Railroads, however, were a disappointing group. Many brokers feel that no advance of stocks can be a success unless the railroads gave it vigorous support. That didn't happen this week despite the fact that the market as a whole managed to get back up to peak levels.

Railroads currently are suffering from depressed freight carloadings, a situation that has existed for the past seven months. No quick solution to the problem is foreseen.

There were, however, plenty of highly favorable developments this week, and traders and investors elected to buy on that basis and forget the bad news from whatever quarter.

At the head of that favorable list of items was the move by banks to lower their interest charges in line with the previous cut by the Federal Reserve in its discount rate early in February to 1¾ from 2 per cent.

Corporate and U. S. government issues fluctuated narrowly in the bond market.

Youths Given Sentence For Public Crimes

HARRISONBURG, March 20 (Special) — Five Catahoula parish youths, three from Harrisonburg and two from Aimwell, were given four month suspended sentences recently in district court here.

The five teen-agers, charged with destroying public property, received suspended four - month sentences pending good behavior.

They were arrested while allegedly pushing down road signs and mail boxes in Harrisonburg and on the Manifest - Harrisonburg road.

In other court action, C. C. Boothe of Harrisonburg was fined $25 and costs on a charge of commercial fishing without a license and possession of game fish taken with commercial tackle.

Sentencing of James A. Haygood, of Harrisonburg, was deferred until August 1. Haygood was arrested March 5 by game ranger C. C. McGuffee and charged with having in his possession an electrically controlled device under circumstances which indicated that its possession was for the purpose of taking commercial fish illegally.

Real Estate Transfers

The following real estate transfers were recorded Saturday at the Ouachita parish clerk of court office:

John F. Smith et ux sold to August Higginbotham a lot in the SE¼ of the NW¼ of Section 22, Township 19 North, Range 5 East, for $500.

John F. Smith et ux sold to Christine Higginbotham Crain a lot in the SE¼ of the NW¼ of Section 22, Township 19 North, Range 3 East, for $100.

Operating Funds Need Beer Tax, PAR Reports

BATON ROUGE, March 20 (Special) — Dedication of any portion of the present beer tax revenue to a new bond issue would reduce the operating funds for state government, the Public Affairs Research Council pointed out today.

In its monthly News Analysis, the Council (PAR) noted current discussion for using the surplus of the beer tax for a new bond issue, possibly for highways.

"Dedication of the beer tax surplus to additional bond issues would decrease the amount of revenue which the state has available for the general cost of government," PAR said. "In the 1953 fiscal year, $5.2 million of beer tax revenue was transferred to the general fund."

PAR listed some 46 measures which are now being discussed for action by the legislature when it meets in May.

Prominently mentioned among these proposals are new bond issues for state institutions, for higher education and highway construction. Besides using the beer tar, there has been mention of issuing bonds based on the 1.47 mill property tax which is dedicated, in part, to the $9.75 million bond issue approved for institutions in the last session.

It was pointed out by PAR that any further dedication of the property tax would "prolong the gradual abandonment of the state property tax, as proposed by the governor."

According to PAR, the state bonded debt stood at $212 million as of last June 30, and this did not include all the bonds authorized by the legislature in 1952, some of which have not yet been issued.

Concert Assoc. Elects Officers

TALLULAH, March 20 (Special) —A meeting of the Tallulah Cooperative Concert Association was held at the home of the president, Russell Sprague, and the following officers and executive committee were named.

They were Russell E. Sprague, president; Mrs. W. L. Rountree, first vice president; Mrs. Hugh Montgomery, second vice president and membership chairman; Mrs. Elizabeth Kincaild, third vice president and publicity chairman; Quincy Hargis, treasurer and Mrs. Maxwell Yerger, secretary.

Members of the board of directors include George Kimbrough, J. W. Love, George Speed, Harold Strull and Barton Sevier.

In addition to a group of local workers and team captains who volunteer their services in various capacities are Mrs. C. R. Brown and Mrs. Frances Wyly, who will solicit memberships in Lake Providence, and Mrs. W. M. Crawford in Delhi.

Operating Funds Need Beer Tax, PAR Reports

BATON ROUGE, March 20 (Special) — Dedication of any portion of the present beer tax revenue to a new bond issue would reduce the operating funds for state government, the Public Affairs Research Council pointed out today.

In its monthly News Analysis, the Council (PAR) noted current discussion for using the surplus of the beer tax for a new bond issue, possibly for highways.

"Dedication of the beer tax surplus to additional bond issues would decrease the amount of revenue which the state has available for the general cost of government," PAR said. "In the 1953 fiscal year, $5.2 million of beer tax revenue was transferred to the general fund."

PAR listed some 46 measures which are now being discussed for action by the legislature when it meets in May.

Prominently mentioned among these proposals are new bond issues for state institutions, for higher education and highway construction. Besides using the beer tar, there has been mention of issuing bonds based on the 1.47 mill property tax which is dedicated, in part, to the $9.75 million bond issue approved for institutions in the last session.

It was pointed out by PAR that any further dedication of the property tax would "prolong the gradual abandonment of the state property tax, as proposed by the governor."

According to PAR, the state bonded debt stood at $212 million as of last June 30, and this did not include all the bonds authorized by the legislature in 1952, some of which have not yet been issued.

Plan Leisure Time For Fun, Happiness

Gardening

How does your garden grow? Check and see as gardening is an important feature on the farm. A large part of the food needed daily can be grown here. To be well fed, we should eat a green, leafy, or yellow vegetable each day; two other vegetables; a potato, Irish or sweet; and a serving of tomatoes (unless you eat a citrus fruit). In addition, you should eat dried beans or peas three times a week.

If we expect the garden to feed us, we must feed it first. Barnyard manure broadcast over the garden and turned under provides some organic matter needed to keep the soil in good condition. Plenty of organic matter helps the soil to hold the moisture, it lightens heavy soils, and makes them easy to work; it helps to hold sandy soils together. It furnishes some of the large amount of nitrogen plants need to make them grow. But barnyard manure is not enough, plants need extra nitrogen, phosphorus and potash. Nitrogen promotes plant growth and gives the dark green color to the leaves. Phosphoric acid helps the plant to form flowers, fruits and seeds. Potash gives the plant vigor and some resistance to disease. All three of these plant foods are found in complete fertilizers, as 8-8-8; 5-10-5 and others. Thus 8-8-8 means you have 8 pounds of nitrogen, 8 lbs. phosphoric acid and 8 lbs. of potash in a hundred pound sack purchased, or 24 lbs. of fertilizer. The other 76 lbs. is just a filler that helps spread the concentrated plant food, used at the rate of 6 pounds per hundred foot row, will give vegetables of excellent quality. Plan your garden to provide enough vegetables to eat fresh, to can, and to freeze. It will pay in terms of better health also.

Outdoor Living Time Is Here Again

You will need to plan for your leisure time just as you plan how to spend your money if it is to give you the great satisfaction that it should. The wise use of leisure has been called the final test of civilization.

Too many people sit around during their "off hours" waiting for something to happen. This is a complete waste of time. Much happiness can be garnered from these wasted hours if you have a planned program that includes activities designed to give fun and relaxation. Not all people like the same things. It's a case of "What's one man's meat, is another man's poison." Find out what you like to do, then get busy and arrange your time so you can indulge yourself in some relaxing activities.

It matters little what you choose so long as it interests you but by planning your leisure you'll be a happier person. Perhaps it can be a family activity as digging in the garden, laying brick for a terrace, or even building a place to barbecue. You may demonstrate your skill in outdoor cookery — but the big thing is — do it, and your leisure time will bring you happiness.

Hobby Day March 26th

Don't forget our first Hobby Day, March 26th, 10:00 a. m. at the agricultural building, West Monroe.

See you next Sunday.

Girl Scout News

There's a new crop of Brownie Scouts in the college neighborhood very proudly wearing shiny pins and new brown uniforms. It's a proud day when the seven or eight-year-old can say, "I'm a Brownie now." Very serious, as it should be, is the moment when she stands before her leader and says:

"I promise to do my best to love God and my country, to help other people every day, especially those at home."

As a result of two mothers' meetings held a few weeks ago, three new troops were set up and two have completed registration. Speaking of the mothers' meeting, an interesting sidelight is the fact that four of those present are mothers of four girls each. Looks as if there will always be a need for scouting!

Troop 1 is, appropriately enough, the number of the first of these troops to register. Mrs. Elsie Frost, Mrs. Margie Ensminger, and Mrs. Louise Tolar are leaders with Mrs. Ruby Wirick and Mrs. E. B. Halley on the troop committee and the following eager Brownies: Beth Allen, Yvonne Cason, Patricia Ann Cheely, Donna Kay DeCelle, Sally Ensminger, Marcia Fay Frost, Carol Lynne Fuller, Milan Gannaway, Diane Halley, Francis Loflin, Mary Murphy, Becky Parkerson, Ann Sheppard, Sue Sheppard, Mary Jane Sims, Mary Louise Tolar, Donna Lee Wirick, and Judy Woolsey.

Don't know the numbers nor the names of the other troops but they, no doubt will register soon. Even though the girls were just starting, they did not want to be left out of the cookie sale, and have made a creditable showing, according to their leaders

The third grade troops in that part of town are certainly busy people, from all we can gather. Of course, they're selling cookies like mad. In addition, Troop 18, is quite excited over several projects they've carried out lately. One was the trip to Cloverleaf Dairy, where the girls were fascinated by the process of making butter, evaporating milk, and making ice cream. Mr. H. S. Allen showed them over the plant. Mrs. L. G. Adams, Mrs. J. W. Pumphrey, and Mrs. C. A. Loflin accompanied the girls.

This same troop had made a trip to the fire station, every girl getting a chance to slide down the pole, as well as learning a lot about fire prevention. At indoor meetings the girls have made potholders and have learned to hem a towel.

The troop is sorry to lose Musette Roy from its membership, but hopes that she will go right into a Brownie troop in Miami. At her last meeting with the troop, the girls presented her with a gift of a jingley bracelet, of which Musette is rightfully proud.

Be sure to keep on eating Girl Scout cookies. The girls are helping their camping program, making it possible, in fact.

Here's a tip for making sponge cake: Remove the eggs from the refrigerator several hours before you plan to start baking. If the eggs are room temperature, rather than very cold, they will beat lighter and therefore help make your cake finer.

Mary Anne Parker Becomes Bride Of A. L. D'Alton, III

Of interest to friends in Monroe and the surrounding vicinity is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Anne Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sutherland Reid of Kansas City, Mo., and Austin Loftus D'Alton III of Wilmette, Ill., son of Mrs. Austin L. D'Alton of Toledo.

The vows were said at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, February 27, at St. Peter's Catholic church in Kansas City. The Very Rev. James N. V. McKay read the service. Mrs. Esther Hart, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Mary Louis LeRoy as she sang "On This Day O Beautiful Mother," "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus." Mr. Reid gave the bride in marriage. Decorations were copper urns filled with white gladioli, woodwardia fronds and decorated candelabra. The bridal aisle was marked with candelabras. The bride's gown of ivory satin was designed with a scoop neckline edged with motifs of re-embroidered Alancon lace, long fitted sleeves and a pointed bodice. The voluminous circular skirt was accented with diamond shaped bands of lace and a deep flounce of pleated tulle. Her tulle veil was held in place by a cap of re-embroidered lace and she carried a white satin prayer book topped with stephanotis and white orchids.

Mrs. William Gordon McKinney, Jr., who attended her sister as matron of honor, wore a gown of starlight blue silk organza fashioned with a tucked bodice topped with a short bolero jacket. The very full skirt was floor length. Her small half hat was of starlight blue and she carried a bouquet of golden carnations. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Earl E. Robertson, Jr., Mrs. Robert Gemmill and Miss Patricia Bauman wore gowns of mauve pink organza styled like the matron of honor's gown. Their colonial type bouquets were of deep pink carnations. Mr. Robert Brannigan acted as best man. The groomsmen were Mr. John McQuilken, Mr. John Browning and Mr. Warren Lieb.

The brides mother wore white accessories and a corsage of pink perfection camellias with her gown of champagne biege taffeta. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue silk suit with navy accessories and a corsage of white camellias..

A reception was held at the Kansas City Country club where decorations were of white stock and white carnations.

After a honeymoon in Havana and Jamaica, the couple will be at home at 8936 Skokie boulevard, Skokie, Ill.

Cruse-McKay

Miss Bobbye McKay and Lamar Cruse were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony performed in the pastorium of the Line Hill Baptist Church at Sicily Island on February 5.

Reverend Paul Brooks officiated at the candle light ceremony attended by the immediate family.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKay of Sicily Island. Mr. Cruse is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cruse of Harrisonburg. The couple are at home in Alexandria where he is serving with the navy.

News From The Public Library

Patrons of the Ouachita Parish Public Library have a wide choice of new books available this week. Probably the most important new book of fiction is "The Spider King" by Lawrence Schoonover. This story has for its central character, Louis XI of France, the king who did more than any other to make a united nation out of a group of feudal states. Mr. Schoonover is a splendid historian and he has the quality of making history come alive. It is a book which you will not want to miss. Another novel based on French court life is "Royal Merry - Go - Round" by F. W. Kenyon. This novel deals with a later Louis, in fact it is located at the court of Lous XV whose court was the gayest and the most corrupt in Europe. Mr. Kenyon has given us a different interpretation of the character of Louis and shows that in spite of all his faults and weaknesses, he really wanted to be a good king and it was tragic that the fate of France should rest in such careless hands.

Mysteries are always popular and the latest one is called "The Better to Eat You." The author is Charlotte Armstrong, who established a large following with her book "The Unsuspected." This is the story of a large fortune, which brought disaster to its owner. If you like a story of suspense, you will want to read "The Better to Eat You." An unusual novel is "Bless This House" by Norah Lofts. It is the story of Merravay, "A stately house a beautiful house, a poem built not with words, but with timber and glass and stone and brick." It is the moving and tender story of the people who lived in this house for many generations. It is beautifully written and makes interesting reading.

"The Dawning of the Day" by Elisabeth Ogilvie is a dramatic novel of mature love, set against the rugged background of an island off the Maine Coast. It is the story of Philippa Marshall, an attractive young war widow, who accepted a teaching job in a one-room schoolhouse on rugged Bennet's Island, hoping to find peace and serenity. Instead she found herself drawn into a vicious lobster war. How she solved her problem and accepted the love of a strong man makes interesting reading. "The Alien Heart" by Catherin Hutter is the story of Robbie who lived in two worlds. Born in America, brought up in Europe by his parents in the diplomatic service, but sent back to America to school, Robbie became an alien heart. This is Catherine Hutter's fourth novel and it is easily her best. The author reveals her sure feeling for time and place as she takes her readers through two decades and two continents. In her carefully woven plot all her characters have stature and the problems and issues involved are never contrived.

"Lucky Jim" by Amis Kingsley is a good - natured caricature of the learned professions. It has an English setting and is concerned with the unusual activities of a lecturer in medieval history. "With Kitchen Privileges" by Louise Andrews Kent is another story of Mrs. Appleyard and her adventures after her husband dies and she takes tenants into her home. It is a story of warmth and quiet humor and should be specially interesting to widows who are often faced with the same problems that Mrs. Appleyard faces.

Another book of interest to those who like mystery stories is "Dead by Now" by Margaret Erskine. It is a story of the high rate of mortality which follows a family gathering of the magnificent Cadells. "Doctor at the Crossroads" by Elizabeth Seifert has an audience eagerly waiting for it. Miss Seifert writes knowingly and well about doctors and their problems and this is another in her long line of stories. "Silver Street Woman" by Les Savage, Jr., is an exciting tale of the west.

Have you patronized your library lately? If not, you are missing a wonderful opportunity for pleasure and improvement.

Save Sandals For Partying

Some women are fortunate enough to maintain the youthful beauty of their legs all through their lives. Naturally, they capitalize on this by wearing shoes that draw attention to the fact.

Good news for these mature women is that this spring they will have a wide choice among the sandals that are destined for favor.

However, we would caution against wearing them indiscriminately. If you are blessed with good legs and feet, be kind to them by wearing shoes appropriate to the occasion.

Generally, it would be well to confine the wearing of sandals to late-day. They are perfect for parties and theater-going, not for marketing and afternoon strolls in the park.

A solution of hot water and vinegar or ammonia is fine for cleaning vases.

Reminiscing In Music Theme Of Tallulah Music Club

TALLULAH, — "Reminiscing in Music," the theme of the March meeting of the Music Club was delightfully carried out in a program patterned after a Music Club program of 1923. The meeting took place at the home of Mrs. W. M. Murphy.

Mrs. J. H. Devine, as leader recalled the former occasion, making interesting comments relative to the performers, and read a newspaper clipping of the event.

Mrs. A. E. Jones and Miss Doris Kuhn sang a duet, "Sweet and Low" with Mrs. B. H. Kuhn as accompanist. Mrs. M. A. Phillips then played a piano number, "Venetian Love Song". She was followed by a vocal trio, "Let the Rest of the World Go By" by Mrs. Louis Stinson, Mrs. E. A. Jones and Mrs. Alfred Bethea. Mr. R. P. Grimes, accompanied by Mrs. Kuhn, sang the old favorites, "Old Pal" and "Among My Souvenirs". Mrs. Alfred Bethea, accompanied by Mrs. J. E. Courtney, sang the popular Schubert's Serenade.

Mrs. Devine then made a brief talk about the zither and played several numbers on her instrument, a family heirloom which was made in Germany over a hundred years ago.

A business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. E. A. Jones, preceeded the program when plans were made for the annual silver tea to be given in late April with Miss Sallie Joe Foster, one of the spring graduates of Northwestern State College, as the guest artist.

Mrs. W. F. Patton, in a short talk, urged all present to work for the support of Madison Parish library in the tax election March 23.

During the social period, delicious refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table in the dining room by the hostesses, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. M. A. Verhagen, Mrs. C. E. Williamson and Mrs. Quincy Hargis. There was a large attendance of club members and guests.

One of the best beauty treatments you can give yourself costs nothing. It's learning to have a pleasant expression at all times. Not only will you be more attractive now, but you will also be less likely to have lines around the mouth later on.

Mrs. J. H. Devine, as leader recalled the former occasion, making interesting comments relative to the performers, and read a newspaper clipping of the event.

Mrs. A. E. Jones and Miss Doris Kuhn sang a duet, "Sweet and Low" with Mrs. B. H. Kuhn as accompanist. Mrs. M. A. Phillips then played a piano number, "Venetian Love Song". She was followed by a vocal trio, "Let the Rest of the World Go By" by Mrs. Louis Stinson, Mrs. E. A. Jones and Mrs. Alfred Bethea. Mr. R. P. Grimes, accompanied by Mrs. Kuhn, sang the old favorites, "Old Pal" and "Among My Souvenirs", Mrs. Alfred Bethea, accompanied by Mrs. J. E. Courtney, sang the popular Schubert's Serenade.

Mrs. Devine then made a brief talk about the zither and played several numbers on her instrument, a family heirloom which was made in Germany over a hundred years ago.

A business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. E. A. Jones, preceeded the program when plans were made for the annual silver tea to be given in late April with Miss Sallie Joe Foster, one of the spring graduates of Northwestern State College, as the guest artist.

Mrs. W. F. Patton, in a short talk, urged all present to work for the support of Madison Parish library in the tax election March 23.

During the social period, delicious refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table in the dining room by the hostesses, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. M. A. Verhagen, Mrs. C. E. Williamson and Mrs. Quincy Hargis. There was a large attendance of club members and guests.

One of the best beauty treatments you can give yourself costs nothing. It's learning to have a pleasant expression at all times. Not only will you be more attractive now, but you will also be less likely to have lines around the mouth later on.

Chic Grooming Is Must For Career Woman

All work and no play, they say, makes Jack a dull boy. The career woman can interpret this adage in a very special way.

The woman who sticks to her work to the neglect of her grooming is likely not only to become dull but also unsuccessful.

In this day of keen competition for worth-while careers, employers are demanding brains plus at least a dash of beauty. The notion is not so frivolous as one might think.

Vanity is revealed in excessive concern with grooming. Proper attention to one's appearance indicates consideration of others and a wholesome self-respect.

And these are two qualities that any employer values.

One day of establishing a good wardrobe without destroying your budget in the process is to start with a solid foundation of long-lived garments, such as classic suits, basic dresses tweeds, cashmeres, leather belt and handbag.

While that firm foundation is being built, one can sound the high fashion note with inexpensive accessories that could be discarded at the season's end without jarring the budget.

Regarding the selection of cosmetics, one famed cosmetic house has a method which it offers as both a money and time saver. It custom blends its face powder for the individual.

The company points out that in addition to general coloring, such factors as freckles, sensitivity to heat and cold and costume colors should be considered when face powder is being selected.

Furthermore, it's pointed out, once a woman has found a shade that is right for her at the moment, it's not likely to remain so for long. Her skin tones and her costume colors change seasonally; so, too, should her face powder.

When a woman purchases this firm's powder, a company representative studies her needs and then blends several shades of powder to create the one shade that is exactly right for her. As many as four and more shades may be blended.

As a guide for the future, the formula is recorded on a permanent file card.

And should a change in formula be warranted while the first box of powder is being used, the necessary changes will be made without charge.

MISS JIMMIE BRYAN'S engagement and approaching marriage to Calvin Brewster, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Brewster of Ruston, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Bryan. The wedding will be solemnized in the New Hope Baptist church at 3:30 p. m. Sunday, April

Great Interest Is Being Shown In Flower Show At Country Club This Tuesday

In compliance with flower show regulations that a show must have a theme to follow throughout all divisions giving the opportunity, and the flower arrangement division, to the individual to express himself by using his imagination with interpretation of the class he enters, the Monroe Garden Club theme for 1954 will deal with the theatre and the arts and it is appropriately entitled, "An Invitation to the Theatre of Flowers."

The art of arranging flowers in contrast has a special appeal to all lovers of beauty, whether or not they are interested in gardening. Therefore, where the division of horticulture, (display of flowers grown in entrances of garden) is of foremost importance for educational reasons, the true aesthetic value of a flower show lies in the arrangements of those flowers.

In addition to beautifully appointed table settings, both formal and informal, showing elegant centerpieces, the following will provide a flower show which, it is hoped, will be varied enough to appeal to everyone, whatever his preference of combination or line of flowers: the formal corsage, mixed spring bouquets, arrangements in black and white, arrangements with native materials predominating, church arrangements, fruit and vegetable arrangements, dried arrangements, monochromatic arrangements, arrangements of foliage.

An outstanding class will be that in which members of the following federated garden clubs will compete: The Welcome Garden Club, the College Heights Garden Club, and the Bayou DeSiard Garden Club.

Of special interest will be a class of arrangements in which gentlemen only may compete.

There will be special classes for juniors.

The staging of flower arrangements is being done on an elaborate scale by a committee headed by Mrs. John T. Hart. The background for each class is designed to enhance the beauty of the arrangement placed before them, and to show each arrangement to the best possible advantage.

As an area wide entry is indicated, flower lovers in surrounding towns as well as those in the Twin Cities, are especially invited to attend. There is no admission charge. The show will take place on Tuesday, March 23, between 2:30 and 7:00 p. m. at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Outstanding Pupils Give Piano Recital Recently

The highlight program of the year of Music Teachers Association of Monroe and West Monroe featured the presentation of outstanding music students by teacher members of the organization this week in the Fine Arts building of Northeast Louisiana State College. This annual event, planned to provide extra musical activity for students, was so successful and enthusiastically received that additional programs of similar nature will be planned by the yearbook committee for next season's projects.

Teachers and students who participated were as follows: Mrs. W.W. Bullock, Jr. presented Clara Dee Drew and Judy Halley; Mrs. E. Everett Lawson presented Ouida Diane McGee, and also Judy Cobb who won a place in the finals of the recent Hewitt Interlochen Scholarship contest; Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton of the faculty of Northeast Louisiana State College, with Philip Ambrose who won the first Interlochen Scholarship five years ago, appeared in piano duo; Mrs. Everett Zeagler presented Wesley Zeagler and Dolores Gonzales; Mrs. Harvey Nelson introduced Linda Anderson; Mr. Frank Parker presented George Phillips; Mrs. Eloise Stanhope of the Northeast Louisiana State College faculty presented Beverly Durden, and also Marie Nelson who won second prize in the second division of the Hewitt Interlochen Scholarship contests recently; Mrs. A. R. Kilpatrick, director of West Monroe High School choir, presented the high school mixed ensemble and Miss Lila Scogin presented Skipper Bell; Mrs. R. G. Luckett presented Dianna Lee. The elementary and intermediate students showed talent and promise of future musical advancement. The advanced group displayed remarkable progress in musicianship and poise since last year's hearing. Memorable renditions of the works of the masters, included Khachaturian's "Toccato" by Beverly Durden; the brilliant and masterly performances of Philip Ambrose and Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton, at the second piano, in the first movement of Schumann's "Concerto in A Minor"; Marie Nelson's sympathetic interpretation of Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C Sharp Minor"; George Phillips displayed talent and musicality in Mendelssohn's "Venetian Boat Song," and the West Monroe High School Mixed Ensemble was most enjoyable and generously endowed with talent.

At the business meeting which followed, members expressed gratification of the efficient work of the judges in the recent piano contests. Impartial adjudicators, who give constructive criticisms and appraisals of contestants, know the students by number only and teachers of winning entrants are not made know to them until winners of all divisions are made public. Hope was expressed that more and more teachers will discover the value of the contests, as means of creating musical growth.

Mr. James F. Monroe was appointed chairman of nominating committee for selecting 1954-55 officers, to be assisted by Mrs. A. R. Kilpatrick and Mrs. Harvey Nelson.

The association voted to observe the Easter recess with the last meeting of the current year to be held in May at the country home of Mrs. Everett Zeagler on Columbia Road. The meeting will be the main social meeting of the year, with the hostess committee serving an al fresco supper.

Mrs. J. R. Kirby Entertains Garden Club

The members of the College Heights Garden Club met March 16 in the home of Mrs. J. R. Kirby for the regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Mildred Swift, guest speaker of the morning gave a most interesting talk on "A Year Round Garden of Bloom".

Following Mrs. Swifts talk the regular business session was held and the following officers were installed for the new year. Mrs. E. L. Harrison, Pres. Mrs. Faheem Cannon, Vice-Pres. Mrs. J. V. Jones, Treasurer, Mrs. Paul Keller, Jr., Secretary. Mrs. Max Watts, Historian. Mrs. Joy Kelley, Reporter.

Besides Mrs. Swift, members present were, Mrs. Tolar, Mrs. Louise Keller, Mrs. Herbert Walker, Mrs. Joe Ellington, Mrs. E. C. Finley, Mrs. J. V. Jones, Mrs. Paul Keller Jr., Mrs. Jean Montgomery, Mrs. Naomi Harrison, Mrs. Alfred Brin, Mrs. Nell Williams, Mrs. J. C. Loftin, Mrs. J. M. Gilstrap, Mrs. G. W. Levert, Mrs. Max Watts, Mrs. E. L. Harrison, Mrs. Coleen Mann, Mrs. Sam McDonald, Mrs. Faheam Cannon, Mrs. Joy Kelley and the hostess Mrs. Kirby.

Smoked tongue, sliced thin and served cold, makes a fine addition to a cold cuts platter for a buffet supper. Be sure to cool the tongue in the liquid in which it was cooked if you want it to be moist and flavorsome. Serve a big casserole of scalloped potatoes with the tongue and other cold meats; choose crisp crunchy vegetables to put in the go-along salad for texture contrast.

New Diet Okays Snacks

A new reducing diet which permits the dieter to indulge his hunger by eating full-sized snacks between meals has proved itself successful with a high percentage of obesity cases.

The new diet, propounded by New York physician Leonid Kotkin, is strict in forbidding low protein foods. But the dieter who complains of constant hunger can satisfy his appetite with a variety of high quality snacks at any time between meals.

The snacks may consist of all vegetables, except five, as well as lean meat and pot cheese. The five forbidden vegetables are rice, potatoes, corn, peas and all beans —except stringbeans.

Dr Kotkin says the average dieter is almost always troubled "by a tendency to cheat just a little bit on his diet."

"This cheating leads inevitably to the failure of the diet regime," he says. "But if the cheating is indulged by allowing the dieter to eat substantial snacks of permitted foods, no harm is done and the reducing program is usually concluded successfully."

A typical snack suggested by Dr. Kotkin, whose basic diet is rigid in forbidding all fatty foods and limiting all carbohydrates, might consist of a tomato and lettuce salad with pot cheese. A snack of raw carrot and celery sticks, or a lean hamburger patty—without the bun—could satisfy the hunger of almost any obese dieter, Dr. Kotkin says.

To wash the scum off shower curtains, soak them first in the bath tub and then rub with a fine brush and soapy water.

Polish Remover Conditions Cuticle

A nail polish remover that conditions cuticles will be introduced this spring.

Based on an entirely new formula, this remover is said to soften and smooth cuticles and to remove polish almost instantly without smearing.

According to the firm making it, the new product will also help to protect the nails against brittleness caused by harsh soaps and detergents. It contains no acetone, which has been found to have a drying effect.

A cream rather than a liquid, the remover boasts new packaging as well as a new formula. It comes in a tube that minimizes the danger of spillage and evaporation.

Because there is no danger of spillage, the tube can be carried conveniently in one's purse.

Outstanding Pupils Give Piano Recital Recently

The highlight program of the year of Music Teachers Association of Monroe and West Monroe featured the presentation of outstanding music students by teacher members of the organization this week in the Fine Arts building of Northeast Louisiana State College. This annual event, planned to provide extra musical activity for students, was so successful and enthusiastically received that additional programs of similar nature will be planned by the yearbook committee for next season's projects.

Teachers and students who participated were as follows: Mrs. W.W. Bullock, Jr. presented Clara Dee Drew and Judy Halley; Mrs. E. Everett Lawson presented Ouida Diane McGee, and also Judy Cobb who won a place in the finals of the recent Hewitt Interlochen Scholarship contest; Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton of the faculty of Northeast Louisiana State College, with Philip Ambrose who won the first Interlochen Scholarship five years ago, appeared in piano duo; Mrs. Everett Zeagler presented Wesley Zeagler and Dolores Gonzales; Mrs. Harvey Nelson introduced Linda Anderson; Mr. Frank Parker presented George Phillips; Mrs. Eloise Stanhope of the Northeast Louisiana State College faculty presented Beverly Durden, and also Marie Nelson who won second prize in the second division of the Hewitt Interlochen Scholarship contests recently; Mrs. A. R. Kilpatrick, director of West Monroe High School choir, presented the high school mixed ensemble and Miss Lila Scogin presented Skipper Bell; Mrs. R. G. Luckett presented Dianna Lee. The elementary and intermediate students showed talent and promise of future musical advancement. The advanced group displayed remarkable progress in musicianship and poise since last year's hearing. Memorable renditions of the works of the masters, included Khachaturian's "Toccato" by Beverly Durden; the brilliant and masterly performances of Philip Ambrose and Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton, at the second piano, in the first movement of Schumann's "Concerto in A Minor"; Marie Nelson's sympathetic interpretation of Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C Sharp Minor"; George Phillips displayed talent and musicality in Mendelssohn's "Venetian Boat Song," and the West Monroe High School Mixed Ensemble was most enjoyable and generously endowed with talent.

At the business meeting which followed, members expressed gratification of the efficient work of the judges in the recent piano contests. Impartial adjudicators, who give constructive criticisms and appraisals of contestants, know the students by number only and teachers of winning entrants are not made know to them until winners of all divisions are made public. Hope was expressed that more and more teachers will discover the value of the contests, as means of creating musical growth.

Mr. James F. Monroe was appointed chairman of nominating committee for selecting 1954-55 officers, to be assisted by Mrs. A. R. Kilpatrick and Mrs. Harvey Nelson.

The association voted to observe the Easter recess with the last meeting of the current year to be held in May at the country home of Mrs. Everett Zeagler on Columbia Road. The meeting will be the main social meeting of the year, with the hostess committee serving an al fresco supper.

Mrs. J. R. Kirby Entertains Garden Club

The members of the College Heights Garden Club met March 16 in the home of Mrs. J. R. Kirby for the regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Mildred Swift, guest speaker of the morning gave a most interesting talk on "A Year Round Garden of Bloom".

Following Mrs. Swifts talk the regular business session was held and the following officers were installed for the new year. Mrs. E. L. Harrison, Pres. Mrs. Faheam Cannon, Vice-Pres. Mrs. J. V. Jones, Treasurer, Mrs. Paul Keller, Jr., Secretary. Mrs. Max Watts, Historian. Mrs. Joy Kelley, Reporter.

Besides Mrs. Swift, members present were, Mrs. Tolar, Mrs. Louise Keller, Mrs. Herbert Walker, Mrs. Joe Ellington, Mrs. E. C. Finley, Mrs. J. V. Jones, Mrs. Paul Keller Jr., Mrs. Jean Montgomery, Mrs. Naomi Harrison, Mrs. Alfred Brin, Mrs. Neil Williams, Mrs. J. C. Loftin, Mrs. J. M. Gilstrap, Mrs. G. W. Levert, Mrs. Max Watts, Mrs. E. L. Harrison, Mrs. Coleen Mann, Mrs. Sam McDonald, Mrs. Faheam Cannon, Mrs. Joy Kelley and the hostess Mrs. Kirby.

Smoked tongue, sliced thin and served cold, makes a fine addition to a cold cuts platter for a buffet supper. Be sure to cool the tongue in the liquid in which it was cooked if you want it to be moist and flavorsome. Serve a big casserole of scalloped potatoes with the tongue and other cold meats; choose crisp crunchy vegetables to put in the go-along salad for texture contrast.

Farmerville Garden Club Has Meeting

The Farmerville Garden Club met on Thursday, March 11th, for the regular meeting in the lovely new home of Mrs. Layton Hester with co-hostesses Mrs. H. L. Pritchard, Mrs. Guy Ludwig and Mrs. Bryant James. Bright spring flowers decorated the house throughout.

After the business meeting, a green flower container was presented by the Club to Mrs. Luzader, the outgoing president, in appreciation of her untiring efforts for the past year. Mrs. Guy Ludwig, the new president, took the chair and announced the committees for the new year and passed out the new Year Books.

The new members were welcomed at this time. They were Mrs. Jack Scott, Mrs. J. T. Spencer and Mrs. W. K. Rich.

Mrs. Stein Baughman had charge of the program in the place of Mrs. A. C. Dykes, who was absent, and gave a most interesting talk on Growing Day Lilies.

Ribbons were awarded to Mrs. G. M. Edwards for first place on her arrangement of King Alfred Daffodils. Mrs. W. C. McMurrain took second place on an arrangement of yellow Iris and third place went to Mrs. Ralph Harper on an arrangement of Enroco Batonni Camellias.

At the conclusion of the program, the group was invited into the dining room where punch, sandwiches and cookies were served. In the center of the dining table was a beautiful arrangement of white and yellow daffodils and blue Dutch Iris in a Silver Bowl. This arrangement received much comment and was done by Mrs. Roland Dykes of Dallas, for the occasion and not to be judged.

Members attending were: Mrs. Allen Luzader, Mrs. Nan Gulley, Mrs. Frank Goss, Mrs. Ralph Harper, Miss Faye Baughman, Mrs. Doyle Smith, Mrs. G. M. Edwards, Mrs. Bolton Tabor, Mrs. W. C. McMurrain, Mrs. Stein Baughman, Mrs. J. L. Davidson, Mrs. W. O. Roberts, Mrs. Fred Preaus, Mrs. Dewey Barr, Mrs J. T. Spencer, Mrs. L. C. Allen, Mrs. Ben Lee and the hostesses.

Guests were: Mrs. W. C. Terral, Mrs. Grady Rabun and Mrs. Robert James.

Never Tell A Secret To A Man

There's a lovely little myth, passionately maintained by all redblooded American males, that gossip, like sewing, is women's work.

Busy, career-minded, no-time-for-nonsense men have for years been able to preserve the illusion that when they get together for conferences, the talk is of (a) business, (b) golf scores and (c) stag jokes unfit for shellike ears.

Whenever their believing spouses relay some fine and fancy piece of information — factual or deduced from circumstantial evidence —the traditional male response had been to listen keenly but with a bored expression and at its conclusion—never in midstream, mind you—to remark in a lordly and superior fashion that gossip isn't a nice thing to indulge in.

"Don't you women have anything better to do all day than gossip?" is, I understand, a cliche to conclude such conversations.

It has long been the suspicion of many on the distaff side that the apparently disdainful male is at least as big a gossip as any of the opposite sex. It has long been the innermost conviction of most working women that these jolly convocations around the water-cooler aren't entirely devoted to bowling scores and last night's television jokes.

Well, girls and boys, I don't know how things are in your office and around your house, but with a little adroit plotting which would have done credit to Sherlock Holmes, Joe Friday, Mike Barnett and Martin Kane in concert, we have managed to trap the season's limit of office gossips, and to nobody's surprise, the bag was entirely male.

The bait available to us was a stork-type secret, a future blessed event perhaps suspected but in no way confirmed. The owner of said secret confided it to three persons, all of whom were under instructions of secrecy. I was one; the other two were presumably non-gossipy gentlemen. Then the owner of the secret and I staked out the office, waiting for the word to leak out.

Exactly 24 hours after the marked message had been strategically confided, it was being whispered enthusiastically around the water cooler and in the coat closets: official confirmation of a suspected situation had been received. By the next day, the news had been flashed outside the office, and this investigator was flatly told of the secret by a (male) confidant of one of the suspects, one who works far on the other side of town. Source of information was readily traced because the willing guinea pig in the experiment had skillfully inserted certain exclusive information — which came down the line completely in its original form.

At the moment, all the office wives, when they drop in to lunch with their husbands, or telephone them to pick up an extra pound of lamb chops, tenderly and interestedly inquire after the health of the central figure in our little test. This, of course, can only indicate that some men pass along such fascinating tidbits to their wives, although if asked directly about relaying trivia and dealing in personalities any one of the boys would snort that they hadn't time for such things.

I don't for one minute claim that this isolated experiment proves conclusively that all men are gossips But at least we're fairly certain that we've sure got some sharp ears and big mouths among the males in my office.

And it's my firm opinion that one could do the same test with the same results in any office, shop or factory in the land.

When expecting guests with small children, put breakables in a safe place. This will not only put you at ease but will also save the adult guests from any embarrassment.

Americana Theme Incorporates Useful Additions

What's your taste in furniture? Most of us enjoy several different styles, but when we plunk the dollar down our tastes are usually tempered by what we already have.

I can admire the interesting concoctions of string and metal, but it would be hard to find a suitable setting for them in an old-fashioned midwestern home.

That's one reason why new furniture which blends traditional design with modern ideas of performance is deservedly popular. Stores this spring have a wide selection for homemakers who like traditional decor and are thinking of adding a new piece or two to an existing array of Americana.

One new line, named for an old Virginia grist mill, looks as sturdily early American as its name, but the designs are strictly up to date in function. A tall, hutch headboard for a bed in solid cherry, for example, looks as though it might have been lifted from the top of an old cabinet.

But underneath the edges of the scrolled top is concealed lighting for bedtime readers. Open shelves and twin - closed cupboards provide enough storage to eliminate the need for night tables.

Noteworthy, too, in this line is a serving cart which has drop leaves to expand it to table size. There's a drawer that pulls out to make a serving tray. A hutch-topped chest, dining table, chairs and secretaries are other handsome additions which incorporate traditional design in modern sizes.

Another interesting combination of old and new is Early American styling used for a double dresser with a vanity table suspended between the units. The Windsor chair, with lovely graceful spokes pegged into a curving back, is the direct inspiration for another new headboard. This is in solid cherry in a warm, medium - toned finish.

And a nest of three American cherry tables boasts a modern touch in black plastic tops which, as you know, resist a good deal of abuse.

GUN-TOTIN' GRANDMA

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (AP)—One of the oldest pistol-packing great-grandmas in the business of being a deputy sheriff recently observed her 82nd birthday with no plans to retire.

Mrs. Mary McAuliffe — also known as "Little Mac" — has been on the job at the Westchester County Courthouse for 42 years.

Mostly she is assigned to civil hearings nowadays, with no prisoners involved. But she says her 125 pounds and a strong wrist could still come in handy if needed.

Little Mac's personal following includes six children, eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

What Causes Baby's Colic?

Colic is a sharp pain in the stomach that makes a baby pull up his legs and scream.

If your baby has an attack of colic, pick him up, hold him, rock him, walk with him. It's a very real pain and he needs you to do something for him. Never make a colicky baby cry it out.

A drink of quite warm water sometimes helps. If his feet and legs are cold wrap up a warm hot-water bottle in his blanket and get him well warmed up. Sometimes lying on his stomach across your knee helps. Put the warm hot-water bottle under him. If he can expell gas by rectum he feels better. A warm enema will often give relief when nothing else seems to work.

Many babies never have colic. Some have one or two attacks, others have one bad spell almost every day. Then there are those unfortunate ones whose mothers say they are never comfortable and have colic off and on all their first three months.

Colic is almost always outgrown by the time the baby is three months old.

Sometimes it's easy to figure out why your baby has colic — sometimes it's very difficult. By all means talk to your doctor about it, but he may not be able to perform miracles.

A baby may have colic because he isn't getting enough to eat. This is the most likely cause in a breast-fed baby — mother just doesn't have enough milk.

In bottle fed babies — and colic is much more frequent in bottle babies than in breast fed babies— the formula may be too weak, or the formula may be too strong and the baby cannot digest it. The formula may not be right for your baby.

Maybe you are making your baby wait too long for his food. Long periods of crying make a baby so tired he cannot eat properly when the food finally comes. Also the baby may swallow so much air while he is crying that his stomach becomes distended with the air (gas we call it) to the point where it causes enough pressure to hurt.

Colic caused by food that's too skimpy, too weak, too strong or just not right can be cured by making the necessary changes in the formula, but you'd better not make these changes without consulting your doctor. Frequent changes of formula are in themselves upsetting to a baby

Colic often has a more subtle cause. If mother is tense and scared, if her arms shake as she picks up her baby, she somehow transfers to him her tensions. He is tense and scared too and he can't digest his food properly. No matter how many times that baby's food is changed, he is still going to have colic until he grows up enough not to react to his mother's tension with indigestion.

It's easy to tell a mother to relax. It's hard to relax if you are a tense mother. However you can try. Reassurance from your doctor that there is nothing really wrong with your baby helps. Maybe you need to get away a little. Perhaps the best treatment for the baby's colic is to have mother go to a movie!

LINOLEUM PICK-UP

Perk up shabby and faded linoleum with a solid-color coat of floor enamel. Let it dry thoroughly. You can add a variety of stippled or spatter effects to create a textured look to make footmarks less noticeable. Spattered effects are gained by striking the metal brand on a paint-filled brush against a stick held in the left hand. Stippling is done with a sponge. By using masked tape you can even paint stripes on your linoleum, suggest paint experts. Just press two strips of tape in place across the floor and paint between the strips. When the paint is dry, lift off the tape and wax the floor.

OUR ORGANIZATION DATES BACK TO THE FIRST FLIGHT OF MAN

We're Celebrating Our... 50th ANNIVERSARY

Fifty years of service to the people of Monroe and West Monroe

The establishment of the People's Homestead & Savings Association dates back half a century to the first flight of man in a heavier than air machine. This month, March 1954, we are celebrating our 50th Anniversary of service to the people of the Twin Cities.

Only three months earlier 30 years ago at Kitty Hawk, N. C., Orville Wright flew the first airplane. Who could have foretold, then, that well within the space of a single life, man would cross the Atlantic in less than five hours? Neither would anyone have predicted at that time that the People's Homestead & Savings Association would be the means by which thousands of families in the Twin Cities would own their own homes.

A few of these many years have been lean, but the majority have been good years and we are glad to have had a part in the growth of our prosperous cities of which we are all so proud.

We invite your inquiry concerning loans to build, to purchase, to repair, to make alterations and additions, or to refinance an existing loan for any purpose.

Prompt service—small closing cost—low interest rate—monthly payments to fit your income.

Parish P.-T. A. Council Meets Logtown School

Are we prepared to save our lives as well as help someone in case of emergencies? Mrs. David L. Agnew, district F asst. director, civil defense, very interestingly told how this could be done on Wednesday morning at the regular meeting of the Ouachita parish P.-T. A. Council, Logtown School. Mrs. Agnew told of the six phases of civil defense each corrolated and co-ordinated to work together. Schools fit extremely well in this program by public education. An interesting film on self-preservation and survival in case of emergency concluded her talk. Mrs. Neil McHenry, local chairman for Logtown district, told how each local unit could take this vital course.

The second and third grade of Logtown School entertained with a dance "Harts and Darts." Two numbers were sung by the Logtown chorus under the direction of Mrs. Cox.

Mrs. Huddle Grant, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Garland Jones who gave a report on health.

After the Logtown P. - T. A. served refreshments, Mrs. F. D. Luton, council president, presided over the business session. New officers were elected for the coming P.-T. A. year. They are: president, Mrs. Garland Jones, Highland School; vice-president, Mrs. Harold Oetgen, Mitchell School; secretary, Mrs. T. L. Stout, Logtown School; treasurer, Mrs. Ralph Murphy, Millsaps School. Mrs. Luton announced a P.-T. A. workshop to be held Monday March 15th at Northeastern College. Registration to begin at 8:30 a. m. The fifth district will give a subscription to the National P.-T. A. Magazine to the unit with ten representatives.

Mrs. D. C. Metcalf was chosen as chairman on know how, to collect displays from each local unit within the parish council for display at state convention. Mrs. M. C. Wooley was elected to represent the council at the state P.-T. A. convention to be held at Alexandria, La., April 22nd, 23rd, 24th.

Clean Cupboards For Greater Convenience

Clean, well - ordered kitchen cupboards are more than a shining showcase of a homemaker's pride. They can boost her efficiency and save her time and temper.

Cupboard contents that are convenient and neat mean less work and are better able to absorb the stress of Sunday chefs and after-school snack grabbers.

If you're rolling up your sleeves for a springtime cupboard cleanup (as I am), it's a good idea to plan in advance which items could be shuffled for greater convenience and what improvements can be made in storage.

For example, many standard cabinets have adjustable shelves. By raising or lowering a shelf a few inches, you may be able to make room for more articles without sacrificing convenience. I'm buying a couple of clips to insert in the shelving strip to support a new narrow shelf to hold salt and pepper shakers and small cups.

This is the time, too, to make frequently used items more accessible. With spring flowers coming, I'll pull out some small vases to keep handy and put the chili bowls on the top shelf.

Before you repack a cabinet, weed out the "dead wood": the chipped glassware, the cracked cup, the badly nicked plate, the saucepan with the wobbly handle and the heat - warped pot.

Fresh shelf liners come next. Coated papers are gay and pretty. More permanent are liners made of a rubber compound which comes in rolls to be cut to size. Ridged on one side to prevent skidding, this shelf liner cushions the clatter of plates, glasses and pots or pans.

The right side is ribbed and has a plate rail molded into the back so platters can be stored upright. Because it is easily washable, this type of liner is practical for shelves where spillables are stored: mustard, catsup, honey, syrup.

You can save dishwashing time and cut down on chips and cracks if you store frequently used plates and saucers vertically in racks. At least, in my experience, vertical storage has eliminated much of the shuffling of plates that takes up the dish wiper's time. Stack the seldom - used plates and saucers under a plastic slip cover to protect them.

If your kitchen enjoys a good deal of between - meal traffic seeking milk, fruit juice, fruit or crackers, here's a trick I use to save constant cupboard - door banging:

Store the kids' cups in one corner of a lower shelf, away from good glassware and near the icebox and cracker box. They can serve themselves with a minimum of scurrying around underfoot.

Spring Calls For Good Scents

Spring is the time for a new fragrance. At the first sight of a floral chapeau, garden-fresh lilies, tulips or daffodils, feminine vanity is intrigued by a perfume counter. Last winter's favorite scent seems much too heavy to blend with the first breath of spring.

You don't have to break the bank to radiate good scents these days. If you can afford it, perfume is your best bet for long-lasting fragrance. Even an in-expensive purse-size dram or two, sparingly used, can make you feel like a queen.

Colognes and toilet waters are satisfying fillips to the bath; sachet may be used to scent lingerine, scarfs and dresses; stick and creamy fragrances are available on any budget. Bath oils, scented soap and bath powder all offer the fastidiousness a girl seeks.

But how to select the right fragrance? Ingredients come from every corner of the world to blend that perfect bouquet for your pleasure. The sweet smelling essential oils such as Bulgaria's rose, France's lavender and mimosa are blended with extract from Ethopian civet cats, cinnamon from Ceylon, musk from Tibet, Canadian castor from the beaver, eucalyptus from Australia. Even the mosquito repellant, citronella, goes into some perfume.

So it is no wonder there are different tastes in perfume. When selecting your scents, these suggestions will help:

1. Ask yourself whether the perfume goes with you. Don't buy it because it flatters your friend. Is it your type?

2. If you are undecided about scents, visit a perfume counter asking to be sprayed with a perfume you select. Wear it that day, noting how others react to it. If you are not sure the following day, ask for a spray of another scent.

3. When you've made your selection, ask the salesgirl to open the bottle. Then you will not have any excuse for hoarding it on your dressing table unopened, until the scent has faded from exposure to light and heat. Use the perfume you buy.

4. Perfume may be worn in the morning, providing you do not shower yourself with it. It is a good idea to transfer some from a large bottle to a purse size container so that it may be renewed several times a day.

5. If your husband or beau objects to your perfume, discard it immediately. One reason you choose scented feminine accessories is to please the man in your life. If he's particularly fussy about fragrances, insist that he go with you when you shop for a new one. (Better still—make him foot the bill.)

Home Mechanics Course Turns Out Superwives

BALTIMORE—A Baltimore high school has a special course in home mechanics for girls which seems to be producing a crop of superwives designed especially for lazy husbands.

Southern High School is teaching its girls such tasks as knife sharpening, fixing light sockets and plugs, picture hanging, rug cleaning and enough carpentry to enable them to put in shelves or build stairs.

The girls are learning to replace window panes, repair ironing cords, fix leaky faucets and even to make minor automobile repairs.

Just picture this, men:

You pull up in the driveway of your little home after a horrendous day at the ribbon factory and walk into the kitchen where the missus is whipping up a lemon souffle for dinner.

"Honey," you complain, "I had a little trouble getting the car started today, better take a look at it when you get time."

She gives the egg whites one last fast turn, slides the souffle into the oven and skips out to the driveway, donning her work smock on the way.

She had meant to clean those spark plugs last week and she knows you'll need the car to go bowling tonight. In a jiffy, the job is done, she's back in the kitchen. The only thing you have to worry about is maybe a trace of grease in the souffle, a small price to pay.

This can happen.

Though the course is only three years old, Principal John H. Schwatka admits encouraging reports are coming back to the school.

One of the girls who graduated and married, presented her loving husband with a handsome set of stair steps. And another said she built a bookcase for dear old dad.

The course is popular. Schwatka says there is constantly a long waiting list, and preference must be given to seniors.

Instruction includes three hours each week in the workshop on such equipment as band saws, jigsaw machines, drill presses, sinks for plumbing work and mock-ups of electrical layouts.

This year, 25 girls, (potential superwives) will graduate.

Learn Flair With Hair

As you probably know, teenagers, the trend away from last year's disheveled Italian cut is continuing very strong. Emphasis is on the neat, sleek, very feminine hairdo.

For you whose hair tends to fly away at the slightest whiff, it is quite a problem to maintain a perfectly sleek style. But if you are patient, you can train your hair in neatnes.

Be certain that you are using a shampoo that is right for your kind of hair. And, should you get a permanent, have one that allows for your hair's fine quality.

For a really perfect appearance, use one of the many liquid sprays now available. When applied carefully, any of these should give the extra control you need without giving your hair that artificial, lacquered look.

To avoid this, we recommend that you spray the preparation onto your hair brush and then brush it through thoroughly. Do this two or three times so that the spray is distributed evenly. Then you should have no trouble combing your hair into place and keeping it there.

Band Keeps Blouse In

Americans love the trim look of a slim skirt coupled with a crisp blouse. But every girl who has ever tried it knows that it's quite a problem maintaining that trim, neat look.

Blouses just won't stay put. As soon as the wearer stretches or reaches a little, her blouse pops up a bit. A few stretches or reaches later, she's not trim-looking at all.

Some brand - new products, just on the market, offer fresh solutions to this problem.

The manufacturer bases his method of blouse control on the same principle that is behind tires. Made of molded rubber covered with tiny raised parts, the grippers are available as bindings, belts and waistbands.

The waistbands can be sewn into the waists of slacks and skirts. They come with white, beige and black backings.

The belt, which is available in three sizes, is made to be worn under skirts and slacks. When worn with high - waisted skirts, it can be worn around the waist. To prevent its being seen above the edge of a regular skirt, the company advises wearing it lower on the body.

The binding, says the firm, can be used to put the brakes on belts that tend to slip above the waist and on any other garments where a gripping action is desired.

In addition to claiming complete effectiveness for the three products, the company guarantees them safe for washing and dry-cleaning.

Leather Takes To Sudsings

One of our loves is here to stay, through spring at least. It's the use of leather as a fashion fabric.

Leather shirts and coats, both long and short versions, are being featured by fashion editors. And, they tell us, leather shorts are destined to make an appearance on the play-time scene.

Leather is big news in accessories, too. Here leather jewelry is getting top billing. Pigskin set in polished gold is expected to be an early favorite.

There will be necklace and bracelet sets aplenty. And, for dramatic effect, wide cuff bracelets of leather will be the thing. Hoop earrings will be seen in leather, too.

One of the many things about leather that pleases is that up-keep poses no problems.

So, even though white and pastel shades are favored by the fashion experts for leather clothes and jewelry, you needn't worry about their being an extravagance.

A cleansing with dry soapsuds is about all they will need to retain their fresh appearance.

Parish P.-T. A. Council Meets Logtown School

Are we prepared to save our lives as well as help someone in case of emergencies? Mrs. David L. Agnew, district F asst. director, civil defense, very interestingly told how this could be done on Wednesday morning at the regular meeting of the Ouachita parish P.-T. A. Council, Logtown School. Mrs. Agnew told of the six phases of civil defense each corrolated and co-ordinated to work together. Schools fit extremely well in this program by public education. An interesting film on self-preservation and survival in case of emergency concluded her talk. Mrs. Neil McHenry, local chairman for Logtown district, told how each local unit could take this vital course.

The second and third grade of Logtown School entertained with a dance "Harts and Darts." Two numbers were sung by the Logtown chorus under the direction of Mrs. Cox.

Mrs. Huddle Grant, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Garland Jones who gave a report on health.

After the Logtown P. - T. A. served refreshments, Mrs. F. D. Luton, council president, presided over the business session. New officers were elected for the coming P.-T. A. year. They are: president, Mrs. Garland Jones, Highland School; vice-president, Mrs. Harold Octgen, Mitchell School; secretary, Mrs. T. L. Stout, Logtown School; treasurer, Mrs. Ralph Murphy, Millsaps School. Mrs. Luton announced a P.-T. A. workshop to be held Monday March 15th at Northeastern College. Registration to begin at 8:30 a. m. The fifth district will give a subscription to the National P.-T. A. Magazine to the unit with ten representatives.

IN AN 18TH CENTURY GARDEN — Four Wisner, La. Garden Club members inspect the beauties of restored 18th century garden in Williamsburg, Va. during the eighth annual Garden Symposium. They are, left to right, Mrs. E. Asa Kiper, Mrs. Chevis Sherrouse, Mrs. A. J. Ensminger, Mrs. Rupert Scott and Mrs. H. M. Stryker, Colonial Williamsburg hostess who conducted the garden tour. The four Wisner visitors came the greatest distance for the first week of the Symposium.

THE HOME SHIFT—

With Mildred Swift

All Invited Tues. For Flower Show

Have you ever seen such a February and March drouth? Hoses are going all around town, and wisely so. Those plants that had plenty of moisture were not touched too much by the heavy frosts.

Spring Gardening

In answer to a lot of calls that are coming in, your ground should be warm enough next week to plant any annuals you want. You can still plant sweet alyssum. Other annuals are zinnia, tithonia (Mexican sun flower), sunflower, scabiosa, salvia, portulaca, periwinkle (can plant until May), nasturtium, morning glory, moonflower, marigold, immortale, Indian summer hollyhock, gafeather, four-o-clock, forget-me-not, African golden daisy, cyprus vine, cosmos, cockscomb, cleome, castor bean, calliopsis, blanket flower, balsam, arctotis. That's a long list for you to choose from.

The blooms of the red buds, pearl bushes, crabapples, flowering peaches, oriental magnolias, and early spireas are almost gone. Now we have the dogwoods, old fashioned bridal wreath, iris, wisteria and azaleas for a short time. Then our summer blooming plants begin their show. Wise is the gardener who has planted for continuous bloom.

The Farmerville Road was beautiful this week and should be a mass of dogwood blossoms today. Last year I told you just that, and on Friday and Saturday (after the column had gone to press) we had heavy rainfall and the temperature dropped. Imagine my embarrassment on Sunday when many of you made the drive—not a blossom in sight. They should be there today by the thousands.

Nature works wonders with colors. She lets the pink and white dogwoods and wisteria all bloom at the same time. Those of you who root pruned your wisterias last October, to get more blooms, please let me know if the job proved successful.

You'll find beautiful dogwoods on the corner of Arkansas and Third Street, Monroe; at the Tom Johnson's, 1700 North 5th; Alf Reids, 112 Hilton; the Fred Fudickars, 1000 Riverside. Lovely wisteria vines are blooming at 3510 DeSiard and 4101 South Grand. North 1st is a short street between Stubbs and Auburn. Be sure to drive up that avenue of wisteria. It's just too beautiful to describe.

Two vines that have been pruned to shrubs are in the neutral ground on the corner of 4th and Glenmar. Any pruning on your wisteria should be done immediately after it blooms—not later than May 1st. Later pruning cuts next year's blooms.

You can start spugging St. Augustine and centipede grass. Don't fertilize at time of planting, unless you use a little cotton seed meal. In about six or eight weeks, after the grass has taken hold and started running, feed with 5-10-5 or 8-8-8. Remember centipede can be sprigged the same way. It's the grass that only has to be mowed about twice during growing season, after you have a complete sod. Zoysia matrello is our finest textured grass that spreads from the roots, rather than by runners like St. Augustine and centipede. It too requires little mowing but spreads slowly and is quite expensive.

Flower Show

Monroe Garden Club flower show will be staged Tuesday, March 23rd at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club. Time — from 2:30 til 7:00 p.m. Everybody is invited to enter in the horticulture section. Get your entries there between 8 and 11 Tuesday. Had you ever thought how much you learn at a flower show? First, you learn new plants and new varieties of old plants. You're reminded again of what blooms and when. You see plants and colors together and therefore get planting ideas. You exchange ideas and plants with your fellow gardener. Honest—one flower show is equal to a course in horticulture to me and—of course, there's the aesthetic side.

An Economical Idea

Bobby and Jeanette Bailey tell me they own a chair that was badly worn and faded. They didn't want to recover right now so they painted it with some of the new rubberized paint. Actually the paint covered the worn places and it doesn't crack at all. Good idea for those who have small children. Never think a chair can't be washed. I took a good stiff brush and detergent and scrubbed one clean last week. Be sure to dry the chair quickly, though, or it will mildew—over the furnace is an ideal place.

A Quick Ice Cream

The little ones are always begging for home made ice cream. Here is a quick, easy recipe. Mix two-thirds of a cup of sweetened condensed milk with a half-cup of water and chill. Whip one cup of heavy cream to custard — like consistency and fold into the chilled mixture. Pour into freezer tray, cover with waxed paper. When frozen to a firm mush turn the mixture into a chilled bowl and beat with a rotary beater until it's fluffy but not melted. Fold in one cup of crushed peppermint stick candy and quickly return it to the freezer tray. Cover with waxed paper and let it freeze until good and firm.

Dates

Friday, April 2nd at 9:30, we'll have a drapery and cornice demonstration at the Agriculture Building, West Monroe. Several are interested and all in Twin Cities are invited.

Note my homemaking show each Tuesday on KNOE-TV has been changed from 2:45 to 2:30. See the results of the hat workshop on the TV show Tuesday.

See you next Sunday.

LILIBET—The 1954 All America Rose selections award winner is named to honor the princess who became Queen Elizabeth II of England. Lilibet, a floribunda, is an ideal plant for borders and bed planting. It produces bouquets of pleasantly fragrant, radiant pink blossoms and compact, dark green foliage, and it blooms unfold continuously throughout the growing season.

QUIZZING THE GARDENER

Q—What do you recommend for the improvement of a heavy clay soil We cannot afford to replace it with topsoil.

A—A two-inch layer of sandy gravel plus a two-inch layer of any organic materials such as manure, peat moss, compost and decayed leaves applied to the surface and thoroughly incorporated by digging or plowing will improve the soil.

Whitening the surface with agricultural lime before spreading the sandy gravel is likewise helpful. Do not rake smooth but allow to stand rough over winter. Next spring work in a 4-12-4 fertilizer when preparing for planting.

The public is cordially invited to attend all the above events. Our flower show at the center this week was staged by the Daffodil Garden Club of Wisner. Mrs. LaMonte Wright and Mrs. E. R. Hays of Ruston served as judges. Mrs. Eldon Brown was awarded first place in the arrangement class for a beautiful hogarth curve in green and white. Using a white milk glass container, Mrs. Brown arranged cedar, bridal wreath, Thalia narcissus and white camellias. Second place award went to Mrs. Gordon Mitchell, Jr. for a monochromatic design in tints and tones of violet. Using a low container harmonizing with the colors of her flowers, Mrs. Mitchell arranged red-bud, stock, anemones and hyacinths. Third place award to Mrs. Yelvie Bondurant, for a dried arrangement in a brown container. Cat-tails, sorghum, grasses, milk-weed pods and bittersweet were combined in a mass arrangement. In the horticulture class, Mrs. Gordon Mitchell, Jr. was awarded a blue ribbon for Red Gerbera. Blue ribbon award also to Mrs. Joe Farley, for Poeticus narcissus, variety Actaea. Mrs. Bill Carroll was awarded a red ribbon for purple iris.

We have had on display this week the most beautiful amaryllis of them all, in my humble opinion. Fantasy, a lovely blush rose, shading into white with a pale green throat. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Josey, our local amaryllis collectors, generously allowed us to display this wonderful plant in the center for all to enjoy. The garden center welcomes any cut flowers or plants that local gardeners wish to display. Norman Taylor's new book "Fragrance in the Garden" has just come to hand. This is delightful reading and will greatly aid the gardener who is planning for day or night fragrance as well as beauty.

Garden Available Day And Night With Outdoor Lighting

There's a light side to gardening —garden lighting, that is.

In daylight, you have natural light to display your garden wares to those you hope will be admiring visitors. There's a great thrill in having someone exclaim over your successes.

But if you've got a few dollars left after the March 15 harvest of the Internal Revenue Bureau, maybe you'll be interested to know that you can enthrall your twilight and evening visitors with your skill in the garden.

Many is the time I've had a visitor in the evening, pointed to the night - darkened garden, and said wistfully, "It's beautiful in the daylight."

Of course, lighting the garden at night doesn't mean a great big Hollywood - opening display. You just want to pick a few really choice, eye - opening, inspiring colorful displays.

With the trend to outdoor living, you know that entertaining is both a day and nighttime job. You have your garden at your disposal 24 hours a day with garden lighting.

Bear one thing in mind — insects are attracted by lights. Just don't go throwing the lighting system too close to the terrace chairs.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Annuals Will Help Garden In Drouth

Annuals are so cheap from seed that you can create a whole summer garden from a few packets of seed They are not cheap from the standpoint of work, however, so be prepared to sow and transplant, to weed and cultivate and nurture them in times of drouth. Your columnist cannot forget an experience with a big batch of zinnias he once planted. The plants grew lustily, and when he had planted all he wanted he just left the rest in the seed beds and started off for the mountains in the heat of summer. A friend plead for the seedlings, and he gave them to her with the warning that there were more than she wanted. Not long afterwards, a letter was received in the cool mountain fastnesses. "Why didn't you warn me!" she said, "We planted zinnias till we were hump - backed and cross-eyed!".

Annuals are just the thing for filling in those open spots in the perennial border if you do not overcrowd your perennial plants and choke them out Annuals will pull your garden through the drouth, too. Some of the most drouth resistant ones will be the very plants which bloom lustily right on through the worst hot weather when the rains fail to come. Do not get the idea that marigolds are drouth resistant, however. They like heat but need water if they are to keep their foliage on. Zinnias are somewhat the same. If you want something for extreme drouth, plant a few seeds of the white argemone toward the back of your flower border. The white cleome or spider plant is another drouth resistant heavy bloomer. We mention the white form because it is not too often seen. Everybody has grown that beautiful pink cleome called "Pink Queen" which won the All-America Silver Medal. Heler Campbell Snow Crown is a handsome white variety, and there is an old white cleome in some gardens and catalogues which has been the mainstay of summer gardens in some southern communities for at least fifty years. These cleomes, including the yellow one which some seed catalogues still carry, are large and a bit weedy. Plant them where they will have plenty of room to bloom in July and August and September. They will go to seed and keep you supplied with seedlings that come up in the beds every year. Yes, there will be too many of them, but you may as well pull up good weeds as bad ones. It seems a little odd to see cleomes or spider flowers, as they are called advertised as novelties when they have been in cultivation in the Old World since 1640.

Some other heat resistant annuals are torenia, annual gaillardia, annual pinks, Madagascar periwinkle, gazania, nicotiana and, of course petunias. The torenias will keep blue alive in the heat along with the perennials Salvia farinacea. In the worst heat when everything loses foliage or looks wilted, the Madagascar periwinkle will still look perfectly fresh. Be sure to get some of the white periwinkle because it is such a clean white. You can raise Salvia Farinacea from seed and have it bloom at the end of the summer if you get the seed planted right away. The varieties called Blue Bedder and Royal Blue are better than just the ordinary kind Of all the South African annuals like dimophotheca, venidiums, Swan River daisies and so on, the orange and black gazanias are the best summer annuals for us in the south. They will put up with our summer conditions best of all.

Beginning gardeners should take note of the following. This is not the time to plant seeds of larkspur, pansies, sweet peas, phacelia, phlox drummondi, Texas bluebonnets, lobelia and other so-called winter annuals. By "winter annuals," we mean that we southerners plant these kinds in the fall or early winter and let the little plants grow all winter. They are half hardy. If the seeds come up before winter, the tiny plants will usually survive the cold weather and grow into lusty plants all ready to bloom in the spring. If they do not come up till very late winter or early spring, they will still be able to grow into good sized flowering plants by spring

IN AN 18TH CENTURY GARDEN — Four Wisner, La. Garden Club members inspect the beauties of restored 18th century garden in Williamsburg, Va. during the eighth annual Garden Symposium. They are, left to right, Mrs. E. Asa Kiper, Mrs. Chevis Sherrouse, Mrs. A. J. Ensminger, Mrs. Rupert Scott and Mrs. H. M. Stryker, Colonial Williamsburg hostess who conducted the garden tour. The four Wisner visitors came the greatest distance for the first week of the Symposium.

THE HOME SHIFT—

All Invited Tues. For Flower Show

Have you ever seen such a February and March drouth? Hoses are going all around town, and wisely so. Those plants that had plenty of moisture were not touched too much by the heavy frosts.

Spring Gardening

In answer to a lot of calls that are coming in, your ground should be warm enough next week to plant any annuals you want. You can still plant sweet alyssum. Other annuals are zinnia, tithonia (Mexican sun flower), sunflower, scabiosa, salvia, portulaca, periwinkle (can plant until May), nasturtium, morning glory, moonflower, marigold, immortale, Indian summer hollyhock, gafeather, four-o-clock, forget-me-not, African golden daisy, cyprus vine, cosmos, cockscomb, cleome, castor bean, calliopsis, blanket flower, balsam, arctotis. That's a long list for you to choose from.

The blooms of the red buds, pearl bushes, crabapples, flowering peaches, oriental magnolias, and early spireas are almost gone. Now we have the dogwoods, old fashioned bridal wreath, iris, wisteria and azaleas for a short time. Then our summer blooming plants begin their show. Wise is the gardener who has planted for continuous bloom.

The Farmerville Road was beautiful this week and should be a mass of dogwood blossoms today. Last year I told you just that, and on Friday and Saturday (after the column had gone to press) we had heavy rainfall and the temperature dropped. Imagine my embarrassment on Sunday when many of you made the drive—not a blossom in sight. They should be there today by the thousands.

Nature works wonders with colors. She lets the pink and white dogwoods and wisteria all bloom at the same time. Those of you who root pruned your wisterias last October, to get more blooms, please let me know if the job proved successful.

You'll find beautiful dogwoods on the corner of Arkansas and Third Street, Monroe; at the Tom Johnson's, 1700 North 5th; Alf Reids, 112 Hilton; the Fred Fudickars, 1000 Riverside. Lovely wisteria vines are blooming at 3510 DeSiard and 4101 South Grand. North 1st is a short street between Stubbs and Auburn. Be sure to drive up that avenue of wisteria. It's just too beautiful to describe.

Two vines that have been pruned to shrubs are in the neutral ground on the corner of 4th and Glenmar. Any pruning on your wisteria should be done immediately after it blooms—not later than May 1st. Later pruning cuts next year's blooms.

You can start spugging St. Augustine and centipede grass. Don't fertilize at time of planting, unless you use a little cotton seed meal. In about six or eight weeks, after the grass has taken hold and started running, feed with 5-10-5 or 8-8-8. Remember centipede can be sprigged the same way. It's the grass that only has to be mowed about twice during growing season, after you have a complete sod. Zoysia matrello is our finest textured grass that spreads from the roots, rather than by runners like St. Augustine and centipede. It too requires little mowing but spreads slowly and is quite expensive.

Flower Show

Monroe Garden Club flower show will be staged Tuesday, March 23rd at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club. Time — from 2:30 til 7:00 p.m. Everybody is invited to enter in the horticulture section. Get your entries there between 8 and 11 Tuesday. Had you ever thought how much you learn at a flower show? First, you learn new plants and new varieties of old plants. You're reminded again of what blooms and when. You see plants and colors together and therefore get planting ideas. You exchange ideas and plants with your fellow gardener. Honest—one flower show is equal to a course in horticulture to me and—of course, there's the aesthetic side.

An Economical Idea

Bobby and Jeanette Bailey tell me they own a chair that was badly worn and faded. They didn't want to recover right now so they painted it with some of the new rubberized paint. Actually the paint covered the worn places and it doesn't crack at all. Good idea for those who have small children. Never think a chair can't be washed. I took a good stiff brush and detergent and scrubbed one clean last week. Be sure to dry the chair quickly, though, or it will mildew—over the furnace is an ideal place.

A Quick Ice Cream

The little ones are always begging for home made ice cream. Here is a quick, easy recipe. Mix two-thirds of a cup of sweetened condensed milk with a half-cup of water and chill. Whip one cup of heavy cream to custard — like consistency and fold into the chilled mixture. Pour into freezer tray, cover with waxed paper. When frozen to a firm mush turn the mixture into a chilled bowl and beat with a rotary beater until it's fluffy but not melted. Fold in one cup of crushed peppermint stick candy and quickly return it to the freezer tray. Cover with waxed paper and let it freeze until good and firm.

Dates

Friday, April 2nd at 9:30, we'll have a drapery and cornice demonstration at the Agriculture Building, West Monroe. Several are interested and all in Twin Cities are invited.

Note my homemaking show each Tuesday on KNOE-TV has been changed from 2:45 to 2:30. See the results of the hat workshop on the TV show Tuesday.

See you next Sunday.

LILIBET—The 1954 All America Rose selections award winner is named to honor the princess who became Queen Elizabeth II of England. Lilibet, a floribunda, is an ideal plant for borders and bed planting. It produces bouquets of pleasantly fragrant, radiant pink blossoms and compact, dark green foliage, and it blooms unfold continuously throughout the growing season.

"Why didn't you warn me!" she said, "We planted zinnias till we were hump - backed and cross-eyed!".

Annuals are just the thing for filling in those open spots in the perennial border if you do not overcrowd your perennial plants and choke them out. Annuals will pull your garden through the drouth, too. Some of the most drouth resistant ones will be the very plants which bloom lustily right on through the worst hot weather when the rains fail to come. Do not get the idea that marigolds are drouth resistant, however. They like heat but need water if they are to keep their foliage on. Zinnias are somewhat the same. If you want something for extreme drouth, plant a few seeds of the white argemone toward the back of your flower border. The white cleome or spider plant is another drouth resistant heavy bloomer. We mention the white form because it is not too often seen. Everybody has grown that beautiful pink cleome called "Pink Queen" which won the All-America Silver Medal. Heler Campbell Snow Crown is a handsome white variety, and there is an old white cleome in some gardens and catalogues which has been the mainstay of summer gardens in some southern communities for at least fifty years. These cleomes, including the yellow one which some seed catalogues still carry, are large and a bit weedy. Plant them where they will nave plenty of room to bloom in July and August and September. They will go to seed and keep you supplied with seedlings that come up in the beds every year. Yes, there will be too many of them, but you may as well pull up good weeds as bad ones. It seems a little odd to see cleomes or spider flowers, as they are called advertised as novelties when they have been in cultivation in the Old World since 1640.

Some other heat resistant annuals are torenia, annual gaillardia, annual pinks, Madagascar periwinkle, gazania, nicotiana and, of course petunias. The torenias will keep blue alive in the heat along with the perennials Salvia farinacea. In the worst heat when everything loses foliage or looks wilted, the Madagascar periwinkle will still look perfectly fresh. Be sure to get some of the white periwinkle because it is such a clean white. You can raise Salvia Farinacea from seed and have it bloom at the end of the summer if you get the seed planted right away. The varieties called Blue Bedder and Royal Blue are better than just the ordinary kind. Of all the South African annuals like dimophotheca, venidiums, Swan River daisies and so on, the orange and black gazanias are the best summer annuals for us in the south. They will put up with our summer conditions best of all.

Beginning gardeners should take note of the following. This is not the time to plant seeds of larkspur, pansies, sweet peas, phacelia, phlox drummondi, Texas bluebonnets, lobelia and other so-called winter annuals. By "winter annuals," we mean that we southerners plant these kinds in the fall or early winter and let the little plants grow all winter. They are half hardy. If the seeds come up before winter, the tiny plants will usually survive the cold weather and grow into lusty plants all ready to bloom in the spring. If they do not come up till very late winter or early spring, they will still be able to grow into good sized flowering plants by spring

We are living in a day when big things are emphasized. We are prone to overlook the importance of little things and small deeds but these little things in life can become very significant. Jesus stressed this in His teachings—little deeds of ministry—words spoken, a cup of water given in His name, a small service rendered here and there all of these are important if they are the best that we can do. The question we need to ask ourselves is, are we doing the best we can?

Bible Comment

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

Some of the world's teachers have been content to teach by precept rather than by example. Their personal lives have often been at variance with the things they have taught. They have said, in effect: "Do as I say, but not as I do."

But the greatest teachers, and the greatest Teacher of all, have taught by example as well as by precept. What they have taught they also manifested and put into practice in their own lives.

Jesus gave to the world the greatest and most demanding teaching of all. He summed it up in the New Commandment of love (John 13:34), and that teaching is the greatest and most demanding of all because there is no limit to love.

Jesus said: "A new commandment I give unto you. That ye love one another, as I have loved you."

In His own love for men He set the standard by which men should love one another. In Jesus is the profound and supreme manifestation of teaching by example. He dared to say, "Do as I do."

He rebuked those who professed allegiance to Him, but did not practice what He said: "Why call ye Me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things that I say?" (Luke 6:46).

He enforced that rebuke with the Parable of the two men, the one who built his house on the sure foundation of rock, and the other who built upon sand.

What strikes one as tragic is the vast discrepancy between the plain te ching of Jesus concerning love, and what has happened in 20 so-called "Christian centuries."

Not only has so-called "Christendom" been blackened by international jealousies, hatreds, wars and interracial prejudices, but even in churches and sects anything but love has prevailed.

Well might the Christ say: "Ye call Me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things that I say."

We may rejoice that so many truly love the Lord and seek to follo . His example and His teachings. But beyond them is that vast multitude whose profession of the Christian name is a mockery and a tragedy when one considers the loveless nature of their lives and attitudes.

How is it that Jesus and His parables have so little meaning for them? What can be done to bring these lives into harmony with the realities of the religion they profess?

Is a widespread reading of the New Testament the answer? It might be, but while the Bible is still the best seller among books, one wonders whether it is the best read. There is a great difference.

Many who read the Bible read it for indoctrination and controversy, neglecting the plain, simple teaching of the Gospels concerning love and the example that Jesus gave.

"He that loveth not his brother whom he hath se

We are living in a day when big things are emphasized. We are prone to overlook the importance of little things and small deeds, but these little things in life can become very significant. Jesus stressed this in His teachings—little deeds of ministry—woods spoken, a cup of water given in His name, a small service rendered here and there—all of these are important if they are the best that we can do. The question we need to ask ourselves is, are we doing the best we can?

Bible Comment

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

Some of the world's teachers have been content to teach by precept rather than by example. Their personal lives have often been at variance with the things they have taught. They have said, in effect: "Do as I say, but not as I do."

But the greatest teachers, and the greatest Teacher of all, have taught by example as well as by precept. What they have taught they also manifested and put into practice in their own lives.

Jesus gave to the world the greatest and most demanding teaching of all. He summed it up in the New Commandment of love (John 13:34), and that teaching is the greatest and most demanding of all because there is no limit to love.

Jesus said: "A new commandment I give unto you. That ye love one another, as I have loved you."

In His own love for men He set the standard by which men should love one another. In Jesus is the profound and supreme manifestation of teaching by example. He dared to say, "Do as I do."

He rebuked those who professed allegiance to Him, but did not practice what He said: "Why call ye Me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things that I say?" (Luke 6:46).

He enforced that rebuke with the Parable of the two men, the one who built his house on the sure foundation of rock, and the other who built upon sand.

What strikes one as tragic is the vast discrepancy between the plain teaching of Jesus concerning love, and what has happened in 20 so-called "Christian centuries."

Not only has so-called "Christendom" been blackened by international jealousies, hatreds, wars and interracial prejudices, but even in churches and sects anything but love has prevailed.

Well might the Christ say: "Ye call Me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things that I say."

We may rejoice that so many truly love the Lord and seek to follow His example and His teachings. But beyond them is that vast multitude whose profession of the Christian name is a mockery and a tragedy when one considers the loveless nature of their lives and attitudes.

How is it that Jesus and His parables have so little mea

Open For Prayer

Across the rain-washed park I walked, pushing the carriage in which my little son slept, safe and snug under the sheltering hood. The sky, though it seemed to have drained itself dry hours ago, was darkly threatening once more and no hint of sunlight relieved the continuing gloom. A gusty wind whipped at my raincoat. I paused to fasten my scarf more securely under my chin.

Big raindrops splashed resoundingly in the thin roof over the baby's head. But still he slept, lost in a little world of his own into which no adult could enter.

I, too, was lost in a world of my own, but certainly not the placid kind of world I saw reflected on my baby's face. Mine was a world of chaos and bewilderment, of loneliness and shattered dreams. Even the daily walk in the park with my son could not dispel the shroud of hopelessness that had been with me since morning. For in my raincoat pocket were the words in harsh, shocking black and white that told me I must go on alone, being father as well as mother to my child.

The cruel piece of paper from the War Department crackled inside my coat as I walked. Overhead the bare, black branches of the trees moaned as if they, too, suffered a secret sorrow. Or were they giving voice to the anguish that I had not yet been able to express?

I pushed the carriage on, my numb brain whispering helplessly to itself: What shall I do? What shall I do?

Added to the weight of sorrow was the weight of responsibility. I looked at the innocently sleeping child and thought of the enormity of the task of rearing him to solid, respectable manhood—a task that is awesome even for two people working together. But for one person alone . . . I shuddered with the sense of my own inadequacy. How could I go on alone?

As if in answer to my unspoken question, there came a sweet, inviting sound ringing out across the park above the sighing of the wind and the moaning of the trees. The bells of a nearby church were chiming.

I looked up at its spire rising straight and sure like a beam of light into the dull gray sky. As if drawn by a magnetic force, I began walking toward it. In the front of the church was a small sign which I must have seen many times but had never before heeded:

OPEN FOR PRAYER

It had been years since I had entered a church, and I was not sure that I would even remember how to pray. But I knew the sign was meant for me. Leaving the carriage in the sheltered entryway, I stepped inside.

A feeling of peace and relaxation came over me, even though I could not find the words for a prayer. It did not matter. My being there was a prayer.

After countless minutes of precious solitude, I rose to go to my child. At the door I paused to scan a small bulletin board, and on it I found the answer to the prayer I had been unable to utter. It was as if someone had spoken to me, reassuring, promising. I repeated the printed words aloud: "As thy days, so shall thy strength be."

A heaviness dropped from my shoulders. I lifted my chin and found as I repeated the words once more, that I had found the courage I needed. But it was more than courage; it was a deep, abiding faith that God would give me strength for all the days that lay ahead.

Outside, the baby lay wide awake in his carriage, waiting quietly and happily in the trusting certainty that I would be there to care for him. I smiled down at him, sharing his feeling of being entrusted to tender, loving care. My son could rest secure in the faith that he would be fed, clothed, and loved. As for me, I was secure in the faith that my needs, too, would be met; I would have strength for my day.

The days have passed—more than a thousand of them—and some of them have been hard. But God has not failed me. He has been there always, giving courage when courage was needed, solace when solace was needed, strength when my own weakness appalled me. And I have gathered spiritual strength as my son has gained in physical strength—learning first to creep; then to stand erect, to take hesitating steps, finally walking at last with confidence—walking with God.

Open For Prayer

Across the rain-washed park I walked, pushing the carriage in which my little son slept, safe and snug under the sheltering hood. The sky, though it seemed to have drained itself dry hours ago, was darkly threatening once more and no hint of sunlight relieved the continuing gloom. A gusty wind whipped at my raincoat. I paused to fasten my scarf more securely under my chin.

Big raindrops splashed resoundingly in the thin roof over the baby's head. But still he slept, lost in a little world of his own into which no adult could enter.

I, too, was lost in a world of my own, but certainly not the placid kind of world I saw reflected on my baby's face. Mine was a world of chaos and bewilderment, of loneliness and shattered dreams. Even the daily walk in the park with my son could not dispel the shroud of hopelessness that had been with me since morning. For in my raincoat pocket were the words in harsh, shocking black and white that told me I must go on alone, being father as well as mother to my child.

The cruel piece of paper from the War Department crackled inside my coat as I walked. Overhead the bare, black branches of the trees moaned as if they, too, suffered a secret sorrow. Or were they giving voice to the anguish that I had not yet been able to express?

I pushed the carriage on, my numb brain whispering helplessly to itself: What shall I do? What shall I do?

Added to the weight of sorrow was the weight of responsibility. I looked at the innocently sleeping child and thought of the enormity of the task of rearing him to solid, respectable manhood—a task that is awesome even for two people working together. But for one person alone . . . I shuddered with the sense of my own inadequacy. How could I go on alone?

As if in answer to my unspoken question, there came a sweet, inviting sound ringing out across the park above the sighing of the wind and the moaning of the trees. The bells of a nearby church were chiming.

I looked up at its spire rising straight and sure like a beam of light into the dull gray sky. As if drawn by a magnetic force, I began walking toward it. In the front of the church was a small sign which I must have seen many times but had never before heeded:

OPEN FOR PRAYER

It had been years since I had entered a church, and I was not sure that I would even remember how to pray. But I knew the sign was meant for me. Leaving the carriage in the sheltered entryway, I stepped inside.

A feeling of peace and relaxation came over me, even though I could not find the words for a prayer. It did not matter. My being there was a prayer.

After countless minutes of precious solitude, I rose to go to my child. At the door I paused to scan a small bulletin board, and on it I found the answer to the prayer I had been unable to utter. It was as if someone had spoken to me, reassuring, promising. I repeated the printed words aloud: "As thy days, so shall thy strength be."

A heaviness dropped from my shoulders. I lifted my chin and found as I repeated the words once more, that I had found the courage I needed. But it was more than courage; it was a deep, abiding faith that God would give me strength for all the days that lay ahead.

Outside, the baby lay wide awake in his carriage, waiting quietly and happily in the trusting certainty that I would be there to care for him. I smiled down at him, sharing his feeling of being entrusted to tender, loving care. My son could rest secure in the faith that he would be fed, clothed, and loved. As for me, I was secure in the faith that my needs, too, would be met; I would have strength for my day.

The days have passed—more than a thousand of them—and some of them have been hard. But God has not failed me. He has been there always, giving courage when courage was needed, solace when solace was needed, strength when my own weakness appalled me. And I have gathered spiritual strength as my son has gained in physical strength—learning first to creep; then to stand erect, to take hesitating steps, finally walking at last with confidence—walking with God.

THIS IS ONE IN A SERIES OF ADVERTISEMENTS BEING SPONSORED BY OUTSTANDING INDUSTRIES AND ESTABLISHMENTS

"BENEATH THE 12-MILE REEF"—Robert Wagner and Terry Moore are the young lovers in a modern-day Romeo-Juliet romance in Twentieth Century-Fox's "Beneath the 12-Mile Reef," which opens Sunday, March 28, at the Joy Theatre in Rayville. The film story centers around the rivalry that exists among the deep-sea sponge fishermen off the coast of Florida and shows the marine wonders below the ocean for the first time in panoramic CinemaScope process in Technicolor. Gilbert Roland is also starred in the cast which includes J. Carroll Naish and Richard Boone.

'12-Mile Reef' Will Be Shown In Rayville

A series of small thin tubes bobbing on the surface of the Gulf of Mexico marked the stage setting for one of the most curious and hazardous attempts for realism in motion pictures yet to be achieved. These were the life-lines to the human actors and camera crew intent on shooting underwater sequences for the brilliant CinemaScope film, "Beneath the 12-Mile Reef," filmed in color by Technicolor, coming to the Joy Theatre in Rayville beginning Sunday, March 28.

Sharing stellar honors with the crew and cast headed by Robert Wagner, Terry Moore and Gilbert Roland in their out-of-this-world adventures was a specially fitted "monster" valued at a cool $20,000. It was a French designed underwater camera — the Aquaflex — fitted with the revolutionary CinemaScope lens and its own special light equipment to capture the action in underwater combat of the sponge-divers of the story. So precious was the camera that it caused Director Robert Webb to improve on Jules La Verne to worry "there goes '20,000 dollars under the sea." At the technical helm of this operation was a tall, mustachioed man who is perhaps the best-known figure in Tarpon Springs, Florida the location for the filming of the Twentieth Century-Fox production. He is John M. Gonatos, deep-sea diver and frustrated actor who at last combined the two arts for the film about the colorful sponge fisherman known to the Florida coast. His advice and assistance gave the stars and camera crew confidence and ability for these unusual scenes. The dangerous assignments were shared equally by Bob Wagner and Gilbert Roland, who descended below the surface of the Gulf of Mexico in full diving regalia for extensive underwater explorations. Where they went, so followed the aquaflex and its talented crew while that other crew who guarded their air hoses remained alert aboard the "Aegli" for any possible interference.

As for the other underwater dangers, Johnny admitted that a diver is not a good insurance risk for two good reasons, the shark and the sharp-toothed barracuda. Sharks he had found to be curious but he has never known one in his experience to have attacked a diver. It's just not comfortable to have them around.

DEEP SOUTH QUARTET

Two Quartets To Present Concert Here March 30

A three - hour gospel concert, featuring Wally Fowler and his Oak Ridge Quartet from Nashville, Tenn., and the Deep South Quartet from Atlanta, Ga., will be held at the West Monroe High School at 8 p. m. March 30, it was announced Saturday.

The Deep South Quartet has been organized only about four months. It features Kat Freeman, who formerly sang first tenor for the Statesman Quartet, and the master of ceremonies will be a former member of the Rangers quartet, Jimmy Jones, who sings the deep bass.

Second tenor will be Bob Crews, a former member of the Harmoneers Quartet, and Wally Varner, formerly with the Homeland Harmony Quartet, will be at the piano. Brownie Jones, a brother of Jimmy Jones, will handle the baritone.

It is reported that this group is sweeping the country, filling some of the larger auditoriums throughout the south and east.

The Oak Ridge Quartet, well-known in the Twin Cities, has undergone some reorganizing and Fowler says of it:

"I now have the greatest quartet I have ever had and I have several new arrangements that are making hits all over this country."

The program is being sponsored by the Ouachita Gospel Singing Club.

Police Recover Power Chain Saw

Monroe city police Saturday morning recovered a power chain saw stolen earlier from Addie Caples of West Monroe, according to police reports.

The reports said the saw was found about 3:30 a.m. Saturday by a beat patrolman, discarded in an alley behind the Alvis Hotel. Questioning of cab drivers in the area revealed two youths had been seen with the saw earlier in the day, but there was no clue as to their identity.

Detectives said the saw was stolen from the Caples'home in West Monroe "sometime during the past two days."

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off

Answer to Question No. 1

1. No. Psychiatrist D. H. Fink says in "Release From Nervous Tension," "You cannot have a harsh emotion if all of your muscles are completely relaxed." Hate, jealousy and fear cause you to tense your muscles.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Probably. I get many letters about this from anxious parents, and the best answer is that it depends on the personality of the child. After studying many researches, if I had a healthy, bright boy (or girl) I'd skip him at least two grades. Most studies show that it is not wise to compel them to dawdle along with slower children. Even "enriched" programs delay their getting into college and their life work.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes. Doctors at Albany, N.Y. medical college find that twice as many girls as boys have birth marks. Usually these are on the neck and face just where a woman doesn't want them (unless they are tiny cheek moles, then they are "beauty spots.") Doctors believe that the female hormones may be the cause of the greater number of birth marks on girls. The notion that the mother's fright causes birth marks is nonsense.

Solution Of Today's Puzzle In Classified Section

"BENEATH THE 12-MILE REEF"—Robert Wagner and Terry Moore are the young lovers in a modern-day Romeo-Juliet romance in Twentieth Century-Fox's "Beneath the 12-Mile Reef," which opens Sunday, March 28, at the Joy Theatre in Rayville. The film story centers around the rivalry that exists among the deep-sea sponge fishermen off the coast of Florida and shows the marine wonders below the ocean for the first time in panoramic CinemaScope process in Technicolor. Gilbert Roland is also starred in the cast which includes J. Carroll Naish and Richard Boone.

'12-Mile Reef' Will Be Shown In Rayville

A series of small thin tubes bobbing on the surface of the Gulf of Mexico marked the stage setting for one of the most curious and hazardous attempts for realism in motion pictures yet to be achieved. These were the life-lines to the human actors and camera crew intent on shooting underwater sequences for the brilliant CinemaScope film, "Beneath the 12-Mile Reef," filmed in color by Technicolor, coming to the Joy Theatre in Rayville beginning Sunday, March 28.

Sharing stellar honors with the crew and cast headed by Robert Wagner, Terry Moore and Gilbert Roland in their out-of-this-world adventures was a specially fitted "monster" valued at a cool $20,000. It was a French designed underwater camera — the Aquaflex — fitted with the revolutionary CinemaScope lens and its own special light equipment to capture the action in underwater combat of the sponge-divers of the story. So precious was the camera that it caused Director Robert Webb to improve on Jules La Verne to worry "there goes '20,000 dollars under the sea."

At the technical helm of this operation was a tall, mustachioed man who is perhaps the best-known figure in Tarpon Springs, Florida the location for the filming of the Twentieth Century-Fox production. He is John M. Gonatos, deep-sea diver and frustrated actor who at last combined the two arts for the film about the colorful sponge fisherman known to the Florida coast. His advice and assistance gave the stars and camera crew confidence and ability for these unusual scenes. The dangerous assignments were shared equally by Bob Wagner and Gilbert Roland, who descended below the surface of the Gulf of Mexico in full diving regalia for extensive underwater explorations. Where they went, so followed the aquaflex and its talented crew while that other crew who guarded their air hoses remained alert aboard the "Aegli" for any possible interference.

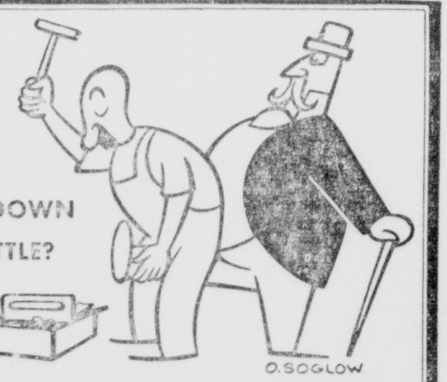

As for the other underwater dangers, Johnny admitted that a diver is not a good insurance risk for two good reasons, the shark and the sharp-toothed barracuda. Sharks he had found to be curious but he has never known one in his experience to have attacked a diver. It's just not comfortable to have them around.

Police Recover Power Chain Saw

Monroe city police Saturday morning recovered a power chain saw stolen earlier from Addie Caples of West Monroe, according to police reports.

The reports said the saw was found about 3:30 a.m. Saturday by a beat patrolman, discarded in an alley behind the Alvis Hotel. Questioning of cab drivers in the area revealed two youths had been seen with the saw earlier in the day, but there was no clue as to their identity.

Detectives said the saw was stolen from the Caples'home in West Monroe "sometime during the past two days."

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off

Answer to Question No. 1

1. No. Psychiatrist D. H. Fink says in "Release From Nervous Tension," "You cannot have a harsh emotion if all of your muscles are completely relaxed." Hate, jealousy and fear cause you to tense your muscles.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Probably. I get many letters about this from anxious parents, and the best answer is that it depends on the personality of the child. After studying many researches, if I had a healthy, bright boy (or girl) I'd skip him at least two grades. Most studies show that it is not wise to compel them to dawdle along with slower children. Even "enriched" programs delay their getting into college and their life work.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes. Doctors at Albany, N.Y. medical college find that twice as many girls as boys have birth marks. Usually these are on the neck and face just where a woman doesn't want them (unless they are tiny cheek moles, then they are "beauty spots.") Doctors believe that the female hormones may be the cause of the greater number of birth marks on girls. The notion that the mother's fright causes birth marks is nonsense.

'Hondo', Western Saga In 3-D, At Paramount

STARS IN "HONDO"—John Wayne meets Geraldine Page and Lee Aaker on a lonely plain in a scene from "Hondo", an outdoor drama filmed in WarnerColor and 3-D. The film opens Wednesday at the Paramount theatre.

With John Wayne starring in the title role, "Hondo," Warner Bros. new 3-D drama which will also serve to introduce Broadway star Geraldine Page, arrives on Wednesday at the Paramount Theatre.

Produced by Wayne-Fellows in WarnerColor," "Hondo," adapted from a recent novel by Louis L'Amour, is the story of a man who kills an outlaw and then must travel to tell the man's widow. Filmed on location in the wilds near Camargo, Mexico, "Hondo" is said to contain at the same time some of the most awe-inspiring scenery and fearsome living conditions ever confronted by a film company. Over 110 degree temperatures were not uncommon in the land where snakes, Gila monsters and floods were part of everyday life.

With such authentic backgrounds, director John Farrow and his stars, Wayne and Geraldine Page, put together a film reported to be the best in a long list of hits for the "Duke," No. 1 U. S. boxoffice star. Grim, two-fisted action is the keynote although romance is present in large part.

Miss Page, the slender, blonde actress making her starring debut in "Hondo" has the enviable record of being the only woman in the cast, which numbers hundreds of men in some of the climactic scenes. Miss Page is a product of Chicago drama schools and the New York theatres. Roundly applauded for her performance in the Broadway hit, "Midsummer," Miss Page was tested and signed to appear in "Hondo" by producer Robert Fellows on the recommendation of John Wayne.

Wayne, having recently been seen in such hits as "The Quiet Man" and "The Sands of Iwo Jima," wears the crown as the nation's number one boxoffice star. As co-producer of "Hondo," he personally selected the site for the filming of this, the latest Wayne-Fellows production for Warner Bros.

The story is a strong yarn about a grim man who must fight in a gun battle not of his choosing. When he kills the outlaw, he takes off through desert and mountain wilderness to reach the man's wife who had been deserted in hostile Apache territory. How he finds her, falls in love, and then must tell her of his deed is the line of the powerful story fashioned first as a best-selling book by Louis L'Amour, later adapated for the screen by James Edward Grant. John Farrow directed for producer Robert Fellows.

In Hollywood

How Can I Get In Pictures?

By GLENN DENNING
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, March 20—Thousands of Americans, young and old, are continually asking the question: "How can I break into motion pictures?" There's no magic formula to accomplish this but there are certain guideposts along the way traveled by us who work in Hollywood. And I have had my share of learning. From my experience and observation, I tell my story.

First of all, analyze yourself as to your talents or potential talents. Have you the aptitude for acting and have you the stamina and courage to bound back every time a door is slammed in your face? Believe me, that door-slamming routine is tough to take gracefully, but it's all part of the job of becoming established in Hollywood. Persistence, coupled with tact and diplomacy to avoid annoying your contacts, is an important keynote to your undertaking. But don't forget that bounce back when the answer is an emphatic "no," which one hears far too often in crashing the golden gates.

An attractive appearance - especially if you're a woman - is a tremendous asset. This naturally applies to a good figure, too. But poise and the ability to wear clothes also is important, in addition to the ability to act. On the other side of the picture, ugly looks, particularly in the man, can be an advantage in connection with character roles-what you might call "off beat" looks which distinguish a person from the average men or woman.

When you've decided that Hollywood really has a professional spot for you, then try to prepare yourself as an actor or actress. Perhaps you can locate a good school of acting in your home town, but be sure it's not the "racket" type. There are too many phony schools preying upon Hollywood hopefuls.

Another excellent approach is via a local little theater or stock company, which affords splendid training in all phases of show business. Even a so-called "walk on" might provide a good start for your career, as modest as it may seem. Many of our greatest troupers began their careers in this fashion.

I suggest that you study the performances of fine players in every medium — from television to the movies, and, of course, the stage. This affords a genuinely worthwhile approach to an acting career. Notice how they handle themselves while on stage. Don't ape them in detail but merely observe their techniques. Especially watch character players.

But be sure to study all types of troupers, male and female. Try to discover what makes them click professionally. If you're a woman, experiment with hair-dos to find one that most compliments you. And watch your wardrobe to be certain that what you wear dramatizes your best physical features. Good taste often is more important than plenty of money to squander, so don't let a small pocketbook demoralize you in this respect. Be careful to avoid clothes which make you look theatrical to a degree of absurdity or bad taste.

Don't invade Hollywood unless you have a definite commitment or a lot of those good American dollars. Preferably, you should have both. There are a lot of hungry actors in Hollywood right now, when production is at a low ebb and jobs are scarce as gold nuggets at Hollywood and Vine.

Too much stress cannot be placed on proper and adequate financing in connection with such a venture. Don't rely upon nebulous promises or hopes. That's the quick way to be hungry. Build up that bankroll before you try your luck in this celluloid area. There's no friend like a bank account, with the possible exception of our own mother.

Be careful to avoid clothes which make you look theatrical to a degree of absurdity or bad taste.

Don't invade Hollywood unless you have a definite commitment or a lot of those good American dollars. Preferably, you should have both. There are a lot of hungry actors in Hollywood right now, when production is at a low ebb and jobs are scarce as gold nuggets at Hollywood and Vine.

Too much stress cannot be placed on proper and adequate financing in connection with such a venture. Don't rely upon nebulous promises or hopes. That's the quick way to be hungry. Build up that bankroll before you try your luck in this celluloid area. There's no friend like a bank account, with the possible exception of our own mother.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

More Jobs Now Open To The Older Woman

Many women must make their own living or some must add to the family income.

People are living longer and longer and remaining youthful for years longer than they used to. Life expectancy has been increased 20 years in the past 50. Not long ago a woman was actually considered old at 40 while she is not even thought of as middle aged today at that age.

This is wonderful but it poses some problems. It was always too bad to retire men at 60 or 65 when they were at the peak of their usefulness and in good health, and the age restrictions in the classified advertisements have always been absolutely ridiculous.

But in the light of today's well cared for woman or man of 40, 50, 60 and even 70, this situation is laughable. Business and the professions are beginning to take notice of this and to act.

Now Hire Oldsters

I know of two banks myself which are now employing older women, even on a part time basis when they have home duties which make full time impossible. In many territories practical nursing has taken off the age ban. Henry Ford was a pioneer in employing the older worker.

According to the Women's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, the median age of the five million women employed as clerical workers is 31 and the clerical occupations monopolize 42 per cent of all women under 25 years in the labor force.

This has been a terrific problem for thousands of so-called middle-aged women. The majority of these women are in good health and they have the edge on the younger woman because of experience and greater reliability and in the older group there is less change - over because of marriage.

Looking Up

Many women past 35 must make their own living and with the high cost of living and big taxes many more must add some to the family income.

Well, things are looking up! Things are changing! Take heart! The Women's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor sponsored two experiments, the results of which are quite enlightening. And let me tell you a secret, today there is a shortage of young women workers.

I feel that these thoughts and facts have a rightful place in a Why Grow Old? column because nothing so drastically and negatively affects health and happiness, personality and prolonged youthfulness, as worry, fear and despair. Anyway, I like to help you whenever I can.

Tomorrow I will give you the results of these experiments with the older woman at work. They will delight you.

Tomorrow: "You Can Return to Work; Other Older Women Are."

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: Please allow me to say a word to "Brown Eyes," who found a telephone number in her husband's pocket. I found one, too, refused to believe my husband's story that a co-worker had put it there as a practical joke and to start trouble and before you know it we were divorced. I spent a solid year afterward trailing my ex-husband to find "that other woman" and settle with her. I never found her and know now he told the truth. My friends tell me I am lucky that I did not have a child, but I know my former husband is the only man I would ever want as the father of my child. Now, I'm sitting around hoping and praying he will make the first approach toward a reconciliation. — Joan

Dear Ann: There's another solution to "Brown Eyes," plight. She could have dialed the number or the telephone exchange operator of the same exchange and found out to whom the phone belonged. Then, it would have been simple for her to ask hubby, "Dear, who is Miriam Sandgrinder?" over the morning coffee. If he chokes on his coffee that is a sure sign that something is amiss concerning the Miriam Sandgrinder dame (or wife's coffee!) . . . In other words she can tell from his reaction.— C. N.

Dear Mrs. Landers: I just read "Marty's" problem and let me tell him that his wife doesn't know how lucky she is that he makes enough money to support her without having to work. She should count her blessings! I have worked ever since we married and would give anything to stay at home dressed in an apron to cook, bake and entertain. Homemaking is my only ambition! — Old-Fashioned Dot

Dean Ann Landers: Please tell D. A., the woman whose husband criticized her method of vacuuming, that if I were in her shoes, I would take the vacuum cleaner and let him have it on the top of his head. As for his spanking the children at their ages, he should be horsewhipped and I'd like to do it.—A Friend

Dear Ann Landers: Where do you and other writers get the right to malign bachelors the way you do?

You make the word sound as if it were a degrading situation and that the bachelors themselves were unsound of mind and body. I, personally, have never married nor do I ever intend to I have never, in fact, thought that either marriage or women were wortry of much thought.

I studied the matter of marriage very carefully long ago (14 years ago, when I was 16) and I came to the conclusion that the pains and hurts and disadvantages far outweighed any joys or advantages. No, I am not a woman-hater. I neither love nor hate any living creature I believe in neither helping nor hurting anyone . . . that way I can never be hurt myself.

If I never heard a human voice or saw another human face until I die I would have no regrets or heartaches neither would I leave anyone to regret or mourn my passing. — Alone, but Not Lonely

Dear Ann: It is no small wonder we have so many determined and confirmed bachelors when they read the complaints of wives in your column. How can any man see a picture of married bliss when 85 per cent of the letters are from discontented wives, or frustrated females who make no bones about admitting they are trying to snare a male into a permanent contract of marriage? However, the one thing that I cannot understand is that with all the grievances that the married set conveys . . . spending nights alone, unfaithfulness, overdue bills, overworked and overburdened, young mothers with irresponsible fathers and husbands drunkards, deserters and on and on . . . why, oh, why, do these girls, widows, divorcees and old maids still strive so desperately to marry a man who will make her as miserable??? Please, by the time my daughters are old enough to marry, (about 18 years from now) print some letters and testimonials to the effect that married life, in spite of trials and tribulations is wonderful, when one discovers its secret of give and take.—Contented, Fat, Married Male

Royal Anne cherries are delicious served "as is" or combined with other fruits. The Lambert and Bing cherries make wonderful sauces, cake fillings and toppings, and molded desserts; of course they are also fine served in a fruit cup or salad, as a topping for baked custard or creamy tapioca or rice pudding and in many other ways.

Patience And Caution Brow-Plucking Rule

Some freeze at the thought of tweezers and allow their brows to go their unruly way. Others seem to go wild in their plucking.

It doesn't take any magic or special talent to learn to use tweezers to shape the brows well. Employing caution and patience, you teen-agers can learn to pluck your brows becomingly.

The girl with the free-tweezing tendency must realize that her brows should be lovely to look at—on her. Shaping them in the sophisticated fashion of some celebrity will do nothing to add to the attractiveness of her face.

In general, the natural brow line is the most becoming to every woman. The teen-ager, in particular, should not experiment with exotic modes.

The best plan to follow in tweezing the brows is to remove the hair that grows over the bridge of the nose and the few stragglers that appear low on the lids. No one should ever tweeze the upper sides of the brows.

The girl who is timid about tweezing can be assured that she will not run into trouble if she warks slowly, plucking only in those areas mentioned.

And, if she is afraid of disturbing sensitive skin, she can prepare the area for tweezing by applying hot water. After the plucking session, cold water will help to close the pores, and a bit of petroleum jelly will smooth the brows and soothe the skin.

Store your vacuum cleaner, when you are not using it, in a place that is cool and dry. Never put it near a register or radiator. Give it ample room: if you crowd it into a small space you may damage some part of it.

MOVING INTO THE PROMISED LAND, SOME ISRAELITES HAVE SETTLED PEACEFULLY IN NORTHERN CANAAN. NOT SO WITH THE TRIBE OF DAN TO THE SOUTH. ONE WITH THE STRENGTH OF TEN ... ONE NAMED SAMSON!

THE DAY DAWNS WHEN SAMSON, IN LOVE WITH A PHILISTINE MAID, INFORMS HIS FATHER, MANOAH... "NOW THEREFORE GET HER FOR ME TO WIFE..."

HOW THE ARGUMENTS FLY! IS THERE NO ISRAELITE MAID TO PLEASE SAMSON?.. DISGRACE THE SONS OF DAN, BEGGING FOR A HEATHEN DAMSEL?

BUT SAMSON IS STRONG OF ARM AND OF WILL... HE WILL NOT BE SWAYED.. MANOAH MUST BUY THE BRIDE OF SAMSON'S CHOICE!

I HAVE TO WEAR RUBBER GLOVES EVERY TIME I WRITE A LETTER, THAT PEN YOU SOLD ME LEAKS SO BAD

WHAT A PITY. BUT I AM HAPPY TO SAY I AM OUT OF THE PEN BUSINESS NOW.

I'M NOT INTERESTED IN YOUR PRESENT BUSINESS. WHEN YOU SOLD ME THIS PEN, YOU CLAIMED IT WOULD LAST ME A LIFETIME.

AH, YES, YES, BUT YOU DIDN'T LOOK VERY GOOD THEN.

MY WORD! HOW DID YOU EXPECT THE FELLOW TO RECTIFY HIS MISTAKE RUNNING HIM OUT OF THE HOUSE THAT WAY, MY DEAR?

ALL RIGHT. IF YOU KNOW A BETTER WAY-CALL HIM BACK.

ALONE?

I DON'T THINK MY WIFE UNDERSTANDS THE MECHANICS OF THAT PEN.

SIMPLE, PERFECTLY SIMPLE. FIRST, YOU GIVE IT A VIGOROUS SHAKE-LIKE THAT.. OH-OH! SORRY.

THAT'S RIGHT. THEN GIVE IT A QUICK FLIP.

UGH!

THAT'S RIGHT.

TSK-TSK-TSK

HA! NOW, FRIEND, WE CAN GET DOWN TO BUSINESS.

WELL, PET, WE DON'T NEED TO WORRY ABOUT OUR PEN LEAKING ANY MORE NOW.

YES?

REMEMBER ME, LADY PLUSHBOTTOM?

I COULDN'T FORGET YOU! YOU'RE TH' PUNK THAT PEDDLES THOSE PHONY FOUNTAIN PENS.

I HAVE TO WEAR RUBBER GLOVES EVERY TIME I WRITE A LETTER, THAT PEN YOU SOLD ME LEAKS SO BAD

I'M NOT INTERESTED IN YOUR PRESENT BUSINESS. WHEN YOU SOLD ME THIS PEN, YOU CLAIMED IT WOULD LAST ME A LIFETIME.

AH, YES, YES, BUT YOU DIDN'T LOOK VERY GOOD THEN.

MY WORD! HOW DID YOU EXPECT THE FELLOW TO RECTIFY HIS MISTAKE RUNNING HIM OUT OF THE HOUSE THAT WAY, MY DEAR?

ALONE?

I DON'T THINK MY WIFE UNDERSTANDS THE MECHANICS OF THAT PEN.

SIMPLE, PERFECTLY SIMPLE. FIRST, YOU GIVE IT A VIGOROUS SHAKE-LIKE THAT.. OH-OH! SORRY.

THAT'S RIGHT. THEN GIVE IT A QUICK FLIP.

UGH!

THAT'S RIGHT.

TSK-TSK-TSK

HA! NOW, FRIEND, WE CAN GET DOWN TO BUSINESS.

WELL, PET, WE DON'T NEED TO WORRY ABOUT OUR PEN LEAKING ANY MORE NOW.

YES?

LOOK! BY TAKING SIX BOTTLES, THE MAN MADE ME A VERY SPECIAL PRICE ON A SUPER SPOT REMOVER HE'S SELLING NOW.
